

MAX SHARP receives a check for $15 from Dwayne Miles for taking first place in the auto derby. Sharp and his navigators, David Bush and Jerry Kibby, led a field of sixteen entries in the contest.

Sharp takes first in auto derby

An Auto Derby, sponsored by the Engineering Club was held December 15, and there were three winners. Winner of the third prize, $5.00, was Don Blevens, Kingston. His navigator was Rex Hefner, Tishomingo. $10.00 was awarded to second place winner David Jones, Roswell. His navigator was Jimmy Altom, Ada. First place winner Max Sharp, Konawa, was awarded $15.00. His two navigators were David Bush, Weleetka and Jerry Kibby, Wetumka.

There were sixteen entries and fourteen to finish. Four followed wrong directions and arrived at Milburn.

Those who participated in this auto derby as workers were the following: Dwayne Miles, Richard Rose, Robert Moore, Joe Green, Ken Dolezalek, Tom Freeman, Bob Miles and Pat Maloy.

Norby Williamson was of special assistance, as was Mr. Brisco who helped set up the course.

Engineering Club members wish to extend a special thanks to all who entered and to those who helped make this success.

A H Students attend auction

Dr. Jerry Martin and his Animal Husbandry 113 class of forty students went Monday, January 4, to the McAlester Livestock Market to observe activity on the livestock market.

Most of the lightweight stock and feeder calves, a few choice stock and feeder calves topped the market at twenty-two cents a pound; bulls were at sixteen cents a pound. Utility cows sold 11.5 cents a pound. Cows with calves were $120 to $140. Most of the cattle shown at the market were calves.

Crocodiles Aren't Safe

A tremendous feminine desire for crocodile-leather shoes, handbags and luggage is spurring crocodile hunting in Africa. A hunter may get $50 to $70 for a high-quality belly-skin. A portion of this skin, tanned and made into a smart handbag, may bring nearly $300 in a retail store.

Tribesman staff has yearbook half complete

Tribesman staff members met Tuesday, January 5, to proof-read the first shipment of printed yearbook copy sent back from the printers. Half of the yearbook has now been completed.

Wednesday, the staff met again with Mr. Fletcher to decide the contents and order of all succeeding pages.

Layouts and pictures for the next section of the yearbook will be planned and shipped before the February deadline.

At the Wednesday meeting, further plans for arrangement of the "class favorites" section were discussed, as well as the actual election by the student body Friday, January 8.

Friday afternoon was spent counting ballots and discussing further phases of the entire yearbook which will be completed before March 1, for shipment to the printing company.

Students "Cram" for final exams

This week will witness what students refer to as "cram week." Semester exams will be given January 13, 14, and 15. Schedules of the examination are posted. All dormitories will be absolutely quiet during this week. January 10-14, all female residents must be their dorms by 8:30 p.m. Also, the Student Union will close at 8:30 p.m. to enable the students to "cram" for exams.

Second semester classes begin January 20

Enrollment for the second semester at Murray College will be held on January 19, and the procedure is as follows: Pre-enrolled students who have paid their fees will begin attending classes on January 20. Students who have pre-enrolled but have not paid their fees will go to the Registrars office, and pay fees in the business office if no schedule changes are necessary. Students who have not pre-enrolled will report to the library for advisement.

New Mathematics offered by Murray

A course of special interest to parents of grade and high school students will be offered by Murray College.

The subject to be covered is Modern Mathematics. The course is being offered in response to the needs of parents and teachers for instruction in the modern approach to Mathematics.

Mr. Gerald Alloway, head of the Mathematics Department, will teach the course. Instruction will be based upon the needs and background of the students. Three hours college credit will be granted for the course which will meet one evening each week during the Spring Semester.

Registration for this course will be Tuesday, January 19, at 7:30 in the College Library. At that time other courses also will be organized.

Aggielite sponsors first dance of coming semester

The Aggielite will sponsor a dance January 21, 1965, for all new students as well as for the old students returning for the second semester.

The dress will be semi-formal for boys and after five dresses for the girls. A professional band will treat the students to an evening of delightful music.

It should prove to be a very exciting evening. We encourage everyone to join in the fun.

Winston Writes Good

Winston Churchill's writing output has been enormous. His six-volume history of World War II contains well over a million and a half words. He dictated it at the rate of 8,000 or 9,000 words a day. Translated into 18 languages, the work won for Churchill a Nobel Prize for Literature.

BSU extends welcome to all

December 8 marked the opening of the new Baptist Student Center.

The B.S.U. until the 8th had been using the basement of Poe Hall for meetings, waiting until the time when they could move into their new building and have more activities for the Baptist students attending Murray.

Since the building's opening, there have been many things going on for students to take part in and there will be more to come.

The B.S.U. is open for student use from 7 A.M. to 10 P.M. six days a week. We encourage you to take advantage of this fine place and what it has to offer. Every Tuesday and Thursday night at 6:45 there will be vesper services held in the main room of the building, and we would like to have you come and join in this time of Christian fellowship.

Murray to host Southeastern 4-H "Share the Fun"

Mr. Jack Ryan, Johnston County County Agent, announced that the Southeastern Oklahoma "Share the Fun Contest" will be Saturday, February 20, in the Murray College Auditorium beginning at 8:00 a.m. Approximately 300 students representing 15 counties of Southeastern Oklahoma are expected to attend.

Each county represented is allowed 2 group acts, and one individual act. No more than nine will be in a separate group. The acts will consist mostly of musical and comedy.

NEW YEAR MARKS MEASUREMENT OF TIME

Now that the New Year of 1965 has arrived and everything is once again "abnormal", it seems as good a time as any to take a critical glance at the entire subject.

What actually is New Year's? It is a period between 11:59 p.m. and 12:01 A.M. For some it is a time of laughter and joy, while for others it is a time of sadness. It is a time of making resolutions, many of which are made only to be broken.

In reality it is only one way in which man measures time. Each event in our lives; alternation of days and seasons, the flowing of life's blood in the arteries, and the ebb and flow of tides presents an opportunity to probe into the various peculiarities and secrets of time.

Numerous devices, some commonplace and some actually ridiculous, have been made simply to study the meaning of time.

In Buddhist mythology, a legend relates to us, that a lamb which grazes on a mountain of iron once every one hundred years wears the mountain down, by which time a cosmic year will have elapsed.

Other remarkable forms of measurements are known to archaeologists and historians, by which man can measure time. One of these devices are common clocks. There are clocks in the sky, the earth, sun, moon and stars. Their movements, although complicated are dependable.

New Year's just marks the passage of the precious time in which God gives us to live. Each of us should endeavor to use this time wisely. However, almost everyone takes January the First for granted, and if anyone should ask; why the answer probably would be, "Because it's always been that way."

TO BE EVENTFUL — OR WASTED?

Perhaps I should say; "Welcome, new students; we look forward to a semester of classwork, achievement and friendship with you." No one would deny the truth of this statement. But it would be fantasy to anticipate the coming semester in these radiant terms and leave unsaid words of the many trying moments which invariably accompany any such worthwhile effort.

Frequently—perhaps more often than not—the value of your endeavor will seem doubtful. Unexpected difficulty in studies, the transition demanded by college life and more trifling troubles will often awaken discouraging thoughts of a rare sort. But to weaken and allow circumstances to overwhelm your earlier fine intentions would be more than regrettable. Relentless aggression against this foolish despair is a constant necessity. The next four and one-half months can be among the most memorable and eventful periods of your lives if spent in hard work and tenacious courage; otherwise they can easily be wasted.

Angel of the month—

Julie Parkhill of Mannsville and Master Sergeant Ramona (Hertel) Hoskins of Fillmore were selected to receive the Angel of the Month Award for the month of December. Both young ladies will be leaving Murray College at the end of the fall semester.

Eight sophomores and thirteen freshmen received semester stars and bars which were presented by Commander Janie Hudson at the January 7 meeting. Lieutenant Colonel Jerry Winchester was in charge of the monthly inspection.

At this time five vacancies for membership are available to female students. Anyone who is interested can make an application with Sergeant Jones in the R.O.T.C. headquarters.

Campus Capers

By Jacquita Perry

A hearty welcome is extended to all new coming Murray students; and a very fond farewell to those leaving. Come back and see us anytime.

Most talented, — wittiest — What does congenial mean? . . . Such remarks could be heard Friday in the front of the Student Union as students voted for their friends (?) in the various categories picked for yearbook recognition.

That time of the year has arrived once more. Semester finals will be given Wednesday through Friday. Female dorm residents will have an 8:30 p.m. curfew to encourage study. Oh, well, girls, that gives us an hour and a half to get ready to study.

Murray students attending the school-sponsored activities would be asked, "Alors, je vais demander ses cartes d'identité!"—That is, if we were French.

The library is enjoying a booming business at present. I wonder how long it will last.

Intramurals begin volleyball play

Intramural volleyball will begin Monday, January 11, in the College gym. The volleyball play was scheduled to begin the 4th of January but due to the Invitational Boys' Basketball Tournament in the gym it had to be postponed.

One game has already been played, however, with the Bootleggers taking their first victory over the Preston Parkers. The Preston Parkers won the first match but the Bootleggers came back to take the next two to give them their victory.

Aggie coed weds OSU student

Miss Ramona Hertel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hertel of Fillmore, Okla., became the bride of Johnny Hoskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durr Hoskins of Midwest City. Vows were exchanged in a double ring ceremony December 27, at four p.m. in the First Nazarene Church of Fillmore, with Rev. Jack Smith of Abilene, Texas officiating.

Vows were made before a white archway trimmed with holly and berries flanked by baskets of white carnations. The kneeling bench was white and red cushions.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white brocade with a lace over jacket. Her white illusion, elbow length veil was attached to a rhinestone tiara.

Mrs. Jack Smith was pianist while Darrel Archer of Shawnee, Okla. sang, "Love is a Many Splendored Thing", "Every Step of the Way," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's attendants were Miss Virginia Nail of Tishomingo, Okla., and Mrs. Somone Boyd, sister of the bride, from Baton Rouge, La. They wore white lace shifts topped with red chiffon over skirts. Their hats were matching topped with a red velvet bow.

Best man was Mr. John Snavely of Midwest City. Groomsman were Mr. John Paul Hertel, brother of the bride.

Mr. Don Hamilton brother-in-law of the bride of Ft. Worth, Texas, and Mr. Dale Callen of Apache, Okla. served as ushers. Jo Nell Hamilton also of Ft. Worth served as flower girl.

Mrs. Johnny Hoskins

The reception was held in the home of the bride with Mrs. Sonya Hamilton and Mrs. La Nell Yeats serving as hostess.

The couple departed for a short honeymoon before returning to school. Miss Hertel attends Murray State College where she is majoring in Medical Technology. Mr. Hoskins is a major in Veterinary Medicine at Oklahoma State University. At mid-term the couple will make their home in Stillwater where they will finish their education.

SPORTS TID BITS

John Cronley of the "Daily Oklahoman" states that Tulsa quarterback Jerry Rhome is the finest quarterback in college football. I couldn't be more in agreement with Mr. Cronley. Rhome ran and passed the underdog Tulsa team to a 14-7 Bluebonnet Bowl victory over the proud Rebels of Mississippi University December 19. The Tulsa University passing wizard, who is noted for doing the unexpected, bewildered the Rebs by passing from his own 6 and 12 yard lines in the second quarter. Rhome also distinguished himself in a battle with Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte of Notre Dame Christmas day in the Senior Bowl.

Ageless Leroy "Satchel" Paige was named as the all-time outstanding player in the National Baseball Congress.

Oklahoma's Mickey Mantle says that he would like to play at least three more years and perhaps five. For the first time in several years he hasn't had to have either of his legs operated on. Mantle is now 33 years old.

Coach Gene Robbins was wondering how he could get Doug Nowell to shoot the ball more often. Slespy Simon conjectured that the simplest would be to just pass the ball to Doug more often. Nowell leads the Aggies in scoring with a 16-point average through the first seven games. Ardell England follows closely, averaging 15-points per game, and Louis Lillie has a 13.7-point average.

Aggies taste first defeat in split at San Angelo

Murray coach Gene Robbins put forth a determined five Saturday night, December 19, at San Angelo as the Aggies downed San Angelo College, 78-66.

Murray had four players scoring in the double-figure column. The Aggies broke into an early lead only to have the Rams catch up 25-25 with 6 minutes 30 seconds left in the first half. Louis Lillie and Doug Nowell then went to work and pulled Murray ahead 37-27 at halftime.

Early in the second half the Aggies opened up a 14-point lead on the shooting of Nowell, Lillie, England and Grant. But the Rams closed the gap and the score was 60-56 with 6 minutes left. San Angelo then went into a full-court press, and Murray countered with their fast break and steadily pulled away for a 78-66 victory.

Cutshot from the field, the San Angelo College Rams went to the charity stripe with frequency and accuracy as the Murray Aggies tasted defeat for the first time this season, 78-71, December 18, at San Angelo, Texas.

The Aggies were never in the lead during the first half after being overtaken 8-6 with just over fifteen minutes remaining. The score was later knotted at 14-14 and 15 all, but the Murray club never regained the lead after the first four minutes.

Down 40 to 32, Murray came out red-hot for the second half. Doug Nowell hit six straight points to put the Aggies ahead, 46-45. They moved to a 51-46 lead, but the Rams vaulted to a tie before Nowell hit another bucket.

Later in the game San Angelo held a 73-66 lead before Murray cut it to 73-71 on the shooting of Louis Lillie and Nowell.

Nowell scored 24-points for the Aggies, with 18 of them coming in the second half.

In one version, Cinderella goes to the ball in a canoe.

Last-half surge sends Aggies by City college

Murray Aggies, led by little Alvie Roy Nelson's 21-points, downed a fine Southwest Junior College team 92-65, in a contest played at Oklahoma City January 5.

Southwest started fast and furious, and led the Aggies 7-2, with less than two minutes gone in the first-half. Coach Gene Robbins then called time out to regroup his forces and change his offensive strategy. Murray came bounding back, and at one stretch, outscored Southwest 15 to 1. With 9:43 remaining to be played in the first half, the Aggies went ahead 21-20, and led the remainder of the game.

Southwest brought a 7-won, 3-loss record into the game, and played within 6-points of Murray in the first-half when the score ended Murray 39, Southwest 33.

Murray showed great strength in the second-half by outscoring Southwest 53-22, on the shooting of Boone Jordan, Wayne Williamson, and Stick Grant. Boone, playing his best game of the young season, dumped in 17-points while Wayne and Stick gathered 13 and 12 respectively.

Basketballers take fine record into conference play

Murray Aggie roundball team will play their first conference game of the season when they go up against OMA at Claremore January 15.

OMA, last year's conference winners, will face a team rejuvenated by a group of ace freshmen who like to win.

OMA's record stands at 3-wins, and 5-losses. Murray owns a proud 7-won, 1-loss record.

Ada, Wapanucka, Caddo, Tushka capture crowns

The Murray State High-School Boys Basketball Tourney furnished plenty of excitement this past week. Three undefeated teams entered the tournament, but none survived the finals.

Vamoosa, the class "B" favorite, downed previously undefeated Kingston 87-43, in a semifinals game for just one of the many highlights. A scrappy Wapanucka team dumped Vamoosa in the finals in an overtime game 53-56.

The well-coached Ada Cougars came out all victorious when they defeated the tuff Sulphur Bulldogs 61-58, in the class "A" championship game.

Many spectators commented that this was the best and most exciting tournament held here in many years.

PLAYER SPOTLIGHT

Ardell England

Ardell England is a freshman from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Ardel—who is 6'7" and still gaining on the yardstick—started his last two years in high-school, and averaged 12-points per game for Coach Basil McCollum at Central High. Ardel is one of the promising freshmen whom Coach Robbins is depending on to make his Aggie team click this year. He is now averaging 14-points per game and is second highest scorer on the team. Ardel is majoring in Physical Education.

Alvie Nelson

Alvie Nelson, Murray's little 5'10" guard, is from Grant, Oklahoma. Alvie made the All-State team his senior year in high-school by averaging 26-points per game, and by being outstanding on defense. Alvie played in every game for the Aggies last year, averaging over 7-points per game. He is now a sophomore, and Coach Robbins depends heavily on him both as a shooter and as a playmaker for the team. Alvie is currently shooting at a 7.4-points per game clip for fourth high on the Aggie team. He is a Physical Education major and will probably continue his basketball playing at Southeastern or East Central beginning next year.

Hereford bull makes long trip for beef industry

Aggie students here at Murray are certainly aware of problems concerning the beef industry—however, too many people today are not. In fact, some Americans know very little indeed about the Bovine species.

Mr. Carl Swanson, from Greeley, Nebraska, and a friend, Bud Pogue, began a slow journey from Minnesota at International Falls on Rainey River, the line between Canada and the United States, on April 23, 1964, to help bring to the attention of the American beef consumer that he is being "taken".

This trip is unusually interesting because Randy, a top quality hereford bull, is the mode of transportation. The two-thousand-mile trip from International Falls to Galveston, Texas proceeds at approximately five miles per day depending upon weather conditions. Mr. Swanson, sometimes riding the bull and sometimes leading him, has now made his way through the states of Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas, and is now in the Southeastern part of Oklahoma. Swanson, along with Pogue, his companion, Blondie, a fuzzy little dog, and of course, his bull, Randy, has met many people during the trip who are definitely not, as he terms it, "beef conscious".

Two adults, Swanson states, have asked him how much meat Randy eats per day. One interested bystander exclaimed, of the bull, "Hey man, that's cool! What is it?"

It is Swanson's belief that production of a poor grade of American beef cattle is the cause of the low prices received. He feels that the attention should be turned to improvement of American beef and that importation should be halted.

Farmers, interested in Swanson's project, have provided hay for the bull throughout the trip.

Swanson, bypassing all cities, expects to have his four year old, 1940 pound bull across Oklahoma and into Galveston, Texas in approximately three more months. He is not tired of the trip and says that he feels he is accomplishing a worthy feat by helping, through this publicity, make the beef problem known across the United States. He states that the solving of the import problem is a people's project and can be satisfactorily worked out by the American people if they will become interested and co-operate.

Carbon monoxide is a winter killer of many Oklahomans

Carbon monoxide—an odorless, colorless gas—claims the lives of many Oklahomans during the winter months.

In 1962, the last year for which figures are complete, there were 44 reported carbon monoxide deaths in the state, two of them suicides. And each winter the Oklahoma Poison Information Center answers 50 to 60 calls in regard to this kind of poisoning.

How can you eliminate the danger?

Housewives, truck drivers and garage workers are the most frequent victims since the gas is found in the combustion products of fires, stoves and the exhaust gases of internal combustion motors.

"Lovers' Lane" accidents are frequently reported, caused from breathing engine fumes over a prolonged period in a closed automobile.

Carbon monoxide poisoning actually causes the body to suffer "oxygen starvation". The carbon monoxide combines with the blood's hemoglobin and prevents the release of oxygen, even though the lungs may be taking in oxygen quite normally.

Shortness of breath is the first symptom of carbon monoxide poisoning, and depending upon the degree of saturation, the symptoms will progress to headaches, loss of judgement, disorientation, fatigue, unconsciousness, and then possibly death.

If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning, the Oklahoma State Medical Association advises immediate removal of the victim to a fresh air location. He should be kept in a warm atmosphere, with his head lower than the rest of the body, and in severe cases it may be necessary to apply artificial respiration or seek medical help in the administration of oxygen.

Running the engine of an automobile inside a closed building is also a recognized hazard, but there are other precautions that may save your life or your family:

—Home heating systems should be checked for proper plane adjustment, rusted vents and obstructions in chimneys and vents. (Carbon monoxide is formed by the incomplete combustion or burning of organic matter.)

—The automobile exhaust system should be checked to make sure it is functioning properly.

Balladiers bid Au revoir at school assembly

January 6 the Folksinging group known as the "Balladiers" presented their final program for the student body. A member of the group, Gerardo Jimenez, will be transferring to another college at the close of this semester.

"This Land is Your Land" opened the program followed by "Great Historical Bum". A selection from Peter, Paul, and Mary's folksongs, "Trials and Sorrows" was presented by the group. Next, they sang "Sailing Down to Ohio". The group then sang, "Today" a song from the soundtrack, "Advance to the Rear". Kerry sang a solo, "The Last Leaf". Jerry lead in the song, "Four Strong Winds". To end the program they sang, "On My Journey". And then as an encore they performed, "Oh, What a Beautiful City".

On January 16 and 17, the Balladiers will appear to a charity drive in Wichita Falls, Texas on a local television station there. They will perform during the summer at Six Flags Over Texas.

