

ICELAND

May 17-22, 2018

Did you know that you can earn college credit while traveling abroad?

You can earn one to four credit hours of Humanities or Science through Murray State College's Global Education Studies course offered in the beautiful and fascinating country of Iceland.

You will travel to Iceland with your first stop being Reykjavik, Iceland's capital city. Here you will discover how this city harnesses geothermal waste to stretch natural resources even further and reduce its environmental impact.

From valleys to geysers and bubbling hot springs, Iceland is a land of geological phenomena. Discover how the country harnesses geothermal waste to stretch natural resources even further—and reduce its environmental impact, too. Things heat up at Geysir geothermal area, cool down in Thorsmork Glacier Valley, and turn simply breathtaking at Gullfoss waterfall. Looking for history? Soak up Iceland's rugged past during a stroll through the National Museum, and glimpse present day politics at the official residence of Iceland's president.