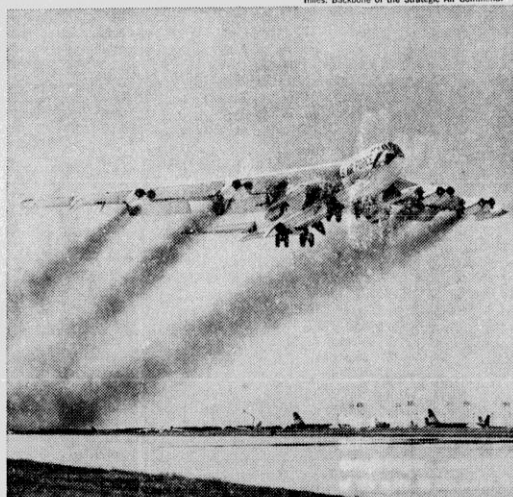

Haskell Lucas boys aided yule spirit

Haskell Lucas helped in "Lighting" up the Christmas season at Murray.

The boys living in Haskell Lucas were spurred on in their decoration for Christmas by the announcement that there would be a $20 prize given to the best decorated dorm. Thanks to Harold Lumpkin and his wide assortment of lights and selection of decorations, Haskell Lucas was a busy place. They planted Christmas trees ranging from 2 to over 20 feet in height and strung some 2,000 lights.

Harold and several other boys worked hard, but it was all part of their way of saying, "Seasons Greetings from Haskell Lucas."

For example, just a short while ago a 23-year-old Air Force lieutenant made a startling breakthrough in metallurgy. And a recent All-America tackle is doing advanced research in nuclear weapons.

If you have talent, you'll have a chance to show it in the Air Force. Your work can put you and your country ahead.

You can earn your commission at Air Force Officer Training School, a three-month course open to both men and women. To apply, you must be within 210 days of your degree.

College Art Show begins today in Murray Library

Miss Minnie Baker, Head of the Southeastern State College Art Department and Mr. Max McClendon, Instructor of Art at Southeastern, will present student art exhibits from their department in the Murray College Library. Some of the are work has been done by former Murray students.

Over fifty paintings done in oil and water color media will be on display today through Thursday.

Also contributing to the display will be Louise Stamps and Mrs. Jack Parrish, members of the Tishomingo Art Club. The show will be under the direction of Mr. Jack Reid, head of Murray's Music Department.

Mr. Richard Taflinger, head of the art department at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, will present another art show at the Murray College Library in February. Painting will be contributed by Southwestern students. Some of Mr. Taflinger's own work will be included in the exhibit.

Jacobs new prexy at Patton Hall

At a recent meeting held at Patton Hall, Rachel Jacob of Kiowa, was elected by a unanimous vote as president, and she will also serve as the dorm's Student Senate representative. The rules and regulations of the dorm were also reviewed.

Aggie supporters remain arduous despite problems

Murray campus was in a turmoil Thursday, January 21, as students loaded into the "Old Blue Goose". All this activity was the beginning of one of the largest displays of school spirit at Murray in many years. Everyone was in a hurry to arrive at Wilburton in time for the basketball game between the Murray Aggies and the Eastern Mountaineers.

Students who saw the game felt that Murray played one of their best games of the season. The common sentiment was that all enjoyed the game despite losing to Eastern by 8-points. Pride for the Murray basketball players was very high.

You would think that after driving 200 miles, losing a ballgame, getting in after twelve o'clock, having to pay a fine, and having a flat tire school spirit would be considerably dampened, but all this didn't stop the Murray students from attending a pep assembly at 8:50 the next morning.

The basketball players were presented to the student body who responded with a warm show of pride for each player.

The response of the Murray fans at the Cameron game Saturday night, January 23, was a good indication that this support will continue throughout the season.

Balladiers invited to represent state at the World's Fair

The Balladiers have received a letter inviting them to represent Oklahoma at the New York World's Fair this summer. Letters were sent to the entertaining groups at the various state colleges. Top music directors from the state will judge the competition. The Balladiers' plans are indefinite as to whether or not they will audition for the honored position.

Cadets bid farewell to Murray Corps

Colonel Wells gave his farewell address at the last drill of the fall semester, on January 11. At the end of the fall semester each year, many Sophomore cadets leave Murray to continue their educations at some other college. The Cadet staff officers leaving this year will be Cadet Colonel Wells, Executive officer Jerry Winchester; both these boys are going to attend Oklahoma State University next semester. Next, is Operations Officer Ronald Mills, Personnel Officer Jerry Jimenez Group Inspector Steve White is also leaving.

Also, the Squadron Commander whose squadron was chosen by the staff as the best for the semester is leaving. He is Van Wilhelm. Van will attend Colorado State University.

Angel Flight remains open to all interested

Membership in The Angel Flight, a drill team for coeds, is still available to those who are interested. For further information speak to Cadet Colonel Janie Hudson, or ask for information in the R.O.T.C. office located in the basement of the Administration Building.

Baptists have dedication for center on Sunday

Dedication ceremony for the recently completed Baptist Student Union Building on Murray Avenue was held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Miss Floy Sliger, president of the Murray College Baptist Student Union chapter, presided.

The $14,000 building was constructed for student use by the Johnston-Marshall Baptist Association with assistance from the state association.

Principal speakers at the dedication were Dr. E. W. Westmoreland, secretary of the department of religious education of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma and Clyde Clayton, state director of student education for the convention.

Others on the program included former Gov. Raymond Gary of Madill, Rev. John Fleming, former Tishomingo pastor now serving at Holdenville; and Fields Hathorn, former Murray College student from Ravia living at Hominy.

Trustees of the local B.S.U. are Reid Hutchens, Jr., and Don Martin, both of Tishomingo; Raymond Gary, Y. Spence and Jess Forsythe, all of Madill.

Aggie staff will host mixer dance

You are cordially invited to attend the "get acquainted" dance sponsored by the Aggieelite staff for incoming students. Beginning at 8:00 p.m. in the Student Center tonight, admittance of students to the dance will be given by a show of I.D. cards purchased from the college business office.

The Blue Rondos, a dance band from Southeastern State College in Durant, will provide music and entertainment throughout the evening.

Students will be required to dress semi-formally—girls, wearing after-five dresses and boys, wearing suits.

NEW OFFICERS for the "O" Club: Kelly Reeves, Reporter; Roger Aucoin, President; Marvin Esmond, Student Senate Representative; Bernie Mathias, Secretary-Treasurer; and Don Day, Vice-President.

Murray judging team makes trip to Stillwater

The Murray College Livestock Judging team made a trip, Friday, January 22, to Oklahoma State University. Members of the team are: Don Gardner, Lone Grove; Allen Creager, Pawnee; Robert Britton, Lindsay; Colin Howell, Shawnee; and Fred Baxter, Wynnewood.

The team, accompanied by Dr. Jerry Martin, head of the Agriculture Department, is preparing for judging in the JUCO Judging Contest at the Fort Worth Livestock Show and Exposition to be held February 1. They will participate in judging sheep, cattle, and hogs.

The show management has agreed to give complimentary rodeo tickets to the judging teams and their coaches to the Fort Worth Rodeo.

Three 4-H events to be at college

Two 4-H educational events are scheduled Friday, January 22, at Murray College and another is set for Saturday, January 30, County Agent Jack Ryan announces.

A dairy judging school was conducted by Clifford H. Burton, Extension Dairy Specialist, at 10 a.m. Friday in the college auditorium. A meats identification and quality judging event met at the same time in the Home Ec department of the new classroom building.

On Saturday, January 30, an area 4-H Livestock Training School is to be held at the college to give instructions and demonstrations of fitting, grooming, showing, judging and giving reasons for grading of beef cattle, swine and sheep.

"O" Club reorganizes for new semester

Murray's "O" Club held its first and second meeting of the new year on Thursday, January 14, and the following Wednesday, January 19. Election of new officers for the year of 1965 was the purpose of the first meeting. New officer's will run from the beginning of the 1965 spring semester to the end of the following fall semester.

New officers are as follows: President, Roger Aucoin, a two-year letterman at tackle, from Glen Oaks High School in Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Vice-president, Donald Day, a three-year letterman at guard, from Sulphur High School in Sulphur, Oklahoma; Student Senate Representative, Marvin Esmond, a three-year letterman at quarterback, from Tulsa Central High School in Tulsa, Oklahoma; Secretary-treasurer, Bernie Mathias, a two-year letterman at guard, from Jesuit High School in Shreveport, Louisiana; and Reporter, Kelly Reeves, a two-year letterman at tackle, from Graham High School in Graham, Texas.

Future plans, decided at the second "O" Club meeting, include: a pledge to actively support any and all Murray sports activities, money-making projects for the club, and the purchase of windbreakers for all members. The windbreakers will be paid for by money made from concession at the Johnston County basketball tournament.

The "O" Club now includes twenty-eight members and three honorary members, the largest membership in Murray history.

At present, membership consists only of those lettering in football; however, it is hoped that in the near future, all the various sport's lettermen will join the "O" Club.

ENROLLMENT procedure was the chief concern of these prospective students as they were caught in the midst of enrolling for second semester classwork of the 1964-1965 school year which began at Murray January 26.

Something to do when there's just nothing to do

How many times have you heard this age-old lament, "There is just simply nothing going on, nothing to do around here?"

True, studying is our main purpose for attending college in the first place; but all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. All of us will agree that scholastic endeavors can, at times, be rather boring. Then, we must use our imaginations. Anyone can shoot a game of pool, play the pinball machines or just simply "goof off"; but how many students here at Murray are mature enough to really appreciate this surrounding countryside, known as "Sportsman's Paradise?"

All of us enjoy sport of one type or another. Football, basketball, intramurals, hunting and fishing—all are well-known sports to most Murrayites. The one sport though, that is least expensive and can be participated in by all students regardless of physical structure, is merely enjoying oneself in his immediate surroundings. Now, you may ask, "how can this be classified as sport?" The answer is simple—Anyone who can enjoy physical activities, even if they consist merely of walking around, enjoying nature, can correctly be called a sportsman.

Nearby Pennington Creek, boasting two picturesque dams and miles of natural pathways, untouched by machinery and the quickening pace of civilization, affords an afternoon of quiet relaxation for students who dare to venture forth.

Study, too, takes on an altogether different aspect when the rushing of water over the dam, crashing onto the rocks below, can be heard in the background.

This type of recreation can be enjoyed the year round—in fact, changing seasons create a variety of color comparable only to the spectacular colors of the rainbow. This annual change from the greens of Summer to the gold and brown of the Autumn months, can be appreciated only by those who are mature enough to separate true living from mechanical existence.

Would you believe that all of this enjoyment can be found within a three-mile radius of our campus?

How, then, can anyone say, "There is nothing to do?" Stop and think about it, and then do something about it.

The Aggelite, along with the student body, extends their thanks to Mr. Rex Hefner and the cafeteria employees for the sack lunches provided for the caravan to Eastern Thursday night.

Murrayites are to be commended on the outstanding display of school spirit at the Eastern basketball game. This goes for players and spectators alike.

1872 rules rather far-fetched for today's teachers

Fortunately, the rules adopted by a New York city principal in 1872 are not still being followed.

The duties of the teachers were: "to fill lamps, to clean chimneys, and to trim wicks; to bring one scuttle of coal to each day's session." They were also required to spend time every day reading the Bible or other good books plus saving part of their earnings "for use during declining years."

Men teachers were allowed one evening each week "for courting purposes", or two evenings if they attended church regularly. Women teachers who married or engaged in "unseemly conduct" were to be dismissed.

Also, the list stated: "Any teacher who smoked, frequented pool halls or gets shaved in the barber-shops will give good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity, and honesty."

However, it added: "If a teacher performs his duties faithfully and without fault for five years will be rewarded with a raise of 25c per week if the board of education approves."

These rules were discovered by a doctoral candidate at Pennsylvania State University.

AN EXPERIENCE WITH A MESSAGE

"Warning" is a word of unpleasant connotations. Upon hearing anything which might be interpreted as such, we immediately assume that it is only a preliminary to a bit of unpleasantness that can only end in our being forced into something we have no desire for. For this reason I will not offer you a preachy jephremiad on the subject of grades, but instead, will give you an experience that may convey the same message with much more clarity.

He was a friend of mine, and as we walked toward the business office together I could see easily his nervousness. "I have to have the loan," he said quietly, "to stay in school." During a short wait in line, his nervousness increased noticeably. Then he stepped toward the window and a moment later he was being told that his loan would not be available due to the fact that he had not maintained a 2.0 grade point during the previous semester. I did not have to see his face to understand the disappointment he felt when he uttered the slow "Well" which meant only that he knew nothing else to say.

The friend I have spoken of was not a careless, carefree boy who disregarded his studies and spent all his time thoughtlessly. On the contrary, he and I have studied together more than once. But, also, more than once I have heard him remark that he should but wouldn't study that night. And, as so often happens, seemingly unimportant acts were the deciding factors.

Perhaps he will, as he claims, return to college. But he was my friend and I am afraid I will not see him again; or, even worse, I am afraid that his college education is ended.

"SHOW ME AN HONEST MAN . . ."

Everytime I pass that small sign on the bulletin board, I realize that it bears tremendous significance for college students. Until now, I have by-passed the urge to pen this message, just as some persons will choose to ignore it. Because honesty entails debatable connotations and happens to be a touchy subject, it is perhaps distasteful of me to indulge myself in such a one-sided discussion of the matter. Nevertheless, I shall remain blithely indiscreet while taking advantage of this opportunity.

Somehow, I cannot be objective when I speak of honesty. I am prone to rationalize my own small deeds just as anyone else is. However, honesty has no "happy medium"—no tarnished white, no dull grey. Either you are honest, or you are not.

College offers a priceless maturing experience to those who attend for the sake of learning. As for those people who scheme deviously for status and high grade-points by the use of such an infamous method as cheating, they have their reward. All colleges seem to have leeches who form their own counterfeit utopia on campus.

Here's how you can make a mark for yourself (if you so choose) in the Hall of Gutless Wonders.

- (1) Sneak copies of examinations from the instructor for whom you work.
- (2) Sell your information. (b) Keep the test and ace it all by your lonesome.
- (3) Copy assignments from your "Ole Pal Down the Hall"; he appreciates that.
- (4) Carry a cheat sheet to class.
- (5) Tatoo the information on strategic portions of your body.
- (6) Be really daring (you gay dog) and use an opened textbook.
- (7) Last but not least, verify your answer with the ones seated on either side or directly in front of you.

This obsession with cheating may help your grade average—but what have you proven to yourself? Oh sure, you deceived all those poor slobos out there; but you didn't fool yourself.

What about the future? Beyond your present pursuit of a college education lies a highway which you yourself will pave for posterity. Will your children uphold truth and liberty; or will they be mortally burdened and conquered with their parent's thwarted sense of values?

People who have the courage of their convictions are, at times, lonely and very often the objects of harsh criticism and ostracism by their peers. They aren't always in the Top Ten on anyone's popularity poll. But I believe that a being, much bigger than life itself, is carving the names of honest men into his eternal diary of human deeds. Will you make His Top Ten?

Nowell leads Aggies to win over Connors

The Murray Aggies downed the Connors Aggies 61 to 53 in a conference game played at Tishomingo January 18.

Doug Nowell poured in 20 points to lead Murray in scoring, while Ardeell England hit 16 for runner-up honors.

Murray began slow, and found themselves on the short end of a 9-4 score with only two minutes elapsed in the game. England hit 4 points on a layup and a dunk, while Nowell was hitting 6 points from outside to put Murray ahead to stay.

Murray hit a lowly 38 percent of their shots from the floor, and Connors hit no better than 20 percent. Doug Nowell led the Murray club with 20; England had 16 points.

The widest margin of the entire game was held by Murray when they increased their lead to 48 to 34, with nine minutes remaining in the game.

Sports Tid Bits

The OCU Chiefs have been on a whirlwind trip to Hawaii. Coach Abe Lemons crew had to whale of a time on the trip setting a scoring record when they beat an army team 133 to 102 and won over Hawaii University twice. Must be rough having to play a schedule like that.

The psychological effect that Wilt Chamberlain has on his team-mates must be terrific. In the first two games Wilt played as a 76ers, he only scored 43-points, grabbed 61-rebounds, and blocked 20-odd shots. This is a far cry from his 39-points per game average, but they won both games.

Chamberlain's old team, San Francisco, on the other hand, had lost 11 straight games with him on the team. After Wilt left, the San Francisco club won their first two games. Question . . . Does Chamberlain help or hinder?

Julian Javier, fiery second sacker for the World Champion Cardinals, is having contract troubles. The front office wants him to take a $2,000 cut in pay. Javier says that he will stay in the Dominican Republic if the Cards can't beat that offer.

The Murray Aggies have been on a rough road schedule the past 10-days. Approximately 130 students followed their team to Eastern A&M. The Aggies lost the game, but the supporters seem to be very proud of the team, and the team proud of the supporters.

Practically everyone that saw the game, between Murray and Cameron here Saturday night felt that the Cameron team was by far the best team the Aggies have faced all year, but Murray rose to the occasion to take the lead and win the game 63-59.

Intramurals for spring semester being planned

Intramurals for the spring semester are now being organized. Those interested should submit their teams to Mr. Tom S. Wood or leave them in his office, Room 303, in the Administration Building. Intramurals give the students who are otherwise not participating in intercollegiate athletics the opportunity to obtain some much-needed exercise.

Sports which have been scheduled are volleyball, basketball, track, tennis, and badminton.

Aggies trip Cameron in closing seconds 63-59

The Murray Aggies downed a strong and hot shooting Cameron team here January 23, by the score of 63 to 59.

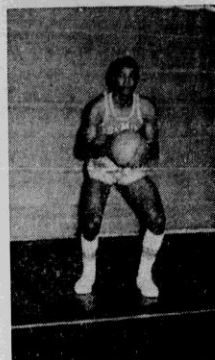

The Cameron Aggies, one of the strongest junior college teams in the state, led in scoring until the last six minutes of play.

Murray was on the short end of a 37 to 31 score at half-time, and tied the game at 43 all on a 20-foot jump shot by Alvie Nelson with 9-minutes remaining to be played.

Ardell England was again the big man in the Murray lineup. Ardeell helped the Aggie cause by dumping in 22-points and gathering 12 rebounds. Louise Lillie was runner-up in scoring with 17-points.

Cameron had three players scoring in double figures, but ran cold in the second half while Murray was getting hot.

The win leaves Murray's record at 10-wins, and 2-losses. The next home game for the Aggies will be February 4 with OMA.

Scoring for Murray: England 22, Lillie 17, Nelson 6, Simon 6, Jordan 5, Nowell 4, and Grant 3.

Murray slips past OMA in conference Opener

Murray came from 13-points behind to win a hotly contested conference game over OMA January 18, by the score of 85 to 82, at Claremore on the shooting of Ardeell England and Louis Lillie.

The Aggies were down 32-19 with 8-minutes to go in the first-half when coach Robbins changed his defensive strategy. The Cadets could manage no more than 8-points the remainder of the half, while Murray hit 20. The first-half ended with OMA owning a 40-39 lead.

Lillie and England came through with 13 and 16-points respectively in the second half to lead the Aggies to victory.

For the first time this season, five Aggies scored in double column figures: Simon 10, Nowell 12, Jordan 12, Lillie 21, and England 27.

College animals entered in Angus show and sale

Four registered Angus heifer calves have been entered in livestock shows by the Agricultural Department. Two of the heifers will journey to Lawton to compete in the Wichita Mountain Angus Association Show and Sale while the other two journey to Comanche, Oklahoma for competition in that show and sale. The show and sale date for both shows is the same, February 20.

The heifers are being groomed and fitted by Paul West, Johnnie Cope, Van Chew and Mike Hunter. These students will also show the heifers in the show and sale.

B.S.U. Building holds Saturday night "special"

Saturday night, January 16, approximately thirty students gathered at the BSU building to spend what started out to be an ordinary Saturday night.

About nine o'clock someone arrived on the scene with popcorn and punch for everyone. This immediately turned the gathering into a first class party. There was some sort of entertainment to suit anyone's fancy. Some watched t.v., while others played games; before it was over, a few talented people harmonized to sing a few songs.

It proved to be a fun-filled night for everyone. There is talk of making this a regular Saturday night special.

Auto tags can be tax deductible

That portion of automobile and house trailer registration fees paid by residents of the State of Oklahoma in excess of a flat $19.00 for the first year of the life of the automobile and the excess of a flat $15.00 for a house trailer will qualify as a deductible personal property tax, Clyde L. Bickerstaff, Oklahoma District Director of Internal Revenue, announced today.

From the 2nd through the 10th year of the vehicle's life 90% of the amount deductible in the immediately preceding year will be deductible as a personal property tax. For the 11th and subsequent years of the vehicle's life the amount paid in excess of $5.00 will be deductible.

For an automobile license tax registration fee which costs $50.00, the first year (when the automobile is new) a flat $19.00 is non-deductible. This non-deductible portion diminishes each year (computed at 90% of the preceding year until the 11th year when the non-deductible amount is a flat $5.00. It remains $5.00 for each year thereafter.

A similar computation is used to determine the deductibility of house trailer registration fees each year.

The District Director emphasized that the reason the flat $19.00 paid for the automobile and the flat $15.00 paid for the house trailer in the first year and corresponding amounts for subsequent years would not be deductible is that they are not ad valorem taxes, as defined by the Revenue Act of 1964.

Mr. Bickerstaff questioned "that the motor vehicle registration fees on other types of vehicles do not qualify as ad valorem taxes and therefore are not deductible as personal property taxes."

RECENTLY NAMED head football coach at Murray, Wayne Canaday, formerly a coach at Chandler High School, was named head gridiron mentor following the resignation of Benton Ladd from that position. Canaday will also serve as track coach.

Canaday replaces Ladd as Head Football Coach

When the Murray Aggies meet the Northern Mavericks on the Northern Gridiron next October 7, fans may be mystified at the behavior of Mom and Pop J. M. Canaday, of Newkirk. When the Mavericks make a TD, they will yell loudly for Coach Leo Canaday's team. And when the Aggies score, the yells will be equally loud for Coach Wayne's Aggies. Or they might sit on opposite sides of the stands; or switch sides at the half, to keep things on an even keel.

As far as we know, this game will mark the first time that teams coached by two brothers will clash in the history of Oklahoma Junior College football. It came about in January when Wayne moved up to the position of head football coach of the Murray Aggies. Brother Leo has been head coach at Northern since 1963.

But it's far from the first time the boys have duplicated each other's accomplishments. Both attended Northern Junior College, at Tonkawa, played football there and quarterbacked their respective teams. Both boys went on to finish college at Southwestern State, Weatherford, even duplicating their subject fields as history majors and physical education minors.

Again both played football, and again, true to pattern, both quarterbacked their teams, with Leo preceding Wayne by three years. Not surprisingly, both worked under the same mentor, J. W. Cole, who served as line coach when Leo was calling the plays; and who moved up to top spot as head coach by the time Wayne came along in big brother's cleat tracks.

When their educations were interrupted by stints in the service, Leo played football in the army and Wayne toled the pigskin for his Marine Corps team. And to make the parallels in their careers even more uncanny, both took placement tests and wound up as Communications Wireman—a remote distance apart and unbeknown to each other.

Their minds have been running in the same directions ever since high school days in Blackwell. About that time, both began to plan and work to become what they are today, football coaches.

To make things even more weird, they married girls who were no relation to each other, but who look enough alike to be sisters. Leo's wife, Pat, is from Blackwell, and Wayne's wife, Carolyn, is also from Blackwell. Leo and Pat have two daughters, Lisa, nine, and Vicki, six. Not to be outdone, Wayne and Carolyn have two boys, Jeffrey, three, and Mark, four months old.

Wayne replaces Benton Ladd, who resigned the position as Murray coach in January to accept a position with Fidelity Life Insurance Company, on the campus of Oklahoma City University. Ladd had been head coach at Murray for the past four seasons.

Wayne had been football coach at Chandler High School for two seasons before coming to Murray last fall as assistant football coach and baseball coach. He is completing work on his masters degree at Southwestern State College.

Leo was all state quarterback his senior year at Blackwell High School, and the team won the conference that year. To keep up the football tradition not only Leo and Wayne carried the ball, but their two brothers also played on the high school team.

Following high school, he attended Tulsa University one year, then entered the army for two years' service. He holds a Master of Teaching from Southwestern State College.

Now in its 37th year as the publishing division of the University of Oklahoma, the University Press has published more than 600 books.

Bulls on performance test at Murray show average gain of 3.26 lbs. a day

The 84 day weighing of the bulls on performance test at Murray State College, was held January 5. With 56 days remaining in the 140 day feed test, these bulls have an overall average daily gain of 3.26 lbs. per day. The 112 day weighing will be February 2, and the sale of these bulls is scheduled for March 20.

In the Hereford division of the test, George Coffee, White Deer, Texas, has the top gaining pen of 3 bulls. These bulls were sired by his C Larry Prince bull and have an average daily gain of 3.95 lbs. per day. K. P. Larsh, Roff, Oklahoma has the second ranked pen of Hereford bulls with an average daily gain of 3.73 lbs. per day. Paul Dauer, Panhandle, Texas has a pen of 3 bulls that have gained 3.45 lbs. per day and Glenn McDaniell, Fitzhugh, Oklahoma has a pen of bulls that have an average daily gain of 3.39 lbs. The top gaining individual Hereford bull is one of George Coffee's with a gain of 4.70 per day. Dr. G. T. Easley, Sulphur, Oklahoma, George Coffee and K. P. Larsh have bulls that have gained 3.81 lbs. per day. A Hereford bull of Murray State College sired by W. R. Watson 14th has a gain of 3.69 lbs. per day.

In the Polled Hereford division, Joe Edgington, Barnsdall, Oklahoma has the top gaining pen with a gain of 3.53 lbs. per day. Evert Prater has the second ranked pen with a gain of 3.37 lbs. per day. Breeders with top gaining individual Polled Hereford bulls are Joe Edgington, 3.87; Evert Prater, 3.81; 3.87; and S. B. Sims, Colbert 3.81.

In the Angus division, Murray Corbin, Tishomingo has the first and second ranked pens of Angus bulls with a gain of 3.91 and 3.65 lbs. per day. Murray State College, Tishomingo, has the 3rd ranked pen of Angus bulls with a gain of 3.39 lbs. per day. Corbin's bulls were sired by his Emulous Bob of K Pride bull and Murray State College's pen was sired by Clarence Burch's Geordus of BAR 156 bull. Other breeders with top gaining pens of Angus bulls are Carlton Corbin, Pittsboro, 3.53; Clarence Burch, Mill Creek, 3.51; Jack McCroskey, Stillwater, 3.45. The top gaining Angus bull at this stage of the test was consigned by Lee Flowers, Jr., Pittsboro. This bull has a gain of 4.23 lbs. per day. Murray Corbin, Tishomingo and A. F. Flint, Bard, New Mexico has the second ranked bulls with an average daily gain of 4.05 lbs. each. Other breeders with top gaining Angus bulls are Clarence Burch, 3.87; Murray Corbin 3.87; Clarence Burch 3.81; Murray Corbin 3.81; and Murray State College 3.75.

In the Charolaise-Charbray division Mack Braly, Ada, Oklahoma has the top gaining pen with a gain of 3.73 lbs. per day. Maurice Finklea, Warner, Oklahoma is second on a pen of Charolaise bulls with a gain of 3.71 lbs. per day and G. W. Banks, Clarksville, Texas has the 3rd ranked pen with a gain of 3.65 lbs. per day. Individually, Mack Braly has the top gaining bull at 4.40 lbs. per day. Other breeders with top gaining Charolaise-Charbray bulls are Robert Wood, Meeker, Oklahoma 4.35 lbs. per day; Maurice Finklea 4.23 and 3.93 and G. W. Banks, 3.81.

In the Red Angus division the top gaining bull is one consigned by Roy Beeby, Marshall, Oklahoma. This bull has an average daily gain of 3.33 lbs. per day. George Chiga and Red Plains Cattle Co., Guthrie,

Drive begun to secure band uniforms

Murray to be first Okla. Jr. College with marching band

Last year, Mr. Wood and Mr. Reid coordinated on the idea of forming a 40-piece marching band. This year the idea is being realized and by next year it will be in effect. One of the main purposes in having a marching band is to increase pride in the school and to develop stronger school spirit. Another aspect is to provide a band for ball games and parades.

At present, there are 19 freshmen in the band; graduation will thus, leave 21 vacancies to fill. Mr. Reid feels assured that they can fill these vacancies. Letters have been written to 50 high schools and 50 bands informing them of Murray's plan for this band.

Oklahoma Military Academy is the only Junior College in Oklahoma that has a marching band, but this unit is composed of both high school and college students. Therefore, Murray will be the first Junior College with a complete college marching band.

The uniforms for the band will consist of matching blazers, slacks, white shirts and ties. The blazers will be furnished by the department and will have a school emblem. The blazers will serve a two-fold purpose; as uniforms for both the band and choir.

Also, as part of the band will be a drum major and majorettes. If the number in the band totals 40. The majorettes' uniforms will match the band's but the drum major will have a different colored uniform. Try-outs for these positions will be held in August.

According to Mr. Reid, "A college with the enrollment of over 600 should be able to provide a 40-piece band. But in order for this to come about, it will take the co-operation of the entire student body. Without this help we are beat."

Mr. Reid asks that those who have participated in band, continue to do so. "The strength is in the freshmen this year who will participate next year. Not only do we wish to form a band but also to have a 60 to 80 voice choir. There are hundreds of students on campus who have participated in music in high school, who are not participating in college. This is not only to help the Music department, but it will benefit the entire school."

New buildings underway at Murray College

The approval of a $1,160,000 federal loan, granted through the Housing and Home Financing Agency of Washington, D.C., for construction of new facilities at Murray State Agricultural College in Tishomingo, has been announced from the offices of Oklahoma senators Mike Monroney and Fred Harris and Representative Carl Albert.

The loan will be used, chiefly, for the construction of a three story men's dormitory for 156 students and a combined student union and cafeteria. Also included are plans for the remodeling of the current student union and the basement of a Boys Dormitory. These renovations will provide additional housing accommodations for 76 students.

Dr. Freeman McKee, President of the college, states that construction will begin as soon as possible, following the letting of bids.

Architect for the new additions is Collins and Flood Company of Ardmore and McAlester, the same firm that designed Murray's recently-completed Classroom and Music Buildings. The new structures will be styled similarly.

Valentine dance tentatively set for February 16

Dan Gibson called the Student Senate to order on February 2nd in the Student Center Conference Room. Pins or emblems for the members of the Student Senate were discussed and a committee was appointed to get ideas.

It was decided that the "O" Club will not sponsor their dance this month, but a Valentine's Dance and coronation of the Campus Sweetheart is set tentatively for February 16. The Student Senate will sponsor this dance.

Two new representatives have joined the Student Senate this semester. Rachel Jacobs is the representative from Patton Hall and Marvin Esmond is from the "O" Club.

Arrangements concerning "The Lettermen" have been called off because East Central is unable to help with the finances. Mr. Wood suggested that all help on the advertising as well as getting our commuting students from Ardmore to assist. Southeastern has agreed to help, up to $500.

The meeting was adjourned with the next meeting scheduled in two weeks.

The first doctor of philosophy degree was conferred by the University of Oklahoma in June 1929.

Aggieelite backs drive to obtain band uniforms

A new day of light and success has dawned over Murray State College. As shown by each of the three preceding semesters, enrollment has increased at a substantial and consistent rate. One of the darkest shadows to fall across these promising hours is the unconcealed and glaring absence of a uniformed college band.

Because of and on behalf of this large increase, it is the thesis and offered proposition of this paper that a marching college band is a near requisite for Murray State College. The Aggieelite is initiating a Murray College Band Booster Association. Objective: the purchase of forty blazer jackets for a marching band.

It shall be the duty and privilege of this Association to promote fund-raising projects of all sorts and to accept contributions. Even now these activities are being effected, and contributions from campus organizations, businesses and former students have been offered.

Any person or group contributing one dollar or more will be recognized by name in a special column to be included in the following issues of the Aggieelite.

The value of this project is expressed too easily in such abstract terms as pride, prestige and morale; but too often these intangibles touch only those involved in receiving, leaving the donors lessened rather than bettered by the experience. One factor that could make this situation otherwise is the fact that Murray College draws four-fifths of its students from Johnston County and hinterlands. This supports the writer's assertion that whatever affects Murray is likely to affect this general area. Any improvement of the college is balanced by a corresponding betterment of the area due to the attractiveness lent to the surroundings by having a junior college of merit.

And so it becomes apparent that our request is not another unwarranted and undeserving assumption. It stems from a need the effect of which is not confined to this campus. Donations to correct this deficiency and make Murray the first junior college in the state with a uniformed marching band should be presented to Mr. Jack Reid, Head of Murray's Music Department.

SOME THOUGHT ON TIME

How many times a day do you glance at the nearest clock, check your wristwatch, or ask the person next to you for the time?

Time is a mighty word. It runs our lives and our world. Time is so very important to our ever-changing world. There are never enough hours in a day to get everything done.

We scamper around like a den of little mice from place to place, from activity to activity, only to find at the end of a day a strange face staring back at us from above the dresser. You return the stare and think to yourself "Is that really me?" "What ever happened to the happy carefree look I earlier saw in the mirror?"

Then the thought leaves, because you have to go to bed and get a few hours sleep before morning comes. You would prefer a little time out to think about you and your future, and what that strange new face means, but you don't have the time.

Stop! Just for a few minutes think about you, sort out your thoughts, feelings, and emotions and dwell on them a while. Find what you want and need, find what it will take to make your life happy, prosperous, and, above all, satisfying. Then take the initiative and do it!

I have in my scrapbook a quote taken from the greatest book ever written—the Holy Bible. When I find myself hurried, and my brain confused from too many things to remember, I read this quote. Then I stop and take stock of my life, what I have accomplished, and what I have left undone. I take a break from my daily race to live a little and enjoy God's great gifts. I hope my small contribution will give you a better understanding of yourselves, as it has me:

QUOTE:

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven:

A time to be born, and a time to die.
A time to plant, and a time to pluck that which is planted.

A time to kill, and a time to heal.
A time to break down, and a time to build up.

A time to weep, and a time to laugh.
A time to mourn, and a time to dance.
A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together.

A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing.

A time to get, and a time to lose.
A time to keep, and a time to cast away.

A time to rend, and a time to sew.
A time to keep silent, and a time to speak.

A time of love, and a time of hate.
A time of war, and a time of peace.

Don't make the mistake of looking back on your lives when you have grown old and thinking "What happened, where did my time go?" "I should have done more, but somehow I just never had the time and now it's too late." "Its time for me to leave this world and I never really have had time to live!"

Give yourself the chance and the time. Slow down and live, before you too realize that your time has run out. S. H.

Campus Capers

Carol Zindler, Nancy LaFavors, and Barbara Uhlich, of Patton Hall are to be congratulated on their display of good sportsmanship during Freshman dorm initiation. They're pretty good hula dancers too.

The word, NEWS, itself, tells where it originates. News comes from everywhere — North, East, West, and South.

Some comments on the question, "Ain't taters high?":

1. "They sure are; you'd better eat all you can now because they'll soon be a rare dish."
2. "So are screwdrivers in Bolivia."
3. "It depends on who 'Taters' is."
4. "Rice is pretty cheap though."
5. "WHAT! ? !".

It is good to see "Ma" Gaines and Mrs. Haynes recovered from recent illnesses.

One of the residents of Patton Hall is a great aunt. She is young and pretty, too.

Angora goat helped boost school spirit

Here I am again in Beames Hall. Why do these old football hero pictures keep attracting me. Not too much has changed over the years. That picture looks funny to us now, but then, Boy, what a doll! Hey! What's this? Yes, this one is truly the best picture. I like the long silky hair. Where's his uniform? Well, I don't suppose big Angora goats wear uniforms. This big goat isn't around anymore, but he was just as famous as some of the football heroes. He wasn't just an ordinary goat, he was the school mascot.

Mascots are really part of school tradition. Why doesn't Murray still have a mascot. Goat, horse, chicken—whatever it may be—we need a mascot. A mascot seems to boost school spirit, keep things jumping, and lends great moral support. Murray needs a mascot to take on every football, basketball, and baseball trip.

Do you want to boost school spirit? Let's get a mascot as all other swinging colleges have and use it as the Angora goat was used a few years ago.

Angel Flights will perform at game with Eastern

Plans are being laid for a drill which includes the Murray and Eastern Angel Flights at half-time of the Eastern-Murray basketball game at the college fieldhouse on February 22.

Tentative plans are also being made to make February 22, R.O.-T.C. Day.

The Murray Angel Flight has already begun work on an intricate drill for this all-important performance and game.

Expression and emotions typify modern paintings

Modern art is an expression of the emotions of the artist. In the recent art exhibit at the library, such paintings as "Grim Humility", "Dancers", "Trial of Tears", and "Man-Made Angel". These illustrations of modern art. These paintings were more than a mere conglomeration of colors, they displayed a deeper meaning.

"Man-Made Angel" at first glance was a canvas covered with the colors of blue, green and white. On closer scrutiny, an outline of a face appeared. To study the painting more, it was not the face representing something "bene" but it represented the malice created by man-kind.

"Trial of Tears" was an interpretation by the artist of the suffering and heartache that was experienced by those traveling that long, lonely trail. The outline of the figures showed the cruelty they experienced and their weariness.

An eye in the center of the painting "The Dancers" represented the people watching the performance of the dancers. The skirts of the dancers and the outline of their faces all could be seen when viewing the painting.

"In Grim Humility" though cleverly painted in lines was an impression of the humility of man-kind. The expression and tears on the face of the man, made one feel the shame that the painting depicted.

Be objective when viewing modern art, analyze it and try to see its true meaning. This type of art is the expression of the characteristic attitudes of the people towards the important aspects of life. It reflects upon the inner feelings and thoughts of our generation.

Aggies fall to Paris Junior College 68-66

Daniel Jordan

Paris Junior College toppled Murray State, 68 to 66, Hockley Luck game of turnabout at Paris, Texas, January 28.

The Aggies were breezing along with a 35-32 advantage at intermission despite the fact that they only hit on 15 of 40 attempts from the floor for a 37½ percent average. The Paris Dragons hit 12 out of 27 for 44 percent at half-time. But it was probably the Aggies shooting-type pneumonia from the gift line that spelled defeat for them as only 14 of their 26 gift shots were chalked up.

The Dragons did not send a sympathy card either. They suffered from 18 out of 33 shooting miseries from the charity stripe. But suddenly the Dragons jubilantly found themselves in a tie with the Aggies at 50-50, with 9:35 remaining to be played, and the Robbins boys were wheezing.

With 3:03 left in the second 20 minutes, Paris owned a 65-55 lead and went into their delay game. But the Parisians were unable to get the ball past mid-court on four straight attempts as Shanon Saxon, Alvie Nelson, and Boone Jordan pilfered the ball on each occasion. Big Stick Grant picked up six points of the slack while Nelson and Jordan were getting two each, and the game was tied at 66 with only 74 ticks left on the clock.

At this time, Paris started playing for one shot. They took it with one second left. Grant went into the air and grabbed the ball. An official's whistle sounded, and goal-tending was called on the Aggies.

With the score Paris 69, Murray 65, and only one second showing, it was all over but the shouting. When asked if he thought the official made a good call, the Big Stick replied, "Yes, I thought it would be goal-tending when I started up after the ball, but I couldn't stop. It was too late."

Scoring for Murray: England 16, Jordan 11, Nelson 10, Lillie 10, Nowell 8, Grant 8, Simon 2, and Saxon 1.

Intramurals to kickoff tonight

Volleyballs will be breaking the silence in the fieldhouse, as the second half of Intramural action begins.

The Bootleggers after winning the cross-country team title handily, and zipping through their football schedule for another championship, have a commanding lead in the total points for the college trophy.

With several new teams organized this semester, it should make the race quite interesting the remainder of the way.

The Frank Phillips Collection, established at the University of Oklahoma Library, by the late Frank Phillips, Bartlesville, and the Frank Phillips Foundation, contains approximately 18,000 books on the history of Oklahoma, Indians and the Southwest.

DANIEL JORDAN (35) surrounded by four Mountaineers goes high in the air for a rebound. Harold Grant (54) eagerly watches the action. Eastern downed the Aggies 79 to 71 in a conference game at Wilburton.

THE MURRAY "MALADROITS" defeated the Southeastern State College girls 38-32 in a benefit game held February 3 in the Murray Gym.

Aggies down Cadets in JUCO Thriller 43-39

Murray's Aggies used a stout defense, and a clever delay game to down Oklahoma Military Academy 43 to 39 here last Thursday night, to move into half game lead over Eastern in the conference.

OMA and Murray came out cold in the first half, and the lead changed hands eight times during this period. Doug Nowell hit a 15 foot jump shot with 1:10 to go, put Murray ahead to stay. Then Boone Jordan hit a short jumper at the gun to push Murray into a 32 to 27 lead at half-time.

After intermission things went just about as they did the first half: neither team could find the range. And with a four point lead the Aggies slid into their delay game with 11:33.

"Stick" Grant came into the ball game with 8 minutes to go, and pushed Murray into a 42 to 36 lead.

OMA fouled with 6 minutes to play, controlled the missed free throw, and worked the ball for a good shot. OMA hit the shot, and was fouled on the attempt, the free throw was good and that was it. Murray was home free 42 to 39.

Maladroits win, push record to five and one

Henryetta Russell led the classy Murray Maladroits to a 38 to 32 victory over the Southeastern girls, in a benefit game at Tishomingo February 3.

After falling behind 19 to 18 at the half, Murray fought back and outscored their opponents 20 to 13 to account for their final margin.

Russell led the Maladroits, scoring with 12 points, followed closely by Julie Parkhill with 10 and Joy Wyatts with 9. Also scoring for Murray were Jackie Hipps, 4 points, Rachel Jacobs and Alice Brown, 2 each.

One of the finer points of the game was the way the Murray guards hustled the ball down the court. Those playing were: Lois Willingham, Paula Robinson, and Jenna Helack. Billie Anderson also played.

Rebecca Yearby, a converted guard, and Pat Morgan, played outstanding ballgames for Southeastern, hitting 18 and 11 points respectively.

Delay game ices Aggie triumph over Northern

Shannon Saxon

Murray Aggies got off to another slow start, but pulled out a conference victory over tough Northern Junior College 88 to 76, at Tonkawa January 25.

The lead changed hands three times in the first 12 minutes, before the Aggies took a 25-23 lead with 7:56 left in the first half, and were never behind the rest of the game.

The statistics indicate that the Aggies did not play their best game of the season. Murray committed 21 miscues, but recovered the ball 24 times from their opponent.

The Mavericks' Wayne Hardimon led all point-makers with 25. He had 16-points at halftime, but was held to 9 in the second frame. Louis Lillie, Aggie freshman from Houston, Texas, followed close behind Hardimon with 24-points.

Coach Robbins sent his Aggies into their "delay game" with 14:45 left to be played in the second half. This proved deadly to the Mavericks, as Murray scored 31-points in the remaining time.

"O" Club plans new constitution

Murray "O" Club held its second formal meeting Monday, February 1, in the classroom building for the purpose of discussing plans for a new constitution and a water balloon throwing game with the members of the "O" Club as the targets. The water balloon throwing will start Monday, February 15 and end Tuesday afternoon, February 16. So come out and plaster your favorite "O" Club member with a balloon filled with water — one throw for a dime three for a quarter.

Money made from this project will go toward the purchase of windbreakers for the "O" Club members.

The spring "O" Club initiation will be held in the first part of March for ALL prospective members which have lettered in either football or basketball for the school year of 1964-65. Anyone interested contact Roger Aucoin, Bernie Mathias, Donald Day, or Kelly Reeves before March 1.

Not everyone received one

Rachel Jacobs, sophomore President of Patton Hall from Kiowa, received a formal invitation to the Inaugural ceremonies of the President and Vice-president of the United States.

Rachel is feature editor of the Aggie, member of Art club, Pep club, and was recently voted the Wittiest sophomore girl in a campus-wide election. She also serves as Student Senate representative from Patton Hall.

Rachel worked for THE SUN, a Walnut Creek, California, newspaper, this past summer.

Orr selected as new president of Officers Club

New officers were elected at the first Officers' Club meeting January 25, for a new semester of activities.

The new officers are as follows: President, Dan Orr, cadet Major from Madill; Vice-President, Ronald Henson, cadet Captain from Kingston; Secretary-treasurer, Bill Pace, a cadet Major from Orlando, Florida; and Student Senate Representative, Warren Phillips, also a cadet Major, from Mountain View.

Plans are to be made at the next meeting concerning the coming semesters Club activities.

more; Ruth Ward, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Claiborne Weaver, Tishomingo; Stephen White, Ardmore; John Williams, Lexington; Lois Willingham, Coleman; and Patsy Wright, Poteau.

The Top Ten students were: Mary Harbert, 4.00; Paula Robinson, 4.00; Floy Sliger, 4.00; Thomas Willingham, 4.00; Kenneth May, 3.94; Patricia Sperry, 3.94; Patsy Wright, 3.94; Don Gardner, 3.88; Gladys Pigg, 3.88; and Mark Koehler, 3.82.

New and old frosh girls initiated into Patton Hall

Freshman initiation of second semester girls of Patton Hall, began Monday night, February 1, with a delightful shower for three of them. After being fully soaked the girls had to mop the shower-room and the halls.

Tuesday, Carol Zender, Oklahoma City; Nancy LaFavers, Milburn; and Barbara Uhlich, Ada, had to wear clothing of stripes, checks, plaids, and polka dots together. Faces were made up. One side of hair was in rollers and the other half was teased. The girls wore one sneaker and one dress heel with knee sock. The only words the girls could say all day was — "Ain't taters high?"

Entertainment for all was provided by the three in the cafeteria and student center. The entertainment consisted of songs, hula dances, and nursery rhymes. The girls appeared glad it was a one day affair.

Coronation of "Sweetheart" is being planned

The election for "Campus Sweethearts" has tentatively been set for the 15th of February. Each club will nominate a boy and girl for "Campus Sweethearts." The deadline for turning in the nominees is February 11th. Names should be submitted to Mrs. Thomas in the Dean's office.

The dance and coronation will be held the February 16 in the Student Center ball room. The band in mind for this dance is the "Vibrates" from Durant. The Student Senate is sponsoring the dance. All clubs are asked for their full participation.

Engineers Club elects officers

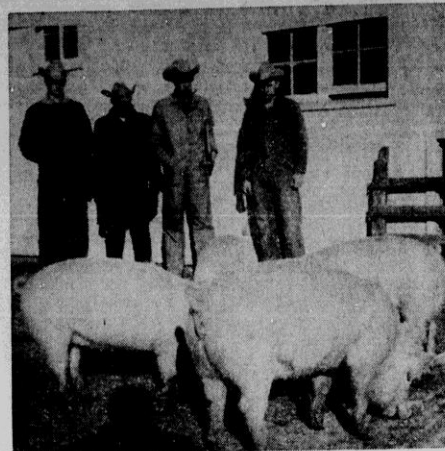

The Engineers Club met January 26, to elect officers for the new semester. Those now holding office are: president, Richard Rose; vice president, Bobby Miles; secretary-treasurer, Robert Moore; Student Senate representative, Raymond Elkins; and reporter, Tom Freeman.

Second semester for the engineers should prove to be a very active one. A trip to O.S.U. has been planned along with plans for another auto derby to be held later in the semester.

Membership to the Engineers Club is now open to all who wish to become a part of this active organization. Everyone is urged to join and make this the best semester possible for the club.

Benefit dance provides $100

A March of Dimes benefit dance was held in the Murray Student Center, Friday January 29. The music was provided by the "Vibrates" from Durant. One hundred dollars was cleared through the help of many college and high school students. Students in attendance assured those who missed the dance that the "Vibrates" are a top-notch band, and should reap on campus soon.

THE MURRAY COLLEGE LIVESTOCK judging team placed 6th in the Ft. Worth Livestock Judging contest held in conjunction with the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show held in Fort Worth last week.

Murray Cassanova likes members of the opposite sex

After the security of childhood and before the insecurity of a second childhood, we find the "Murrayite."

Murrayites are everywhere; in the classroom, the student union, in bars, in the Dean's office, in love, and in debt!

Girls love them, (?) mothers tolerate them, the N.D.S.L. supports them, and somehow they manage to get along with each other.

A Murrayite is laziness with a deck of cards, a millionaire without a cent, and leader of America with the latest copy of "Playboy" in his pocket.

A Murrayite is a composite: sly as a fox, has the energy of a turtle, the brains of an idiot, the stories of a sea captain, the appetite of an elephant, the aspirations of a cassanova; and when he wants something, it's usually to get out of his tests.

He likes: girls, women, ladies, females, broads, and members of the opposite sex.

He dislikes: taking tests, wearing his R.O.T.C. uniform, his instructors, and getting up for an eight o'clock class—not to mention Murray chow, and the house mother's curfew.

No one else can cram into one small pocket a little black book, a letter from home, a pin-up from "Playboy", a pair of dice, a deck of cards, plus the remains of the money good old Dad gave him last week-end.

A Murrayite is a magical creature. You can lock him out of the girl's dorm, but not out of her heart.

BSU to sponsor devotional program

Baptist Student Union will hold a devotional program February 10, Wednesday evening, at 6 o'clock in the lounge of the Lawn View Rest Home.

Miss Sammy Belcher is in charge of the program. Lanny Hudson is to hold devotion, and Darrell Archer will sing a solo. There will also be group participation in the singing of other songs.

Anyone wanting to attend can meet in the new BSU building at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Judging team places 6th in Ft. Worth Show

A total of 16 teams from Junior Colleges in Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and Colorado competed in the 1965 Ft. Worth Livestock Judging Contest. The contest is held in conjunction with the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show.

Murray State College placed 6th in the contest. The team was ranked 5th in hog judging, 5th in sheep judging and 6th in cattle judging. The team members were Keith Caldwell, Lindsay; Robert Britton, Lindsay; and Don Gardner, Lone Grove. Other members of the team are Fred Baxter, Wynnewood, Colin Howell, Shawnee and Allen Kreger, Pawnee.

Keith Caldwell placed 9th high individual in the contest and was 4th high individual in sheep judging.

The team is making plans to compete in the judging contest held in conjunction with the Houston Fat Stock Show on March 1, 1965.

PAULA ROBINSON and George Ford, both of Tishomingo were named "Campus Sweethearts" at the annual Valentine's dance held February 16. Music for the dance was provided by the "Vibrates."

Annual Sweetheart Dance is jumpin' Campus twosome chosen

Paula Robinson, freshman from Tishomingo, and George Ford, sophomore from Tishomingo, were named "Campus Sweethearts" at the Valentine's dance held in the Student Center ballroom, Tuesday, February 16. The reigning couple were chosen by the student body at an election held on Monday, February 15. Miss Robinson was presented a heart shaped pin plus an appropriate corsage. Her escort received a tie clasp and cuff link set.

Other candidates were: Jacquita Perry, Tupelo, escorted by Donald Day, Sulphur; Alice Brown, Tupelo, and Sharon Saxon, Mannsville; Patty Smith, Lone Grove, her escort was Terry Elizondo, Hugo; and Sue Harrison, Terral, escorted by Elmer (Hon) Liehl, Loyal.

Also, Sue Millisor, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, who was escorted by Ray Elkins, Madill; Mary Harbert, Tishomingo, and Alvie Nelson, Grant; Betty Jo Pickle, Madill, escorted by Bernie Mathias, Shreveport, Louisiana; Nancy LaFevres, Milburn, and Dwayne Miles, Coalgate; Mattie Loffer, Madill, escorted by Roger Aucoin, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; and Lois Black, Milburn, escorted by Darrel Weast, Stratford.

"Hearts and Flowers" was the theme of the decorations and of the dance. The band was the "Vibrates", a very popular band with Murray students.

Student Senate activates plans for spring term

The Student Union ballroom was the scene of the February 16 meeting of the Student Senate.

Russell Wells presented information on pins for the members of the Senate. The members discussed the various styles and agreed upon a collegiate style pin.

President Danny Gibson, asked what clubs would sponsor dances for this term. The Home Ec club will sponsor a dance during April, the date has not been determined. In May, following the annual rodeo, the Rodeo club plans to sponsor a dance.

Before adjournment, the members discussed the dates for Sadie Hawkins Week and Religious Emphasis Week. There will be a Student Personnel meeting, February 24.

Spring enrollment hits all-time high

Murray State College has enrolled 504 students for the second semester according to Mrs. Louise Craven, registrar. This figure compares with 369 for second semester a year ago, and exhibits a 37% increase.

First semester enrollment was 551 which was a 43% increase over enrollment figures for first semester a year ago.

'Noon Day' held daily in BSU

BSU "Noon Day" is held Monday through Friday from 12:30 to 12:50 in the new Baptist Student Union building. Noon Day is a short meditation including quiet prayer, a devotion, and singing. It is not only for Baptists, but for everyone who wishes to attend.

NUMBER TWELVE

Murray College summer session begins June 6

Murray College has planned a summer session for the first time in several years. On-campus housing for single and married students will be available. Meals on campus will be available in the college cafeteria. The Student Center, Patton Hall, Haskell Lucas Hall, and the Library will remain open for the summer term.

Students may enroll in a maximum of nine semester hours. Classes will be scheduled beginning at 7:00 a.m. daily, with the last class completed at 12:20. All summer classes will be in air-conditioned buildings. The schedule of classes will be released by March 1.

Loans and jobs will be available up to a limited number. Applications may be obtained from the Dean of Student's office.

Costs are at the same rate as those established during the academic year. The tuition will be $3.75 per semester hour and the total room and board will be $100 payable in two installments.

Dates of the summer session and of pre-enrollment are as follows: Summer Session will be June 7 to July 30. Pre-enrollment for on-campus students will be April 12 through April 17 and for new students, April 12 through May 15. Regular registration will be June 7.

An activity program will be provided for the summer session also.

BULLETIN

A smorgasbord meal will be served in the college cafeteria this evening, (Tuesday) at 5:30 according to Mr. Rex Hefner, cafeteria manager. Semi-formal dress is required.

In the United States three persons are killed and 192 others injured every 10 minutes.

THIS SINGING group is known as the "Plainsmen." They are students at Panhandle A. & M. college, Goodwell. They will be on our campus, March 4, for a performance.

Balladiers set for audition

Saturday, February 27, is the date set for the Murray State Balladiers. They will travel to Stillwater where an audition will be held on the O.S.U. campus for a summer job at Six Flags Over Texas. Let's all wish them "Good Luck."

Cadets participate in annual ROTC day

The Murray ROTC Cadets observed the annual ROTC Day yesterday. Murray Cadets could be seen wearing their uniforms throughout the day Monday in accordance with the annual event.

The Angel Flight climaxed the day with their marching performance at the Murray-Eastern game last night.

The Plainsmen, an ensemble of men singers from Panhandle A & M College, Goodwell, will present a program in Murray's auditorium at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday, March 4.

Everyone who attends Panhandle is a Plainsman. This symbol was adopted during the 1930's. This group, referred to as the Plainsmen, annually present up to fifty concerts and programs throughout the states of Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas. All of the above, plus Missouri and Kentucky, are represented in the personnel of this group.

Their program consists of sacred, folk, semi-popular and spirituals. The director of the Plainsmen is Milton H. Bradley, and they are accompanied by Miss Kay Thomason, Texhoma.

Admission is free, but donations for Murray's band uniforms will be accepted at the door.

Stroud students take top honors in speech contest

Stroud High School Speech Department under the direction of Hazel Standridge, won the speech tournament sweepstakes at Murray State College, February 5. This tournament included nine class B high schools. Participating were Waurika, Stratford, Stroud, Velma-Alma, Marietta, Doyle, Springer, Wewoka and Davis.

VAN CHEW, Duncan sophomore receives a $100 scholarship from the Oklahoma Livestock Marketing Association. The scholarship is to be awarded each semester to an outstanding Animal Husbandry major. Dr. Jerry Martin, right, Head of Murray's Agriculture Department presents the award.

Pre-vet major receives Graham School award

Don L. Gardner, a pre-vet major from Lone Grove, has received a $160 tuition scholarship to the Graham School for Cattlemen, Garnett, Kansas. Don will attend the school this coming summer. This scholarship also gives Don a life-time membership fee to the school, meaning he can return for one day, or for the complete course any year, every year, without additional tuition fees. The school has been in operation since 1909 and its primary purpose is to give the student practical instructions in the field of animal breeding. The phases of animal breeding emphasized by the school include:

- 1) How to maintain a more efficient producing herd by understanding the reproductive organs.
- 2) How to artificial inseminate
- 3) How to diagnose pregnancy
- 4) How to deliver calves and to remove the placenta
- 5) How to test and treat bulls and cows for sterility
- 6) How to treat for various reproductive diseases.

The Graham School is a practical school and the information gained there can be put to immediate use.

Time lost by injured workers in 1963 from disabling injuries totaled 230 million man-hours which caused a wage loss of $1,300,000,000.

Name him for $10.00

Are we in it? Well I guess --

"When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary . . . to offer a small bribe for immediate action! Murray's Student Senate has come to realize that people in Murray Aggie Land need a mascot and a name for him. We have the mascot, as you can see—but the name is something else. Therefore the Student Senate will offer a bag of loot containing $10.00 to the student submitting the most suitable name for our little Aggie.

The absolute deadline on this once-in-a-lifetime-at-Murray offer is March 5, 1965.

Put on your thinking caps lasses and chaps and turn in your entries to the Aggielite office located in the top of the Administration Building, room 305.

No limit has been set on the number of names you may submit. The prerogative is yours and the ten dollars can be too.

Uniform project gets underway

Murray's program to secure uniforms for a 40 piece marching band is underway. This drive officially began with the last issue of the Aggielite. The estimated cost of the uniforms will be $600. A few clubs have promised donations, but as yet Mr. Reid hasn't received any deposits. This project needs the support of every club, organization and of every individual on the campus.

At the recent Maladroit benefit game, the project profited $40. At the Plainsmen assembly on March 4, everyone is asked to bring nickels, dimes or quarters and donate for these uniforms!

Gibson and McKee attend state-wide O.I.S.A. meeting

Dan Gibson, President of the Student Senate, and Kerry McKee, Secretary, attended a general discussion meeting of the O.I.S.A. at Oklahoma City University Saturday, February 13th.

This meeting was called for the purpose of working out a plan for better communications between the Oklahoma colleges.

Four senators from the Murray Student Senate will attend the State O.I.S.A. Convention at Panhandle A. & M., April 16th and 17th.

"... I Am the Master of My Fate"

To an extent man does have jurisdiction over his fate. In the back of the mind (the subconscious) a person has determined what action he will take to achieve an outcome. This does not necessarily mean a person is aware of his intentions, nor does it denote that the human being is desirous of a "pleasant" outcome. Feelings of guilt induce us to punish ourselves mentally—even though no one else conceives a misdeed.

When something unfortunate befalls us, we do not credit it to our former conduct, we tell ourselves that some mystical demon is creating adverse circumstances. Milder forms of superstition are more common to prudent persons. Inanimate objects such as garments, rabbit feet, horse shoes and four-leaf clovers seem to influence favorable or adverse conditions. Some persons don't begin the new day without having consulted their horoscopes from the daily news or a monthly forecast from an astrology magazine.

Superstitious inclinations are erroneously committed as characteristics peculiar to the educated populous. To disprove such a theory, I can vouch for the fact that the Ouija Board has a number of devoted followers on the campus of Murray State College, an institution of higher learning.

The Ouija Board, in the event that you are unaware of its existence, is a plastic board with the letters of the alphabet, "yes" and "no", and the numbers from one to ten painted on its face. A plastic planchette with a window in the top and felt runners on the underside is controlled by the touch of the fingertips of two persons. The planchette spells out answers to particular questions. In such a way these people (supposedly) obtain mediumistic messages. Here the element of doubt involved is the question of whether or not the planchette moves by its own power; or if it is controlled by flexing the fingers.

Ask the "believers" what the board has told them. It knows who they will marry, when they will die and how many children they will have. Ouija also knows that God rules the universe but professes that "his" origin is hell. He is often given to blackguard name-calling and gets so perturbed at some people that he won't MOVE the planchette one inch. When Ouija is asked what will happen if the operators destroy the board, he spells out the word "kill".

After several hours of consulting Ouija, some of his subjects are terrified beyond reason. Hands trembling, shedding frustrated tears—they turn and curse Ouija violently, then leave the room resolved no longer to consult the evil Ouija. But they always come back for more. Each time they return they are more certain of the supernatural powers which the board displays to them.

Why will human beings, gifted with the power to reason, believe messages from a destructible piece of board before they will believe the teachings from a book which so evidently speaks from the source of life and understanding?

Are You on Your Own?

To be "on your own" for the first time is one of the memorable experiences a person ever encounters. The most common single instance of a person being on his own for the first time undoubtedly occurs when a youngster enters into college life.

We know that the very first few years of a person's life are the most important period of time for him. For it is here that his basic personality begins to develop. His character is formed to a large extent and more often than not while a person is still very young you can observe a resemblance to what he will be like in adulthood.

But even while a person is going through grade school and high school he may not know what he can be, will be, or really is. He often has not been tested as an individual. His decisions are often not his own, although he may actually think they are, as choices are commonly determined by parents, classmates and teachers. So while he thinks he has made a decision this is not so.

Now comes then the "great separation" as the individual (and he really is an individual) severs himself bodily from his home and embarks upon foreign land, namely the college campus. It is here for the first time many find themselves beset with the dilemma of deciding how to put together and out into action all the "upbringing" that they have been exposed to. So many times a person has to actually decide for himself for the first time—shall I dress sloppily, swear, skip class, pay my bills, drink, keep a neat room in the dorm, not smoke, cheat, be polite, be prompt, take advantage of others, not study, keep in shape, write home, go to church and any number of other such questions.

This period of time (college life) cannot very well be said to be the period of time in which a person's character is molded since it has been indicated that this has already pretty well happened by now. But it is often the first time in a person's life that his true self has come to light.

Please let's not waste those precious years of childhood or young manhood and womanhood! While participating in the enjoyment that this present type of life brings, do remember to be a responsible individual, and strive to use your college experience in a manner that you will truly be proud of.—J. M.

Aggie hardballers look toward bright season

Murray's baseball team is expected to begin practice the last of February if weather permits, according to Wayne Canaday, head baseball coach.

Coach Canaday expects a large turnout for the team. The majority of the team will consist of freshmen with the exception of Shanon-Saxon, Mannsville; Danny Mathis, Hugo; and Richard Benedict, of Harrah. They are the only returners from last year's team.

All the Aggies games will be doubleheader's, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

Connors downs Aggies 40-34 in JUCO action

The Murray Aggies suffered their most frustrating and most disappointing defeat of the season at the hands of Connors at Warner Thursday night, February 18, by the score of 40 to 34.

Lewis Lillie scored four quick points for Murray and everything seemed to be roses. But with 9:35 remaining in the first half, Connors took an 11 to 8 lead and went into their delay game. In the remaining time, both teams scored a total of 9 points. The half ended with Connors at the big end of a 15 of 13 football score.

Murray could manage no more than 11 hits out of 36 attempts from the field in the entire contest.

Aggies axe Mavs and vault into tie for top spot

After a sluggish first half the Murray Aggies unleashed a three pronged attack on the Northern Mavericks, and walked away with a 74 to 56 conference victory that again deadlocked the Aggies and Eastern on top of the JUCO conference with identical 5 and 1 records.

Leading the attack were Louis Lillie, Hal Grant, and Ardeell England. Lillie topped Murray with 15 points, but right behind were Grant with 15 and England with 14.

As usual, the Aggies weren't able to take a commanding lead until after intermission. At the half-time Northern trailed by only four 36 to 32.

During the final 20 minutes of play the Aggies hit the hoop for 38 points while the visitors could only tally 24.

Besides Murray's top three, Daniel Jordan, and Sleepy Simon hit for seven points, while Doug Nowell hit six.

Ted Hardimon of the Mavericks won scoring honors for the game, as he canned 22 for the visitors.

Y.W.A. Observes Annual Focus Week

The Young Women's Association at Murray is celebrating Y. W. A. Focus Week February 14-20. This organization is connected with B.S.U. and their meetings are held in the B.S.U. building starting at 6:30, the first and third Wednesday of each month. The purpose of Y.W.A. Focus Week is to enlist new members into this organization, preferably girls from 17 to 21.

President of College Y.W.A. is Billie Anderson. Vice president is Betty Pickle. Secretary and treasurer is Louise McDonald.

Y.W.A. Focus Week activities include: Sunday, they sat together at Church; Monday, they had coke and fellowship at Pier 7, at 8:00 p.m.; Tuesday, they attended B.S.U. at 6:30 p.m.; Wednesday, they attended prayer meeting at Church; Thursday, they contacted unenlisted Y.W.A.s; Friday, they had a Slumber Party and Mission Study; Saturday, they had breakfast together.

Y.W.A. is under the First Baptist Church of Tishomingo, and the College Y.W.A. counselor is Mary Horton.

HAROLD (Stick) GRANT, goes up for 2 points as the Aggies smashed the Fort Worth Falcons February 15 by a score of 93-56.

Aggies smash Texas Falcons; reserves star

Wayne Williamson, James Johnson, and Terry Elizondo drew starting nods against Fort Worth Christian, and responded with stellar performances, as the Murray Aggies slashed the Falcons 93 to 56 at Tishomingo February 15.

The Aggies' reserves had a field day against the hapless Falcons, as they sent four players into double figures. Thirteen of the fourteen players who saw action scored, as the Aggies ran up their highest total of the year.

Wayne Williamson, led the Aggies in scoring, and a few of his 8 field goals reminded the fans of a former Aggie great Gene Wilmoth. James Johnson also played well, chipping in 15 points and 16 rebounds to lead in that department. Terry Elizondo chipped in 15 also. Ardeell England completed the four pronged attack with 11 points to his credit.

Murray stomps Cameron in intersectional tilt

The Murray Aggies took another giant step toward proving they are one of the best teams in Region II Saturday night by downing a tough Cameron team at Lawton 84-69. This was the Aggies second win of the season over the big school.

Cameron came out in a zone defense to start the game, but the accurate outside shooting of Sleepy Simon, Alvie Nelson, and Lewis Lillie made coach Dale Roark change his strategy quickly. The Aggies hit only 36 percent of their shots from the floor, missing most of the inside shots, but outscored the hotter shooting Cameron team who hit 43 percent, 42-39, in the first half. Little Alvie Nelson led the way the first half with 14-points.

What probably proved the turning point of the game came in the first 2-minutes of the second half when Lewis Lillie and his long-time schoolmate, Boone Jordan, equally divided 8-points. At this point, the Cameron team seemed to let down, and never came closer than 10-points to The Pride of Murray State the remainder of the game; and, at one time, with 1:20 left in the game, Murray held a 84-64 lead.

The crowd-pleasing Sleepy Simon brought the Murray boosters to their feet time after time with his dribbling, passing, driving, and shooting.

The loss brought Cameron's record to 14-win, and 7-loss. Murray is 16-4 for the season with two games remaining to be played.

MRS. REID HUTCHENS, JR. and daughter Kathy with a book of pictures of China. Mrs. Hutchens, a graduate of Murray College, is half White Russian and half "Tishomingoan," born in Peking, China.

Patsy's family story could be Tolstoy novel

Editor's note: The following article was written by Mrs. Murrelle Mahoney, college librarian. Because of its length, the second half will be run in the next edition of the Aggie Lite under the title of "Letters About Russia." Mrs. Mahoney is to be commended for her excellent handling of the many details involved in this lengthy effort.

When Murray alumna Mrs. Patsy Hutchens starts telling her family history, you think "She's making it up." It sounds like a movie, or a Russian novel—set in China.

Mrs. Hutchens is Chinese, born in Russia, er—no, she's Russian and Tishomingoan, born in China. Her mother was a White Russian whose family fled to Peking after the Russian Revolution. Her father was a local fellow named Pryor Ledgerwood, who went to Peking to work in the American Legation. They were married, and Patsy, or Natalie Patricia, as she was christened, was born there.

Patsy had Chinese nurses, and could speak four or five languages, though they are long since forgotten, she says. Among her early memories are riding a donkey near the Great Wall of China, and attending the Russian Orthodox Church with her grandmother, who carried along the holy bread for communion.

She happened to be born in China because of a chain of events beginning with her great grandfather, a handsome, blond haired ladies' man—who was unwisely outspoken against the oppressions of the Czar. He was arrested and stood before a firing squad. At the last minute, a messenger from the Czar arrived and pardoned him, in a 'merciful' gesture to impress the spectators. Instead, he was sent to Siberia, (this was mercy?) arriving in summer clothes in the dead of winter. He nearly died of exposure, but survived and was finally released.

Patsy's great grandmother was a wealthy woman who started the first schools for girls in Russia. To make sure that her children were on the 'right side' next time, she sent her son, Patsy's grandfather, to Czarist military school. He became a colonel in the Czar's army; but again they were on the wrong side. Came the Revolution, and the White Russians had to skip the country. Her grandparents, their two daughters and son fled to Peking to live. Natasha married Mr.

Ledgerwood, and her sister Gaila married Derk Bodde, a Dutch American specialist in Oriental languages, now professor of Chinese philosophy at the University of Pennsylvania.

Patsy's mother Natasha died when Patsy was three, and her father brought her back to Tishomingo to live. Their house full of Chinese furniture and art had burned, and he bought more to bring back with him. After a time, he married Jimmie Lee Lester, and they went to Mill Creek to live. Early day residents recall that the local citizenry didn't quite know what to make of him in his white linen suits and white straw hats, and they called him "The Ambassador." Again their house burned, and the lovely furnishings with it.

Patsy's grandparents and her uncle and his family remained in China until Stalin came into power, when they were allowed to return to Russia. Her grandfather who was outspoken like his father, was arrested within the past two or three years, disappeared and died in prison.

The wars and conflicts in both countries caused many upheavals and tragedies in her family. A cousin's husband was exiled to Siberia for so long that his wife divorced him and remarried. Her uncle and aunt also separated after they returned to Russia. "Too many people crowded into one or two rooms make life very difficult," says Patsy.

"We usually think of a foreign country in terms of the government, rather than the people. Often we don't realize how many personal problems war causes."

When Patsy grew up, she came to school at Murray College. She recalls that there was a big post-war enrollment (the year was 1949) with several times more freshmen than sophomores. At Murray she met a young man named Reid Hutchens, Jr., who had sworn not to marry a dark haired 'foreigner,' as his two brothers had done. Patsy seems to have convinced him it would be worth it to eat his words; they were married, live in Tishomingo and have three children, Kathy, Vicki and Jimmy.

Her family story came to light in a manner as appropriately roundabout as the family's migrations. A small red book titled China's Cultural Tradition was purchased by the library. The librarian had an impulse to write the author, Derk Bodde, at the University of Pennsylvania, to ask where prints of the Chinese paintings reproduced in the book could be ordered. He sent the address, and mentioned that his wife had a niece, Mrs. Reid Hutchens, Jr., living in Tishomingo. When the librarian called to tell her about the coincidence, Patsy began to explain the family connections. Mrs. Mahoney, who suffers from journalitis, grabbed a pencil and began trying to take notes on the family's farflung movements. This feature article is the result.

Angel Flight makes plans

Angel Flight met February 15, and discussed future plans. Future plans are for a party to be held at Elk's Lodge in approximately two weeks; after ball season, a buffet supper and a party afterwards with the help of Faculty Dames; a brochure on the beginning of Murray Angel Flight.

Angel Flight Constitution has been drawn up by the Constitution Committee and is under study by the Executive Committee. Expectations are for it soon to be adopted.

Some of the girls are considering a trip to Officers Training School to prepare for try-outs for commander for the 1965-66 school year.

February 22, at the Eastern vs Murray game, held here, Angel Flight marched.

Three members have dropped from Angel Flight and one member, Juanita Andrews, has joined, bringing the group to a total of eighteen members.

Cadets travel to Carswell

Major Shockley, Sergeant Jones and forty four cadets made a one day visit to Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, Texas, last Friday, February 19.

They left at 8:30 from the Ardmore Air Park in two planes, a T-47 and a C-29. The group spent the day touring the various sections of the base. They also visited the General Dynamics Plant.

For many of the Cadets this was their first plane ride.

Aggie Club orders membership jackets

Paul West, president of the Aggie Club, announced the ordering of jackets for some members of the Aggie Club last week.

The jackets will be blue and have "Murray College Aggie Club" printed on the back.

Membership in the Aggie Club is open to all students. Anyone wishing to join and order a jacket can contact Paul West.

Judgers prepare for Houston show

The Livestock Judging Team had a work-out Saturday, February 13, on the ranch of Buddy Crump, Wynnewood. The team judged three classes of quarterhorses in preparation for the Houston Fat Stock Show.

Colin Howell and Dr. Martin will compete in a calf roping contest. The date and time of which have not been determined. Colin will spot Dr. Martin ten seconds per calf.

Rodeo Club plans exciting rodeo

Rodeo Club had its first and second meeting of the new semester, January 25, and February 2, for the purpose of discussing the future plans which are: Murray College Rodeo this May with such events as; tie down calf roping, bareback bronc riding, steerwrestling, double mugging, barrel racing, bull riding and other novelty events and the buying of shirts with Murray College Rodeo Club on the back.

All contestants in the Murray Rodeo must be enrolled in high school or college. Committees were appointed to hire officials, clowns, and the announcer.

Buckles will be given in each event and one buckle will be given to the all-around cowboy.

Sophomores qualify for advanced ROTC

Between the eighth and eleventh of February, fourteen cadets took physical examinations at Perrin Air Force Base, Sherman, Texas. This was the final requirement these boys needed for going into advanced ROTC.

All fourteen passed the physical. Most of the boys are seriously considering going into advanced.

The boys taking the physical were Ronnie Stinson, William Pace, Don Neal, Gilbert Sanders, Phillips Dobler, Ernie Duff, John Ames, Dan Gibson, Tommy Bennett, Don Robertson, Dwayne Miles, Harley Stewart and Lonnie Mayo.

Dr. McKee attends meeting in Ohio

Fifty administrators from Arkansas and Oklahoma attended a lighting institute in Cleveland, Ohio, January 27 through the 29. Dr. McKee was one of the representatives chosen to attend this meeting. They were guests of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company and General Electric. Latest ideas and methods in school lighting were discussed and shown. The meeting was held at the General Electric Research Center at Nela Park, Cleveland, Ohio.

Flower arrangement instructions given to Faculty Dames

The Murray Faculty Dames and guests met recently and were given instructions on flower arrangements by Jack Irby Blalock, a florist from Madill.

Refreshments of pecan pie and coffee were served to twenty-eight members, guests, and Mr. Blalock. Miss Zimmerman, president, presided.

"O" Club raises money for projects with water balloons

Murray "O" Club held a water balloon throwing game Monday, February 15 with many students getting their chances to wet their best liked "O" Club member. The "O" Club would like to thank the students of Murray for the part they played in helping the "O" Club with this money raising project.

The money made from this project will go toward the buying of windbreakers which will have "Murray State College 'O' Club" on the front.

Numerous details make journalism interesting work

An eventful and rewarding work at best, an exacting and thankless task at worse, production of a student newspaper is an effort that embraces a tangle of seemingly inexplicable details.

This particular paper is a bi-monthly edition, and a laboratory; that is, it is produced by the students enrolled in one of the three journalism courses currently offered at Murray. Because of its capacity as a laboratory edition, the Aggie Lite often contains a number of innovations, or experiments in makeup and style.

One example of our mutation from the norm is the paper's no column rule. This is, quite simply, the absence of rulings to separate the columns of type. Another of the paper's more notable differences is the variations used in writing headlines. One, two and three line heads are used, with only the first word of the headline and proper nouns capitalized.

These and numerous other details are a part of the work that makes journalism the arduous but extremely interesting task that it is.

Murray frolics through Region II Tournament

By Johnny Triplett
Sports Editor

The Murray Aggies earned a berth in the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas last week by winning the Region II Tournament at Tulsa.

The Pride of Murray State wound up the regular season play ranked number fourteen in the nation overall, and sixth in the nation on defense.

Murray's first opponent in the National Tournament will be Kilgore Junior College of Kilgore, Texas, on March 17. The fine Kilgore team has won 29 games this season and lost none. They are currently ranked as the number two team in the nation, and averaged 96 points per game throughout the season.

Aggies Romp Over Bacone
Murray's Aggies held Bacone scoreless more than seven of the final 11 minutes, then got enough free throws and easy baskets off their delay game to upend last year's Regional Champs, Bacone, 71-54, Saturday night for the junior college Region II basketball championship.

About 1,100 in the Fairgrounds Pavilion at Tulsa watched Murray drop nine charity tosses down the stretch after three inside buckets in two minutes had given the tall and talented Aggies a bulge of 19 points with 6:06 left.

Murray's Daniel "Boone" Jordan topped all scores with 21 points. The 6-1 freshman from Houston was named the tourney's Most Valuable Player on the strength of his 51 points in the three games and outstanding defense work.

Jordan and Louis Lillie bombed Bacone from outside with 14 jump shots. Lillie hit 6 of 11, and Jordan 8 of 13 to render Bacone's 1-2-2 zone defense almost useless. Lillie hit 14 points for the night.

In addition, Jordan also held Bacone's high scoring Bennie Price to only four points in the initial period. Price broke loose in the second half to top Bacone with 15 points. John Smith added 13, and Jack Vernon 10.

In the Championship game, Louis

Lillie hit five straight distant jumpers in the last 4½ minutes of the first half to help Murray into a 12 point lead.

With Lillie and Jordan hitting their long jump shots over Bacone's zone defense, Murray threatened a runaway. But that was before Bennie Price hit two quickies for Bacone in less than 20 seconds to cut the lead at half time to 32-24. Lillie hit 5 of 8, and Jordan 4 of 8, all but four of Murray's first half buckets.

Murray hit 25 of 58 from the field for 43 per cent, and dominated rebounding, 53-31. Bacone hit 34 per cent, 20 of 58. Murray's 6-9 Hal Grant topped all rebounders with 13. He had 12 points. Junious (Sleepy) Simon was close behind with 11 rebounds and 12 points.

Jordan and Lillie receive honors
Jordan won another honor other than the MVP award. He was selected as a member of the All Tournament Team along with Louis Lillie of Murray, Bennie Price and Chico Donovan of Bacone, and Randy Brooks of Northeastern.

Murray Downs Cameron Again
Doug Nowell, Murray's 6-5 forward from Savanna, Oklahoma, hit 15 points in the second half to carry Murray past Cameron 77-68, in a semi-finals match Friday night. He dropped in six long jumpers after intermission to barely top scoring with 18.

Murray, co-champs with Eastern in the Oklahoma JUCO Conference, pulled away in the last five minutes. The Big Blue's lead crested at 17 points with about two and a half minutes left. It came on the heels of a six minute Cameron dry spell.

PARALLEL LIVES. Jacquita Perry and Aaron Hulstine have found success and enjoyment in their rucks as editors of the TRIBESMAN and the AGGIELITE, respectively. Both are sophomores, majoring in English, and both are from Tupelo.

Cadets and Angels receive honors

Cadet Master Sergeant Willy Bridgeman, from Kingston, a sophomore, and cadet Ronnie Fredrick, from Sulphur, a freshman, were selected as the most improved cadets for the month of February. Both these boys are business majors.

January Angel of the month is Lieutenant Sue Harrison, a sophomore from Terral, majoring in history. February Angel of the month is Rosetta Favors, a freshman from Colbert, majoring in home economics.

The most improved Angel selected for the fall semester was Lois Black, a sophomore from Milburn, majoring in elementary education.

Former student receives award

W. B. Daugherty, editor of the SOUTHEASTERN, at Durant, has recently received an honorary membership to T. K. E. Fraternity at Southeastern State College.

Daugherty was formerly editor of the Aggieite and top all around student at Murray College. He will receive this honor at initiation ceremonies in May. He will graduate this year and plans to study next year for his master's degree in journalism.

Tishomingo churches welcome you to all services.

Tupelo natives are duo-editors

Jacquita Perry, annual editor and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Perry, and Aaron Hulstine, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hulstine, editor of The Aggieite both entered grade school together in the first grade at Tupelo High School in Tupelo, Oklahoma. Both Jacquita and Aaron have and still do attend the same church and school.

Since grade school days, Aaron and "Quita" have maintained high grade point averages in everything they have attempted. Aaron was vice-president of the 1963 graduating class of Tupelo High School and was ranked third from the top scholastically. Jacquita was the number one student in that same class.

Both Aaron and Jacquita decided to enter Murray in the spring of their senior year and proceeded to enter the following fall. As freshmen and now as sophomore students, Jacquita and Aaron have come to the front as outstanding students; both are high ranking members of Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college scholastic honor society represented on our campus. Jacquita serves as vice-president of the organization.

East Central State College has been selected by both Miss Perry and Mr. Hulstine to complete their education after graduation from Murray this spring. Aaron and Jacquita are both English majors and neither have a minor.

White berets to signify band uniforms

Two organizations have donated to the band blazer drive. They are Patton Hall, $8, and the R.O.T.C. gave $10. This makes a total of $65 toward the purchase of the forty uniforms.

The money which the R.O.T.C. donated went for the purchase of white French berets. Mr. Reid said the berets will signify the band uniforms.

Mr. Reid also said that he and Mr. Pearson have set up a schedule to visit various high schools. They hope to encourage students to join the band.

A marching band will be an asset to Murray College. It will provide a band for our athletic games which will help school spirit, and will encourage more musical minded students to come to Murray. Mr. Reid invites all returning freshmen or new students who have participated in band or choir to continue here at Murray.

Achievement Day set for April 12

Danny Gibson called the March 2 meeting of the Student Senate to vote upon Achievement Day for second semester. The Senate set the day for Monday, April 12, following the teachers' meeting.

Patty Smith, Angel Flight representative, said that their club will sponsor a dance on March 30. The Senate welcomed Ricardo Gonzalez, the new representative from Haskell Lucas Hall.

At the next meeting, plans for Sadie Hawkins Week will be discussed.

Choir invited to sing at Church

The college choir, directed by Mr. Pearson, has been invited to sing at the First Baptist Church of Tishomingo some Wednesday night. The exact date has not been set.

Mr. Pearson says that this will be a form of class work and the practice will benefit the choir.

Campus construction slated to begin soon

According to Dr. Freeman McKee, word has been received from the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Fort Worth, Texas, that the loan agreement for $1,220,000, has been completed.

Final plans and specifications are being completed by Collins and Flood and Associates and by Chaplin E. Bills and Associates. When these are in to the regional office, bids will be advertised and the contract awarded.

Construction will begin immediately after the awarding of the contract. The building program calls for a men's dormitory for 156 men, a Student Center, which will house the cafeteria, ballroom, bookstore, snack bar, game room, and banquet room. This building alone will take up some 20,000 square feet.

In addition, the present Student Center in Patton Hall will be converted into rooms for 20 women and a suite for the housemother. The present cafeteria will be converted into a lounge and additional rooms for approximately 50 men.

The Air Force ROTC program at Murray College will be discontinued at the end of the current school year, Dr. Freeman McKee, college president, announces. Similar detachments at Eastern A & M and Northeastern A & M are also affected.

The closing of the detachments is the result of cutbacks in military spending which have been instituted recently. Although the program at Murray College will be closed, qualified students who desire to participate in Advanced Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps programs will still have the opportunity to do so. Qualified students from any college may enter into any two-year Air Force ROTC program upon completion of their sophomore year. Oklahoma University, Oklahoma State University, and Tulsa University are three Oklahoma institutions that will offer the two-year advanced program.

Three Air Force personnel staff the detachment at Murray College. They are Major Charles Shockley, Professor of Aerospace Studies; Captain Bruce E. Medley, Assistant Professor of Aerospace Studies; and Staff Sergeant Dennis D. Jones, Administrative Assistant. The detachment has been operated at Murray College since the fall semester of 1951.

Dr. McKee commended the contributions made by the Air Force ROTC program to Murray College. Approximately 50 young men who had ROTC at Murray have completed or are currently enrolled in advance ROTC programs in colleges and universities throughout this region.

DIANE BAKER, second semester student at Murray, becomes better acquainted with the new surroundings at the college. College life is by no means new to Miss Baker, since she has attended a number of colleges in the U. S. during travels with her father who is a government employee.

New student brings varied background to life at Murray

One day not long ago, I saw a pretty dark-haired girl coming down the corridor of Patton Hall. This was Diane Baker, the girl from Okinawa.

"Dee Dee", as she is known by her friends, came to Murray from Okinawa, Japan, where she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Baker, and one sister, Amy, 12. Mr. Baker is employed as a civil service school teacher by the United States Government. Dee Dee and her family are originally from Ardmore. In 1959, her father was transferred to the Philippines; and then in 1961 to Okinawa.

She finished high school in three years. In the summer of 1963, she attended classes at the University of Arkansas while she and her parents were on vacation in the states. While living in Hawaii for a year she attended Honolulu Business College. Before coming to Murray, she attended the University of Maryland branch at the army base, Suikinan. Dee Dee has 22 college credits at this time. Her major is English.

How is life different in Okinawa? "Well, that's hard to say. There aren't as many recreational facilities, for one thing. You are continually surrounded by the Japanese language and culture. Life there is much more primitive than in the U.S.," says Dee Dee. "The people here are different. They are much more friendly. An outstanding difference is the 30 mile speed limit!"

Dee Dee is a collector of foreign coins, likes to oil paint, as well as play basketball, volleyball, and water ski. She has also played the piano for 12 years.

While conversing with Dee Dee, many qualities became evident. She is a sincere and likeable person. When asked what she liked most about people, she said, "I like to get to know people for their real value. Find out why they are as they are, and share good qualities. I never go by gossip."

Murray extends a warm welcome to Dee Dee.

"Moby Dick" was not recognized as one of the greatest novels of all time until 70 years after its publication and 30 years after the death of its author, Herman Melville.

Former student is Miss Congeniality

Nancy Lumpkin

Miss Nancy Lumpkin, 1964 graduate of Murray State, was chosen "Miss Congeniality" and runner-up in the Plainsman Queen contest at Panhandle A. & M., Goodwell, Oklahoma. Nancy was chosen "Miss Congeniality" through popular vote of all the queen contestants and was chosen runner-up by her display of talent and beauty.

Nancy, an outstanding student on the Murray campus, was Commander of the Angel Flight, a cheerleader, and on the Dean's Honor Roll all four semesters. She worked in the athletic department here at Murray and is presently employed in the Chemistry department at Panhandle.

Nancy, an English major, plans to graduate from Panhandle and get her Master's Degree in Guidance and Counseling at a university.

Campus Capers

By Jacquita Perry

Congratulations, Murrayites, on the fine display of sportsmanship, skill (basketball players), and school spirit at the Tulsa games.

If you don't believe that Murray girls are observant at the basketball games, you should see their imitations of the members of our team. Pretty good, I'd say!

Warren Phillips is heartily welcomed back on campus after a somewhat prolonged absence due to illness. Glad to see you back, Warren.

Dean Cleveland likes to plan new Murray projects with plenty of room for expansion.

Some Murrayites carry the physical fitness program to an extreme. JFK didn't suggest running three miles through a storm!

Anyone can quit smoking; but it takes a real man to face cancer.

What does a dean of students do when a student dashes ink on his clean white shirt? Don't try it--just ask Patty Smith!

Don't forget to submit your entries to the "Name our Mascot" contest. You might win ten bucks.

Sherman says thanks to the Pep Club for the white shirt and tie clasp presented him for driving the "Blue Goose" for members of the student body to all the football and basketball games. We would all like to say "thanks again" Sherman for taking your own time to drive the bus for us.

A LOSER'S LETTER TO YOUTH—

The following letter was written by Cliff Cushman, the silver medalist in the 400 meter hurdles in the 1960 Olympics at Rome who stumbled and fell in the 1964 U. S. Olympic Trials at Los Angeles and thus lost his chance to make the U. S. team. The open letter, addressed to the youth of Cushman's home town, Grand Forks, N. D., was reprinted in the Grand Forks Herald after it had been read into the Congressional Record by Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.). In the belief that it might be an inspiration to young athletes everywhere, the letter is being reprinted here.

"Don't feel sorry for me. I feel sorry for some of you."

You may have seen the U. S. Olympic trials on television. If so, you watched me hit the fifth hurdle, fall and lie on the track in an inglorious heap of skinned elbows, bruised hips, torn knees and injured pride, unsuccessful in my attempt to make the Olympic team for a second time.

In a split second all the many years of training, pain, sweat, blisters and agony of running were simply and irrevocably wiped out. But I tried. I would much rather fail knowing I had put forth an honest effort than never to have tried at all.

MAKE PERSONAL OLYMPICS. This is not to say that everyone is capable of making the Olympic team. However, each of you is capable of trying to make your own personal 'Olympic team,' whether it be the high school football team, the glee club, the honor roll or whatever your goal may be. Unless your reach exceeds your grasp, how can you be sure what you can attain?

And don't you think there are things better than cigarettes, hot rod cars, school dropouts, excessive makeup and ducktail greascuts?

Over 15 years ago I saw a star—first place in the Olympic Games. I literally started to run for it.

In 1960 I came within three yards of grabbing it: this year I stumbled, fell and watched it recede four more years away. Certainly, I was very disappointed in falling flat on my face.

However, there is nothing I can do about it now but get up, pick the cinders from my wounds and take one more step followed by one more and one more, until the steps turn into miles and the miles into success.

I know I may never make it. The odds are against me but I have something in my favor—desire and faith. Romans 5:3-5 has always had an inspirational meaning to me in this regard.

"We rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us."

MANY YOUTHS UNHAPPY. At least I am going to try. How about you? Would a little extra effort on your part bring up your grade average? Would you have a better chance to make the football team if you stayed an extra 15 minutes after practice and worked on yourself?

Let me tell you something about yourselves. You are taller and heavier than any past generation in this country. You are spending more money, enjoying more freedom, and driving more cars than ever before, yet many of you are unhappy.

Some of you have never known the satisfaction of doing your best in sports, the joy of excelling in class, the wonderful feeling of completing a job, any job, and looking back on it knowing that you have done your best.

I dare you to have your hair cut and not wilt under the comments of your so-called friends. I dare you to clean up your language. I dare you to honor your mother and father. I dare you to go to church without having to be compelled to go by your parents.

I dare you to unselfishly help someone less fortunate than yourself and enjoy the wonderful feeling that goes with it. I dare you to become physically fit. I dare you to read a book that is not required in school.

SET SIGHTS ON STARS. I dare you to look up at the stars, not down at the mud, and set your sights on one of them that, up to now, you thought was unattainable. There is plenty of room at the top, but no room for anyone to sit down.

Who knows? You may be surprised at what you can achieve with sincere effort. So get up, pick the cinders out of your wounds, and take one more step.

I dare you!"

Sincerely,
Clifton E. Cushman

Barbara O'Dell sends message to all Murray Aggies

Barbara O'Dell, president of Pep club, said in a recent interview that even though school spirit has been high, attendance at the regularly called meetings has been low. "Conflicting meeting times and limited time available is a major problem," Barbara says, "as well as, the feeling that these meetings aren't important."

"These meetings are important,"

Barbara continued. "I believe we have had better school spirit this year than in previous years. I believe it will continue to improve with more participation on the part of the club members."

Pep club membership is available to all who wish to join. There is no discrimination, boys are invited to join, too.

The Hermitage, Russia's fabulous art museum, is said to have the world's greatest collection of modern art but no modern Russian paintings are exhibited.

SPORTS

Bob Nelson new assistant grid coach and head track coach at Murray State

Murray is the best, YES!!

Pre-game tension and suspense reigned supreme over the excited Aggie fans Saturday night at the Fairground Pavilion in Tulsa. As the Murray Aggies ran onto the floor lead by five lively cheerleaders, the group of students, faculty, and Tishomingo fans rose to the tune of the Murray School Song. Some were moved to tears, others were deathly silent, and others were ecstatic with anticipation of a possible victory.

The number of fans from Murray didn't quite top that of Bacone, but the loyal support of the band and the avid rooters rang loudly above that of the opposing team. As the game progressed, enthusiasm mounted to a surprisingly high climax. Coach Robbins made the excitement rise even higher by pacing the floor. The rhythm of the band was surpassed by the rhythm and grace of our basketball team. Many times the ball was swept gracefully away from Bacone and points were scored in succession by the Aggies.

Tears and cries of complete joy were seen and heard as the final buzzer rang. The crowd immediately ran to the floor to congratulate the "Pride of Murray State". After the enormous trophy and awards were presented, a tired but happy and satisfied group started the trip home with visions of a long hoped-for victorious trip to the National Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

Preston Parkers lead intramural volleyball play

After three rounds of intramural volleyball play, the Preston Parkers are leading the pack with an impressive three wins and no loss record.

The Short Speeders and the Bootleggers are tied for second place, each with a 2-1 record.

The game results were: Round one, February 8; Short Speeders over Faculty (forfeit) Preston Parkers over Bootleggers, and the Hen Pecks over the T-Birds. Round 2, February 9; Preston Parkers over Short Speeders, Faculty over Hen-Pecks, and Bootleggers over the T-Birds. Lakes Michigan and Huron have fallen to record low levels, 24 inches below average and 72 inches below the record high, reports the March Reader's Digest. Some geologists believe that the current warm dry cycle will prevail for at least another 200 years.

Outdoor Tips

By D. Day

Lying adjacent to Sulphur, a little town just 30 miles northeast of Murray College, is the one and only National Park in the state of Oklahoma. It is the smallest park in the national system, but always ranks in the top ten parks for numbers of visitors.

The park contains a little less than 1.5 square miles; nevertheless, in this small area are fresh-water springs, cold mineral-water springs, sparkling streams, wooded valleys, and gently rolling grass-covered hills—all of which combine to give Platt National Park unique beauty.

Summer is the busiest season, but the first two weeks in April, when the rebud is in bloom, and the late Autumn, when the park's heavily wooded sections display their colors, are two especially interesting periods for visiting.

Platt Park has over 30 flowing springs, with the two largest, Buffalo and Antelope Springs, flowing five million gallons of water per day.

Some things to do are: picnicking, with many tables and fire places; camping—two large campgrounds provide more than 100 well-prepared campsites; swimming—many natural pools along Travertine Creek; and hiking—more than eight miles of trails provide access to all points of interest within the park. Two self-guiding trails have points of interest marked.

The museum, which contains exhibits and tells the natural history of the park, has a park naturalist on duty from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily to answer questions and explain the features of the area.

During the summer, every morning, a park naturalist leads a nature walk from the museum to the top of Bromide Hill, identifying plants and wildlife and pointing out objects of special interest.

One of the largest attractions is the ten buffaloes held in captivity. Another is the many different types of water: sulphur, black sulphur, bromide, medicine, and clear city water.

Statistics compiled show that the Park shelters 42 different types of mammals, 27 varieties of fish, 149 species of birds, and contains 36 assortments of trees.

The history of the park dates back to 1820 when the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians lived there. In 1878, the land became part of the ranch of Noah Lael. This was the beginning of the present town of Sulphur. By 1900 it was a thriving little settlement.

On July 1, 1902, Congress established Sulphur Springs Reservation and the settlement was moved north of the present park area. In 1906, the name was changed to Platt National Park in honor of Senator O.H. Platt of Connecticut, an outstanding member of the Committee on Indian Affairs.

yearbook-signing dance to be sponsored by The Tribesman staff upon the arrival of the finished product sometime in early May.

"Campus paths" is the theme of the blue-covered annual which will, this year, contain no advertisements due to the outstanding number of yearbook orders made by students at the first of the year.

Bob Nelson, a 32-year-old native of Tecumseh, will step into the position of assistant grid and head track coach at Murray State College.

The 1958 East Central State College graduate has been named to succeed Wayne Canaday, who moved up to the head football post when Benton Ladd resigned in January.

In addition to his coaching obligations, Nelson will also instruct Social Studies classes at Murray.

Presently, Nelson is head football coach and athletic director at Wilson High school. In the past two years his football teams turned in an overall record of eight wins against 12 losses. The 1964 club compiled a 5-5 mark and next season was anticipated as a better year for the Eagles.

"We've enjoyed our two years at Wilson," he stated. "But it was just an opportunity I couldn't afford to turn down. I feel like we'll be leaving some of the finest kids in Oklahoma."

Six in Family

The "we" refers to the Nelson family which totals six. Bob's wife, Betty, is enrolled at Murray College and is majoring in education. Their four children are two boys and two girls. They are 10-year-old Robert, 8-year-old Teresa, 6-year-old Rhonda and Jon, 4.

"We felt he was the best man for the job," Murray's head grid coach, Canaday declared, "I think he's a good, hard worker and will be a boost to us."

In 1950, Nelson graduated from Tecumseh High School where he was a sensational tailback. He still shares the school's scoring record of 39 points in a single game.

After graduating, he attended Oklahoma State University for one year before transferring to East Central State College. During the 1956-57 span he operated his own construction company and returned to graduate from college in the summer of '58.

Following graduation he moved to Alamogordo, N.M., where he was an assistant football and track coach. Two of the four years which he spent there, he was head track mentor.

In the course of his second season Bob was responsible for the backfield and offense. The team came through with an 8-2 season plus a victory over Clovis' state champions during the regular campaign.

It seems that the customary dry climate and sand storms in that part of the country irritated Nelson. He returned to Oklahoma in search of "greener" pastures.

Work concluded on '64-65 Tribesman

Murray's yearbook, The Tribesman, was completed for publication last Thursday, February 25. One hundred and four pages, including campus life, organizations, faculty, student body, ROTC, sports, administration, and campus favorites have been drawn up and submitted by staff members up for printing to the American Publishing Company. Plans are being discussed for a BIG "STICK" Grant goes up for a difficult shot in Murray's game with Eastern February 22. The shot was good and Murray won the game 73 to 66, to share the conference championship with Eastern.

England hits 24 as Aggies push record to 18-4

Murray Aggies, fresh from a close win over Eastern, had to really catch fire in the second half to sink Northeastern 72 to 69, here at Tishomingo, February 25, to finish their regular season at 18 and 4.

The nationally ranked Aggies, looking very sluggish and easy going, found themselves behind by one, 69 to 68, in the last minute of play. Then "Stick" Grant hit a field goal and Alvie Nelson added two free throws with 5 seconds left to ice the verdict.

Mistakes made the Aggies look ragged, as traveling violations were called throughout the contest.

Those in double figures were: Grant with 15, "Boone" Jordan with 12, and England leading the parade with 24 points.

Heading scoring for Northeastern was Hodge with 16, followed closely by Brooks with 15.

Mexico is the only southern republic where industry and agriculture are outrunning the population. Its population growth is approximately three percent a year and its economic growth 6.3 percent compared to 4.6 percent in the United States.

Murray Aggies behind the net-singeing pace of Lewis Lillie, and "Stick" Grant in the second half, swept into a tie for the JUCO conference championship by blasting Eastern 73 to 66 at Tishomingo, Monday, February 22.

After playing to a 37 to 37 stand-off during the first 20 minutes, which saw the lead seasaw back and forth between the teams 5 times, with 10 minutes left Grant dumped in one of his 7 of 8 shots of the night to put Murray ahead to stay 50 to 48. The Aggies built up a 10-point lead with 4 minutes left and held on for the victory.

Lillie led the Aggie cause with 20 points, while Grant contributed 14, all in the second half drive.

Parkhill selected as Rodeo Queen

The Rodeo Club met Tuesday, February 17, to discuss plans for their forthcoming rodeo. Mr. Nute McCarty was selected as this year's producer.

Calf roping, ribbon roping, bull riding, girls' barrel racing, and bareback bronc riding are some of the events scheduled in this year's competition.

At this time the Rodeo Club elected the annual Rodeo Queen and her attendants. Those selected were: Julie Parkhill, queen, with Joyce Childs and Rosemary Bentley serving as attendants.

The Rodeo Club is still open for new members.

Letters about Russia

Editor's note: The following story is a continuation of an article began in the last issue of the AGGIELITE. It concerns Mrs. Patsy Hutchens, a Tishomingo resident and Murray alumna, and her revelations of the unusual movements of a family (hers) that could also be termed most unusual. Our thanks are extended to both Mrs. Hutchens and to the story's author, Mrs. Murrelle Mahoney.

The Boddes, Patsy's aunt and uncle, have traveled widely and speak several languages. Mrs. Bodde, who teaches Russian at Bryn Mawr College, has written fascinating descriptions of modern life in Russia, in letters to Mrs. Hutchens.

Mrs. Bodde visited Russia on a tour with the World Women's peace organization. The Russians showed great friendliness and curiosity about the visitors. The desire for peace is uppermost in the minds of the people, Mrs. Bodde wrote, and stems from the hardships, fatalities and privations, and the demolishing of many of their cities and towns, in the last war. In spite of having no voice in electing their government, the Russian people have a strong faith in it and a sense of being a part of it. Mrs. Bodde remarked that it seems a paradox that we, who elect our government, have less confidence in it and sense of 'identification' with it than the Russians with theirs. They also have complete confidence in the press and radio, though it gives them only one side of the news, consistent with Marxist-Leninist theory.

She noticed a great change in the speech of Russians of today. The vast difference in speech between the upper and lower classes is gone, and all speak a more or less grammatical, uniform Russian. This she attributes to the success of the universal education system which was begun after the Revolution.

Children Polite

The politeness of children is striking, she writes, and the obedience expected of them seems almost 'Victorian.' School children under 16 are not allowed in the movies after 10:00 p.m. (American teenagers, take note!)

The Minister of Education told the visitors that the "development of such traditional virtues as kindness to others, courage, love for parents and country, and love of work is the aim of the 10-year school." This, he stressed, "and was the aim of educators the world over."

Mrs. Bodde was greatly impressed by the interest in cultural affairs, with bookstores, museums, theatres, etc. always crowded. On the other hand, there is gross overcrowding and in sufficient housing; a scarcity of clothing, vegetables and fruit in the stores, and the feeling that 'buying something is a privilege.'

In spite of this, she says the old apathy, laziness and melancholia of the Russian people is gone. They are more optimistic, purposeful and positive in their outlook today.

"Orderliness, quiet behavior in public places, politeness in crowds, testify to a great degree of self-discipline. Despite the 1,240 passengers jammed on our 16,000 ton Black Sea boat, including hundreds to deck passengers, there was surprisingly little noise and no jostling or any disturbance."

Interested in Jazz

"We did admire the cleanliness of the streets, gorgeous Moscow and Leningrad subways, beauty of Kremlin churches and Leningrad palaces, the number of parks and profusion of flowers. We were amazed at the great interest in jazz among the young people."

"I met my mother and brother after 20 years of separation. It was a great and joyous experience for us. Mother is a very tiny old woman with bright eyes and a ready smile. Life was full of hardships when they arrived from China in 1947. Now, however, conditions are much improved. My favorable impressions were definitely checked by the unsatisfactory living conditions. My family lived four in a one-room house, in a suburb of Leningrad totally destroyed during the war and partially rebuilt since. It was very sad to part at this time, but we did so on a hopeful note of a possible meeting in the future."

Certainly millions of Americans join the Russians in the belief that it is time their hopes for the future and their desire for peace are realized.

Phillips returns after a month in the hospital

Warren Phillips, a sophomore from Mountain View, returned to Murray Wednesday, March 3, after being released from Presbyterian Hospital in Oklahoma City where he was treated for rheumatic fever.

Warren reported that he was a month behind in his classes and really had a lot of catching up to do. He wishes to thank everyone for their cards and letters and the Officers Club for their gift of a box of cigars.

The Aggieite wishes to extend a hearty "welcome back" to Warren and wishes him luck in catching up on his classes.

seven straight points in barely a minute in the middle of the first half that kept Murray from pulling away earlier.

Duane Kohlenberger topped Cameron with 17 points; Lonnie Sanders helped the loser's cause with 16. Daniel Jordan had 15, and 6-9 Hal Grant had 14 for Murray.

Murray hit 44 per cent from the field with 25 of 57 accuracy while Cameron was 42 per cent, 25 of 59. Each team got 45 rebounds. The Aggie's Louis Lillie topped rebounding with 10 while playing little more than half the game.

This was the third win of the season for Murray's Aggies over the big western Oklahoma school.

Aggies Avenge Loss

Awesome depth and terrific shooting easily carried the Murray Aggies past the first round of the Region II Tournament as they downed Connors 72-44.

Murray needed nearly a half to stave off stubborn Connors, which upset them three weeks ago 40-34. The Aggies reaped huge harvests against Connors zone defense and zone press with precision execution of passes that provided plenty of percentage shots. Murray hit 30 of 58 for 52 per cent from the floor and wiped the boards, 52-20. Connors, which had to play too much catch-up, hit only 28 per cent, 11 of 50.

Records Fall

Murray set two all-time Region II Tournament defensive records in the game: Allowing opposition least number of points-44. Allowing opposition least number of field goals—14.

Only three of the Aggies scored over 10, but there was little dropoff even when their bench was swept clean with over six minutes left to be played. Ardel England, Murray's 6-7 center from Oklahoma City Central, led scoring in the game with 16 points, and grabbed 14 rebounds. But two of his teammates—Louis Lillie and Boone Jordan—added 15 each.

Those three hit 20 of 28 field goals. England got 7 of 11 from underneath. Lillie dropped 6 of 9 from all distances, and Jordan collected 7 of 8, most of them from medium range.

Martin joins Murray faculty

Donald J. Martin

Donald J. Martin, county superintendent of schools for the past 10 years, will resign his position effective June 30 to accept a position on the staff of Murray State College, it was announced this week.

Martin is due to begin work July 1 at Murray State where he will do counseling work and supervise student loans, student jobs and student programs, as well as be an instructor in psychology. Martin received a bachelor of science degree from East Central State College in 1949 and a master of education degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1953. He has done additional graduate work beyond a master's at O.U.

Home Ec. class has double aim

In a recent interview with Betty Harkins, president of the Home Economics Club, concerning the luncheons and dinners prepared by the meal planning class, Betty stated the forthcoming plans.

Recently the class has prepared breakfasts, lunches and is now beginning dinners.

Betty says, "Two groups of girls plan a dinner and invite a faculty guest for each. The girls prepare the food, arrange centerpieces, and serve the meal when the guest arrives. One girl acts as hostess and the other the host."

The aim of the class is to better prepare the girls for planning nutritional, well-balanced meals that are economical as well as attractive.

Library needs old magazine issues

Mrs. Mahoney, Murray's librarian, asks that anyone possessing a copy, or knowing where to obtain a copy of any of the following magazines, please contact her at the library.

Good Housekeeping, April and July, 1963; Aug., 1964.
Natural History, Oct., 1964; May and Dec., 1963.

NEA Journal, June, 1963.
Science News Letter, Jan. 27, 13, 6, and Feb. 3, 1962.

Science Scholastic, March 13, 27, May 22, 29, Nov. 5, 25, Dec. 16, 23, 30, and Sept. 2, and 9, 1964.

These magazines are needed for binding purposes. Any help in obtaining them will be greatly appreciated.

New physical Ed. program to begin at Murray college

Murray's physical fitness program, now being expanded for the 1965 fall term, will offer no less than 21 semester hours for both men and women.

Along with varsity athletics, men will have a choice of tennis the first nine weeks, or an activities course, which will include personal health and first aid. Women may choose between softball the first nine weeks, or they may take an activities course which meets the full semester.

Physical education III will be devoted to developing personal hygiene, good posture, body coordination and an appreciation of sports.

Added to this, a well-rounded intramural program will be available to everyone who is interested. It will consist of touch football, volleyball, a cross-country race, basketball, softball, track and field and tennis.

These courses and activities will be under the supervision of instructors in Murray's physical education department.

Second semester courses will be similar to those of the first.

BULLETIN

An art exhibit is being held in the Murray College Library this week as a part of the college's observance of Art Week. The exhibit is produced by art students of Southwestern State College of Weatherford.

One who trims himself to suit everybody will whittle himself away.

"Don't buy me a bathing suit or anything, Mother, I don't think I'm going to enter that contest at all." I could almost hear Hazel Loffer on the receiver. "Why, Mattie?"

"Because all the kids on campus are teasing me about it, especially the boys; they're calling me 'Miss Sand Bass.'"

Mattie heaved a sigh and a moment of silence elapsed before, "Well, wait a minute Mom, I'll go ask the girls what they think I should do." She wasn't long in returning with her answer. "Okay, tell them I'll enter—now what did you say I'll have to do?"

And that concluded the moment of decision for Miss Mattie Loffer, a Murray College coed from Madill, Oklahoma. Until the very moment she was confronted with the idea, entering a beauty contest had been the most remote thing from Mattie's mind.

Like most fun-loving freshman coeds, Mattie has learned to mix business with pleasure. As a general education major, she carries 15 semester hours and is employed full-time in the College library. Among her favorite pastimes, Mattie includes water skiing, swimming in Pennington Creek and dressing hair.

The attractiveness of the 5'7½" blue-eyed blond was first acknowledged by the owner of Lyndia's Beauty Shop, Madill, who sponsored her entry in the annual "Miss Sand Bass Contest", which was held April 17.

Stiff competition was offered by fifteen hopeful entrants from Madill. One phase of the contest graded the sixteen contestants' dress and behavior at a tea which was held preceding the bathing suit trials. Mattie chose to wear, for this occasion, a simple pink dress of whipped cream material with

Summer session offers numerous varied courses

Students may pre-enroll for the summer session at Murray State College until May 15, according to Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean. Final registration will be held June 1, with classes beginning June 8.

The following courses will be offered: beginning shorthand, intermediate shorthand, production typing, fundamentals of music, music appreciation, English composition, introduction to literature, essentials of public speaking, general college mathematics, college algebra, plane trigonometry, general biological science, general physical science, American government, development of western civilization, American history, and freshman orientation.

New students who wish to attend Murray during the Fall semester may pre-enroll beginning May 3 until August 15. The 1965 Fall semester will begin on September 1 for beginning freshmen and returning students may register September 6. Classwork will begin September 7 for all students.

Campus awaits beginning of Sadie Hawkins Week

Fred Poe

New instructor joins Murray English faculty

During the coming year, Murray will have a new speech and drama teacher. Fred Poe, who is vitally interested in Speech and Drama, has taught English and Speech at Hartshorne High School for the last seven years.

Mr. Poe, a graduate of Gerty High School, Gerty, Oklahoma, 1955, received his Bachelor of Arts from East Central State College, 1958. He completed his Master of Teaching at East Central State College, 1963, and did graduate work at East Central the summer of 1964.

Serving as a judge for different speech contests has given Mr. Poe experience. He has also been a critic for one act play contests and festivals and worked as assistant host director for the National Phi Rho Pi Speech Tournament last year. (Phi Rho Pi is a national honorary forensics fraternity for junior colleges.)

Mr. Poe is a member of the Oklahoma Education Association, National Education Association, Oklahoma Speech Association, Alpha Psi Omega (National honorary drama fraternity) and the Free-Will Baptist Church. He was president of the Pittsburg County Education Association 1963-64, and has been Chairman and vice-chairman of the Speech Section Southeast District OEA.

Murray students and faculty extend a warm welcome to Mr. Poe.

Senators decide campus issues

A resolution was adopted by the Student Senate in a meeting held April 20th. The resolution was sent out by the Oklahoma State University Student Senate asking Murray's aid in getting the one cent sales tax increase passed. The resolutions will be used in the legislature to increase the chances of this issue being passed.

The Student Senate election was also discussed at this meeting. The election is tomorrow, April 28 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Other topics discussed included: Sadie Hawkins Week will be the second week in May. The week opens with a May 10th dance, sponsored by the Home Economics Club. Other activities throughout the week will be sponsored by the AGGIELITE staff.

A party for the Student Senate members and administration is being planned for the month of May. The party will be held at Anastasio's Pizza House in Ardmore.

Library Week has unique significance this year

National Library Week is being observed for the eighth time, April 25th through May 1st, 1965.

The purpose of National Library Week is to stress reading and library development in our state and to develop support for libraries in all of our 77 counties.

The present State Library is housed in the Capitol and is inadequate and in much need of repair. From the Oklahoma Council on Libraries a statewide survey reports that Oklahoma Libraries, particularly school libraries, rank very low in comparison with other states.

The proposed new State Library would be financed by the bond issue to be decided April 27th by the voters.

The State Library provides books and service for libraries in Oklahoma. It sends librarians to consult with school administrators in building and equipping libraries, providing guidance in book selection, arrangement, and many other services.

Did you bring your Sadie Hawkins Costume back? Well, if you didn't you are in trouble. Sadie Hawkins Week, sponsored by the AGGIELITE, is set for the week of May 9-13. This is the time of the year when the boys sit anxiously by the phone waiting for the girls to ask THEM for dates.

Lovely burlap dresses, dirty sneakers, and blackened teeth make up their appearance as a rash of girls develop their own "Sadie" ideas.

The second day, May 10, will be climaxed by a juke-box costume dance held on the tennis court. The Home Economics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rosalva Rainey, will feature free refreshments and prizes for the best costumes.

A slave auction will be held later in the week when the boys are given the chance to buy their very own Sadie Hawkins. These slaves have been known to wash cars, mop floors, carry books, or maybe help with difficult homework assignment.

Everyone is invited to test his imagination and skill to make this the best Sadie Hawkins Week ever.

Former students will be feted at banquet, May 22

All sophomores and former Murray students are urged to join the Association of Former Students before leaving Murray College this spring. A $3.00 fee will be charged all alumni. This fee should be given to Mr. Wood. Profits from the membership fee will go to the association scholarship fund and other worthwhile projects approved by the board of directors.

Everyone who joins will receive the AGGIELITE, a membership card, and a Murray Newsletter each month for the next year.

The banquet and dance for former students will be held May 22 at 7:30 p.m., with the sophomores as special guests. Registration will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the student center.

Prom is tonight

April 27th is the date set for the Spring Formal. The dance will be held from 8:00 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. in the gym. Either the "Misfits" or the "Vibrates" will provide the music. The attire for the dance will be After-Five.

Attention Seniors

To enable students needing financial assistance to attend Murray College, a number of scholarships, loans and student employment are available. For information on these, or other admission procedures, write to Ray Cleveland, Dean of Students. A sincere invitation is extended to anyone wishing to visit the campus.

YES, OKLAHOMA IS WORTH A CENT!

Today, Tuesday 27, is the day Oklahoma citizens will be voting on whether or not they want a one cent sales tax increase. If this sales tax does not pass, it will be a direct blow to the educational system of Oklahoma. It will mean that these people do not want to improve education in their state, and if it does not improve there will be a great exodus of qualified teachers. Furthermore, this bill will provide for the improvement of the mental, and penal institutions, soil conservation, commerce and industry, plus public safety and public health.

Passage of this bill will increase state revenue to more than $100 million for the next two years. Of this, Oklahoma schools will receive over one half of this amount. Higher education will receive an additional $18 million with emphasis on teachers' salaries and additional staff members which will enable the reduction of classroom size. Common or public schools will receive $35.2 million minimum which would provide for a $1,000 increase per year in teachers' salaries. The free textbook system in Oklahoma will receive an increase of $1.8 million. The state law provides that the state shall provide at least $4 per child for free textbooks and as of now, the price is slightly over $2 per child.

Education is the basis of our society and to have this education, we need qualified teachers. Oklahoma has these qualified teachers and in order to retain them, this bill must be passed. I believe the voters of this state will recognize the need of this tax and will vote YES today.

You ask, "Is Oklahoma Worth a cent?", to this I answer, YES, if it means the improvement of education, health and welfare of its' citizens.

A DEMANDING TASK

We, as college students, have a wide choice of what our future will be. It is entirely up to us. We are citizens of a free nation with no dictator to tell us what we must do or what kind of job we must perform, but to find satisfaction in life we must first understand ourselves.

Knowing yourself means that you are able to recognize your own qualities. It means that you change undesirable traits whenever possible and accept those you cannot change.

To better understand yourself you must develop a system of values, or a code of ethics, based on adult thoughts that are practical as well as idealistic. These values should include honesty in all phases of life, fairness and willingness to do more for others than you expect them to do for you. Above all, respect authority; acknowledge your own ignorance, and accept the differences of others without acquiescing to their beliefs.

You can approve of yourself only if you possess awareness and are tolerant and objective.

You must have hope to survive. You are growing and changing, with the better things yet to come. While growing, learn to cultivate the ability to control your impulses with vision of future consequences.

Last, and possibly most important, find and hold your own beliefs on God and reinforce them with continued searching thoughts.

New course in orientation heads fall term

An accelerated course in Freshman Orientation will be offered for first-time freshmen enrolling for the Fall semester at Murray State College.

The programs for freshmen begin September 1 and will continue through 3. Classes will last throughout the day for the three day period. The amount of credit given for the accelerated orientation program will be one semester hour. Formerly, freshmen participated in orientation meetings for nine weeks.

Students not participating in these new classes will be required to enroll in the nine weeks program.

Murray sophomores are strongly urged to join the Former Student's Association before graduation in May.

Instructor Jack Ridley is very perceptive; or perhaps it's possible that some students aren't quite as sneaky as they would like to think.

Some students are so interested in obtaining a good education that they take notes in all the classes.

A new series of debate topics have been chosen in Mr. Wood's argumentation and debate class. Subjects range from child psychology to foreign aid.

Louise McDonald is the smallest baritone in music class.

Betty Harkins finds it difficult to decide which is worse, being chased by a snake or falling off the dam. Oh, well, at least life is exciting around here.

Do you know how to catch an elephant?—act like a wounded pean.

All Murray students should actively support their baseball team. If baseball is a dying college sport, it is only because we are allowing it to be so.

Miles and Greenway are March's cadets

Cadets Bob Miles and Don Greenway were elected as the most improved cadets for the month of March, and were presented ribbons by Cadet Colonel Hale on the drill field, March 12.

Bob Miles is a 1963 graduate of Olney High School, and is a sophomore, majoring in mathematics. After graduation, Bob plans to attend East Central State in Ada.

Don Greenway, is a freshman from Grandfield, Oklahoma, majoring in water and land management. Don graduated from Grandfield High School in 1964.

Library adds new periodical files

Periodicals can now be quickly and easily found in the Murray library, thanks to recently purchased magazine holders. These holders vary in size to accommodate any type of periodical literature. Each bright red holder, known as a Princeton Periodical File, displays a typed card with the name, and dates of each copy contained in the file, for fast, efficient location.

Current magazines are arranged in alphabetical order in the periodical room in the college library. This room is located directly south of the librarian's desk in the front part of the library.

Library workers will affirm the fact that this modern method of periodical arrangement is much more efficient than the former method of stacking the magazine, tying them with string, and labeling each separate stack.

Murray is one of the few surrounding colleges which has adopted this up-to-date method of periodical arrangement.

Mrs. Joan Kimbrough, former Murrayite, has returned to Murray, this time as secretary to Deans Richard Murray and Raymond Cleveland. Mrs. Kimbrough graduated from Murray with a major of secretarial administration in 1953. While at Murray she was a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Mrs. Kimbrough's husband is owner of the Kimbrough Restaurant here in Tishomingo. They have a son ten years old.

She was employed as bookkeeper at Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation in Oklahoma City, and also the Oklahoma Employment Security Agency in Tulsa.

When asked of her current job, Mrs. Kimbrough replied enthusiastically. "This is the most interesting job which I've ever had and I enjoy working with the people and the students. Most of all I think it's a joy to be back here at Murray."

Questions about her hobbies raised these facts: she enjoys playing basketball, and, a trait almost unique today, she designs and makes her own clothes.

Murray and Eastern dominate all-conference selections

WILBURTON—Junior college basketball co-champions, Eastern Oklahoma A&M and Murray each placed three players on the 10-man all-conference team selected by Oklahoma Junior College Conference coaches.

The all-conference team included five sophomores and five freshmen. Five other players received honorable mention.

Eastern landed Joe Brown, 6-0 sophomore; Sammy Smith, 6-2 sophomore; and Don Oliver 6-4 sophomore.

Murray's Aggies, who won the regional and played in the national JUCO tournament, placed Ardell England, 6-7 freshman; Lewis Lillie, 6-3 freshman and Junious Simon, 6-1 freshman.

Oklahoma Military Academy followed with two players, Edward Donnelly, 6-2 sophomore and Tom Byrd, 6-2 freshman.

Northern top scorer, Ted Hardison, 6-2 freshman, and Connors' Jerry Walker, 6-3 sophomore, rounded out the 10-man team.

Honorable mention went to Dewey Grigsby, 5-9 sophomore, Connors; Lynn Harmeyer, 5-10 sophomore; Eastern; Alvie Nelson, 5-9 sophomore; Murray; Doug Nowell, 6-5 freshman, Murray; and Bill Maniss, 6-3 sophomore, Northern.

Eastern's Smith and Brown, Connors' Walker, Murray's England, Northern's Hardison and OMA's Donnelly were all unanimous selections on the all-conference team.

An All-Sports Banquet was held in the college cafeteria April 20th at 7:30 p.m. The banquet hosted all athletes from the football team, basketball team, track team, and baseball team. Many faculty members and the administration were present. The cheerleaders were also guests.

Special guests of the evening were Coach Sullivan, Athletic Director and basketball coach from Southeastern State College, and Coach Nelson and his wife, Coach Nelson will join the Murray faculty this next year as assistant football coach.

Following the dinner, Dean Cleveland proceeded as master of ceremonies. Coach Robbins then introduced Sullivan who spoke to the athletes about the competition met throughout life as well as on the athletic fields.

Roundballers begin intramural tourney

The intramural basketball tournament began Monday, April 26. Three teams, the T-Birds, Preston Parkers and the Lovers, have impressive 4-1 records. The T-Birds and the Preston Parkers are expected to take the two top spots in the tournament.

Some of the outstanding players in the tournament are: Dave Morrison and, Jim Godshy of the T-Birds; Billy Woods, "Gunner" Cochran from the Preston Parkers, and Jim Mihura of the Faculty.

Even though the Faculty does not have an impressive record because of several forfeits they will be a strong contender in the tournament.

Ags divide pair with Cavaliers

Aggies first baseman John Tadlock hammered the first pitch of the game over St. Gregory Centerfielder Gary Harback's head for a home run in the first game of a doubleheader Thursday, April 22, at Shawnee. The Murray nine went on to win the game 7 to 3.

James Blue, a shortstop turned pitcher, went all the way for Murray, allowing six hits and three runs.

Tadlock was also big man in the RBI department with three. Terry Elizondo and Blue led the Aggies in hitting with three hits in four trips to the plate.

The Ags outhit the Cavaliers 15 to 8 in the second game but came out on the short end of an 11 to 10 score.

Louis Lillie collected three hits in five at-bats, but the big power was furnished in the form of home runs by Robert "Scooter" Wyskup, Love Denton and Frankie Scott.

Chris Trueblood drew the starting nod for mound duty for the Aggies. He was relieved in the second inning with two on by Marvin Esmond, regularly an outfielder. Esmond could not check the heavy hitting of the Cavaliers and was relieved by Billy Wood, also an outfielder, in the third. Leftfielder Love Denton was Canada's next choice to go to the mound. Denton pitched the last five innings allowing only three hits, but became the losing pitcher after the Aggies tied the score at ten all in the seventh frame.

Cavalier catcher Garey Christian lined a sharp single through short after two batters had drawn walks in the eighth inning, and school was out for the Aggies.

Athletes turn style-setters in O Club initiation

During the Week of April 11-14 some of Murray College students were wondering why the athletes were running around in shirts with a big O in the middle and wearing shorts turned wrong side out, one tennis shoe with no sock and, on the other foot, just a sock.

Well don't panic, students, it isn't a new style. Its only a part of the initiation for new members of the "O" Club.

Track records fall at Murray prep meeting

Almost ideal weather for Murray College's annual track meet for high school athletes set the stage for some prep-school record shattering here recently.

Mike Ryles, Ada, bettered his own state record by 7 inches and heaved the shot put 63-7½.

Rip Van Winkle, Midwest City, went the 100 in 9.6 and a record that had stood for 32 years fell when he clocked 21.9 in the 220.

Other meet record setters besides Winkle and Ryles were Bob Warrmack of Ada, 13-3½ in the pole vault; Cline Johnson of Madill, 50.6 in the 440; and Jim Williams of Madill, 2:00.1 in the 880.

Capitol Hill's Robert Henson tied the high hurdles record of 14.9.

In Class A competition Midwest City was champion with 50 points. Other team scores were Ada 35, Norman 25½, Durant 25, Capitol Hill 17½, Ardmore 9, Duncan 8, McAlester 4, Shawnee 1, Del City 1.

In Class B, Broken Bow won with 28 points. Other scores were Madill 24, Walters 23, Marlow 18, Idabel 17, Marietta 12, Stroud 11, Ardmore Douglass 10, Sulphur 8, Hugo 8, Wetumka 8, Tishomingo 3, Lindsay 3, Chandler 1.

Tishomingo's points were won by Gary Wyatt who cleared 11 feet in the pole vault to take 4th place, and by Ronnie Hart who ran the 130 low hurdles in 21:3 and placed 3rd.

pink shoes to match and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid trimmed in burgundy.

On stage, the bathing suit finals included several typical questions such as, "Do you believe in going steady?", which were answered orally by each contender. Mattie, whose number was 28, wore a shocking pink one-piece bathing suit with a tie belt and pink heels.

Reaching the finals was a feat in itself; yet Mattie's delight was transported to astonished tears as the glittering title crown was placed upon her head.

The crown, impressive trophy, one dozen wilted long-stem red roses, $25.00 and the title, "Miss Madill", belongs to Murray's Mattie Loffer. Winning this contest has entitled her to appear in the National Sand Bass Tournament held in Madill this year on June 18.

From this exhilarating experience Mattie states she has learned that "Being oneself is far more profitable than putting on airs."

Engineering Dept. offers many areas of training

One of the outstanding features of Murray State College is its well equipped Engineering and Technology department. The department offers four specific branches of engineering: pre-engineering, drafting and design technology, Mechanical technology, and industrial arts education.

The pre-engineering and industrial arts education programs offer advancement for a degree as well as their flexibility for transferring to any numerous fields. The Drafting and Design as well as the Mechanical technology programs are of a two year industrial training program. Students completing this two year course of study are qualified to work a number of classified fields.

The latest additions include: overhead projector, blueprinting machine and newly installed drawing tables.

This semester thirty-two students are enrolled in the four different programs offered, with eight graduating this fall.

New drill team plans discussed

Tentative plans have been made to provide Murray with a new girls' drill team for the 1965-66 school year.

With the elimination of A.F.R.O.-T.C. from the school curriculum, the Angel Flight as a military group under the sponsorship of the U. S. Air Force must also be eliminated.

The prevailing feeling on campus is that the Angel Flight has done much toward promoting and representing Murray College, therefore we would like to continue the girls' drill team.

To continue the drill team poses many problems such as a new name, uniforms and how to obtain them, and seeking help to further the idea.

Anyone having suggestions pertaining to this activity and any returning freshmen girls who are interested in becoming a member of the drill team next year, please contact Janie Hudson, Sue Harrison or Patty Smith as soon as possible.

Angel Flight members tour Texas air base

Five members of the Angel Flight, Commander Janie Hudson, Capt. Patty Smith, Lt. Sue Harrison, Rose Favors and Helen Nubine, along with Major Charles Shockley made a tour of Sheppard Air Force Base located at Wichita Falls, Texas, on Friday, April 16.

The girls and Maj. Shockley were met at headquarters by Assistant Personal Officer Lt. Kenneth Horwedge who was their main guide and source of information.

The first stop on the tour was a trip to the Space and Missile section where the girls were introduced to the Thor, Atlas I and II, and the Titan I and II missiles. Another attraction was a small scale replica of an underground missile site.

Following lunch in the Officers Club the girls were taken through the W.A.F. section of the base by W. A. F. Lt. Lucille Balen.

The last stop on the agenda was a tour of the B-52 Stratofortress bomber and the KC-135, a plane designed to refuel other planes in the air.

Balladiers plan May schedule

Murray's folk singing group, the Balladiers have an engagement to present an assemblé program at Wilson High School in Wilson, Oklahoma.

On May 7 they plan to perform at Rush Springs High School near Lawton, for their junior and senior banquet.

Spring is here with usual cheer

Spring, one of the most alive seasons, can be summed up by a poem of an eleven year old:

"Spring is here, and Bringing Good cheer.
Robins chirp,
Frogs burp."

This new aliveness can be seen in almost every aspect of campus life. To begin with, the campus is dressed in its full regalia of greenery. Secondly, students can be seen socializing in front of the student union or seen sitting on the steps of their dormitories. Pennington creek lures many of the students to its beaches for an afternoon of sun bathing and swimming. At the rodeo arena, the Aggie students are working hard preparing for their upcoming rodeo. In the sports scene, baseball and track require the attention of avid fans. Even the girls get their taste of summer sports, with the beginning of tennis class. Spring is felt in campus politics. This is the time of posters, campaigns and the election of Student Senate officers. Students find that this atmosphere of spring causes them to have that dreaded disease, "spring fever". It is hard to buckle down and study plus having to give undivided attention to the class lectures. But all in all, spring is a time of aliveness and it is a wonderful feeling to be a part of this aliveness.

You cannot build a reputation on things you are going to do.

Angel Flight in Action ---

Murray AFROTC units will participate in Pauls Valley pageant on May 8

Murray College's AFROTC marching units will participate in the Miss Pauls Valley pageant parade, May 8 at Pauls Valley. The band, drill team, Color Guard, and Angel Flight will march before an expected crowd of over 8,000 people beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Along with these special units, officers of the AFROTC unit will drive the cars in which the candidates will ride. These include Danny Gibson, Don Neal, Eldon Archer, Bill Pace, Ronnie Stinson, Don Hale, Russell Wells, Jesse Felan, Junior Faris, Dan Orr, and Harley Stewart.

This event is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Pauls Valley. According to Mrs. Beverly Mackey, pageant chairman, "This is Pauls Valley's first attempt at anything of this type, and everything possible is being done to make it one of the best in the state."

Danny Gibson, Don Neal, Jesse

Felan, Harley Stewart, and Dan Orr will escort the five finalist the night of the pageant, and will also escort them to the dance afterward.

Mrs. Mackey also observed: "We certainly appreciate all the aid and cooperation given to us by Murray College, and their AFROTC program. Without their help the parade would probably be just like any other. But their appearance enhances the chances of it being different to anything seen here before."

Koehler wins presidency in senate race

Mark Koehler
President

Paula Robinson
Secretary

Roger Aucoin
Vice President

Koehler, Aucoin and Robinson elected in near record vote

Mark Koehler, a math major from Wanette, has been chosen in a special student body runoff election, held on May 5, as the President of the Student Senate for the 1965-66 term. His opponent was Preston Parker, Phoenix, Arizona. Mark is active in Phi Theta Kappa, Engineer's club, and is a pitcher for Murray's baseball team. While at Murray, Mark has succeeded in being named to the President's Honor Roll and is one of the top ten academic students.

The office of vice-president was filled by Roger Aucoin, who was unopposed in the election. Roger is from Baton Rouge, Louisiana and is majoring in general education. He is President of the "O" club, freshman class Reporter and is a member of the football team.

Paula Robinson, elementary education major from Tishomingo, was unopposed for the office of Secretary-treasurer. She is a member of Angel Flight and Phi Theta Kappa.

Retiring officers are Dan Gibson, President, Tishomingo; Paul West, Vice-President, Lexington; and Kerry McKee, Secretary-treasurer, Tishomingo.

NUMBER FIFTEEN

Pre-enrollment now open for fall, summer sessions

Students may pre-enroll for the summer session at Murray State College until May 15, according to Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean. Final registration will be held June 7 with classes beginning June 8.

The following courses will be offered: beginning shorthand, intermediate shorthand, production typing, fundamentals of music, music appreciation, English composition, introduction to literature, essentials of public speaking, general college mathematics, college algebra, plane trigonometry, general biological science, general physical science, American government, development of western civilization, American history, and freshman orientation.

New students who wish to attend Murray during the Fall semester may pre-enroll until August 15. The 1965 Fall semester will begin on September 1 for beginning freshmen and returning students may register September 6. Classwork will begin September 7 for all students.

'Exit interviews' required for all loan students

All students who have received the National Defense Student Loans are required to have an "exit interview" before leaving school. All sophomores and other students who do not plan to return to Murray College within the next year should attend this meeting. The meeting is to be Monday the 17th at 4 p.m. in room 206 of the Administration Building. Every effort should be made to attend. Those who cannot attend this meeting should meet with Jim Mihura, the business manager during the week of the 17th. Students who plan to return to Murray need not attend.

Orators find demanding competition in contest

Awards assembly set for May 19

On Wednesday, May 19, at 8:50 a.m., the administration and department heads will present the bi-annual Awards Assembly.

The top ten students will be recognized and each will receive an inscribed plaque. Also their will be Department Awards given by the department heads for outstanding work departments.

Check-out required for all students

Commuting students as well as dormitory students must check out through the Business Office before leaving school. This should be done on the last day that the student plans to be on the campus. Clearance forms may be picked up in the Business Office any time during the last week of school. Each student will need to be cleared of any charges pertaining to the library, ROTC, shop, chemistry, and dormitory, as well as his general account.

BULLETIN

This is just a note to remind all those Sophomores, who received letters concerning the Former Students Club, to please return their reply to Mr. Wood as soon as possible.

BULLETIN

Due to the number of activities scheduled during the month of May, the Murray Follies will not be presented this year. Students are urged to attend all of the activities planned for May.

Thursday, May 6, the first place winners from Murray, Eastern A&M, Southeastern State and Poteau Community Colleges competed in the finals of the Carl Albert Speech Contest.

The first place winner was Gary Lamor Royal, son of Rev. and Mrs. Vonley Royal, whose speech was entitled "A Proud American". Gary is a graduate of Muskogee Manual Training High School and is now a sophomore majoring in speech and drama at Eastern A&M College. He has had several major roles in play productions staged at the college. Gary is also the first place winner of the Junior College State Oratory which was held this year.

Paul Westbrook, a sophomore from Guthrie, majoring in speech and English at Southeastern State College, took second place with his delivery of "None Dare Call It Reason". Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Westbrook, won first place in the Southeast District Carl Albert Contest held last year.

Kay Meredith, represented Poteau Junior College, with her speech entitled "Illiteracy: On the Rise Among School Children".

Fifty dollars and a gold medal were awarded the first place winner. The second place winner received a silver medal. Both first and second place winning speeches will be published in the Congressional Records.

Thirteen entrants competed in the annual Carl Albert Speech Contest eliminations held at Murray College Monday, May 3. Fifteen dollars, ten dollars, and five dollars were awarded the first, second and third place winners, respectively. Ricardo Gonzalez, Camaguey, Cuba, secured first place honors with his oration entitled "Communism in Cuba". Second place rating went to Philip Dohrer, Dustin, whose speech was, "No Time for Narrow" (Continued on Page 2)

All-school picnic will be Thursday, May 13, at Sulphur

Thursday, May 13, has been designated as the day for the annual end-of-school picnic. This year it is to be held at the Vendome Plunge located in downtown Sulphur. Swimming will be the main order of the afternoon in the big pool; a dancing area is located nearby for those wishing to partake of such activity.

Five o'clock! That's the time to start for Buffalo Springs, on the east edge of Platt National Park, where the picnic style supper will be provided by the school cafeteria.

After eating, the rest of the day until 10 p.m. curfew, is open for swimming, dancing, or just relaxing.

Grab your I.D.'s; load your car with people and be ready for an old-fashioned picnic next Thursday.

Bids open for new buildings

Bids will be opened at Stillwater at 2 p.m. May 26 for the construction of the new cafeteria-student union and men's dormitory to be built at Murray College. The awarding of contracts will be at a later date, but construction should be underway early in June, according to Dr. Freeman McKee.

Murray choir plans assembly on May 18

Murray College will present a choral program on May 18th at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium. The mixed choir will present songs that they have been preparing throughout the year. The songs will range from classical to spiritual. Several of the vocal students will also present solo numbers.

Attention seniors

To enable students needing financial assistance to attend Murray College, a number of scholarships, loans and student employment are available. For information on these, or other admission procedures, write to Ray Cleveland, Dean of Students. A sincere invitation is extended to anyone wishing to visit the campus.

Martin receives Grant to attend Utah institute

Dr. Jerry Martin, head of the agriculture Department, has received a grant from the National Science Foundation to attend an institute on animal behavior at Utah State University, Logan, Utah. Dr. Martin is one of the forty participants who will be attending the institute beginning July 5 and lasting through August 13.

There will be a variety of topics under discussion, to name a few: "Basic Ethological Concepts", "The Modification of Behavior Through Experience", and "Comparative Neurology and Brain Structure". Dr. Martin received his Ph.D. from Oklahoma State University.

Dr. McKee receives state farm honor

Dr. Freeman McKee, President of Murray State College, was honored along with 31 other men by the Oklahoma Future Farmers of America.

Honorary State Farmer degrees were presented in ceremonies before the 39th Annual State Convention on the Oklahoma State University campus. It is the highest honor a state association of the Future Farmers of America can bestow on an individual.

To receive the degree, those honored must perform services outstanding not only in their own communities, but over a county, district, or state area.

Those chosen for the degree are recommended by Future Farmers of America Chapters. The men were presented certificates and golden keys by the State F.F.A. President, John Kusel, before a group of about fifteen hundred F.F.A. delegates and members.

AH! LIFE'S SWEET MEMORIES —

Life's sweetest moments are a person's saddest memories. Now that Murray sophomores are almost ready to graduate, many old memories pass through their minds. Many are "ready" to leave, many are very very unhappy about leaving. Once again they are at the crossroads of life and again the decision of what to do next faces them. Should he continue with his fifteenth year of school or should he drop out and take up another phase of life. The boys begin to wonder if "Uncle Sam does really need them?" The girls worry about whether they will ever become a wife and mother. One minute the sophomores seem very old; the next minutes they seem very young and incapable of making decisions for themselves.

All students will go their separate ways. In the coming year, the sophomores may meet again. Murray basketball and football players will perhaps play against their former Murray teammates. Students in pep clubs will yell against someone they had yelled for the previous year.

Lawrence Hawthorne sums up the general attitude of students of Murray College in his poem. "Leavin' the Old and Greetin' the New.

It's kind o' tough t' have t' leave
So many folks you've learned t' know,
An' have 'em grip yer hand an' tell
How much they hate t' see you go!
It's kind o' tough t' say goodbye
To the friends you've seen day after day—
It's hard t' break the happy bonds
O' comradeship an' move away.
It's hard t' pack up all yer things
An' leave a cozy home behind—

The place where joys have come t' you,
Where neighbors all have so kind.
An' when, at last, yer dearest pal
Is bein' brve, and' breaks right down—
It's kind o' tough, it's kind of tough!
So, it's a long farewell, old friends;
May God be mighty good to you!
Across the miles an' down the years
You'll find my friendship always true.
And now I turn with eager heart
T' meet whatever life extends
T' greet the folks that welcome me,
And try t' make them all my friends.

ON JUSTIFICATION, RATIONALIZATION AND SATISFACTION

It is—quite justly—expected of an editor that he make an evident contribution toward the finished content of his publication. This contribution almost invariably comes in the form of an editorial. Because it is something of an intruder on the news sheet, the editorial must take a back seat to the more important news items, and is, therefore, assigned to the retired regions of the paper. A good editorial should be aimed for one thing—information, or more explicitly, information that may be found useful.

This information is often misleading, as it appears many times as what seems to be little more than an assumption. But the point of contention is normally a situation that needs change or deserves objective attention. Because this is true the term "useful information" is certainly not misused.

Having justified my existence and the effort I am about to embark upon, my point of contention is as follows.

Many elements are needed to produce the collection of news put before you twice monthly but all can be sufficiently covered with the single generalization 'hard work'. The belief prevalent among the Aggielite staff is that the paper is scarcely read and that this work is somewhat pointless. If this is so, and the assumption is at least plausible, my work in editing and writing for your enlightenment and with the labor of the staff and reporters are indeed wasted.

Our time and effort are not expended in this manner because we lack enough tasks to occupy our time. The Aggielite is presented as a sincere attempt to inform all persons interested enough to read it. If the news is of an inferior quality, whose fault is this? We do not create the news; we merely interpret and translate it into print. Sometimes hasty and a bit careless, we do not claim infallibility, but it is our thesis that the college paper is noteworthy, and, should you find it uninteresting, this may well be due to your own self centered attitude. Is this not true?

ness". An inspiring speech on "Americanism", delivered by Lee Nance, Ardmore merited the third prize.

Other contestants and their topics were Carolyn Green—"Effects of Communism in a Free World"; Sue McDaniel—"The Fast Spread of Communism"; Gilbert Sanders—"Discrimination and the American Indian"; Tommy J. Smith—"Freedom How Long!"; Paul Stewart—"The Price of Freedom".

Also entered were John Ames—"20th Century — The Troubled Years"; Mike Estes—"Ring the Bells of Freedom"; Odus Brown—"A Look at Communism"; Anson Shuman—"Are You Guilty of Taking Your Country for Granted?" and James Pace with "The Door and the Key".

Air Force ROTC has now been updated to fit into today's busy undergraduate schedule.

Here are the facts about the new two-year AFROTC Program.

Who is eligible for two-year AFROTC? Any male undergraduate who still has two years remaining in college. It's an especially good break for junior college students who plan to complete their baccalaureate requirements at a four-year institution.

What's the curriculum like? It's been thoroughly revamped. You won't find pat answers and traditional ritualized solutions to problems. New instructional methods teach the student to arrive at his own conclusions, and to test them against those of his classmates and instructors. Symbolic of the change is the new title—Department of Aerospace Studies.

How will students for the new program be chosen? First, you must pass the Air Force Officer Qualifying Test and have a medical examination. Then you meet with the interview board of senior Air Force officers, who will decide whether you are to be selected to attend the Field Training Course. This will be held during the summer before your junior year. Its purpose is two-fold; to let the Air Force judge you and to let you judge the Air Force. Only after you are both satisfied will you be enrolled in the program. So you see, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by applying now. But you must act fast—applications will be closing for next year's juniors. Forms are available from the Professor of Aerospace Studies, or from Headquarters Air Force ROTC, Maxwell AFB, Alabama.

As an AFROTC cadet, will I receive pay? Yes, you will be paid for the Field Training Course which will amount to approximately $120. During the school year, you will be paid $40 a month, and you will also get free uniforms.

Will I have a chance to fly while I am in AFROTC? Senior graduates are eligible for the Flying Instruction Program. This involves 36½ hours of flight training and 35 hours of ground school. Successful completion earns you a civilian private pilot's license.

UP AND DOWN THE SIDELINE

By Don Neal

The recent dispute between the NCAA, and the AAU is becoming more and more serious. It is beginning to look like the gap is widening instead of returning to the tranquility of the old days.

In a recent meeting of the fathers of the two groups which are involved in this controversy nothing was solved. It is becoming quite apparent to this reporter that the breach between these two groups is widening thus seriously damaging the U. S. track and field team for this Summer's duel with the Russians.

Randy Matson the mammoth Texas A&M Shotputter will not be allowed to compete in the meet because he would be ineligible because of the meet's not being sanctioned by the Track and Field Federation and this is not possible because the AAU reserves the right for sole sanctioning of the meet.

In the last meeting nothing was settled, and nothing will be settled until the childish attitudes of both parties involved are changed, and until they are, the track and field teams that represent the United States will be considerably weaker.

Connors and Fort Smith down Aggies in tourney

Connors' Aggies squeezed past Murray in the first round of play in the Region II tournament by the score of 3-2, May 5, at Miami, Oklahoma.

Pitcher James Hubble limited Murray to only two hits until the sixth inning when he issued a walk and gave up singles to James Blue and Billy Wood followed by doubles by Love Denton and John Tadlock for two runs.

Losing pitcher Terry Elizondo only gave up seven hits, but didn't get the support he needed from his fielders as Murray committed four fielding and throwing errors.

Ft. Smith Junior College downed the Aggies in the second round of the double elimination tourney 5-2, on a home-run by catcher Jim Bridges. Aggie secondbaseman Robert Wyskup exhibited the only show of power with the bat for Murray by hitting a homerun in the fifth inning with Mark Koehler on base.

T-Birds down Lovers for basketball crown

Bacone tops Ags in twinbill loss

Bacone's snappy pitching, and sharp hitting buried Murray in a twinbill, 6 to 0, and 11 to 0 at Tishomingo fairgrounds, April 28.

The Bacone pitchers checked the Aggies on five hits in both games while the team from Muskogee was rapping out 12 runs on 17 hits and 8 Aggie miscues.

Love Denton went the route in the first game, and picked up the loss, his second against no victories. Pierce was the winner for Bacone.

James Blue started the second game, and Shannon Saxon came on in the second. Blue took the loss, and Lawrence was the winner for Bacone.

In the final game of the intramural basketball tournament The T-Birds downed the Lovers for the championship by a score of 38-32.

The T-Birds drew a bye in the first round of the tournament then met the Faculty in the second game and pulled out a close victory in order to reach the finals.

The Lovers earned a berth in the finals by beating the Preston Parkers in a thrilling game that saw the Lovers with a one point lead when the final buzzer sounded.

Jim Godsey, Norman Cochran, and Dave Morrison led the way for the T-Birds with 10 points apiece.

James Blue was the leading scorer for the Lovers with 12 points. Mark Koehler and Dale Beets followed with eight each.

This tournament ended the intramural basketball for the Spring semester. Softball teams are urged to start organizing for the softball action.

Outdoor Tips

By Donald Day

Nestled in the heart of the Arbuckle mountains just south of Davis, Oklahoma, is Turner Falls Park, a favorite of visitors from all over the United States for nearly 100 years.

Fed by pure mountain springs, Honey Creek flows downhill carrying clear blue water rushing over rocks until it cascades 77 feet over majestic Turner Falls, the most famous waterfall in Oklahoma. This water forms Turner Falls pool where sandy beaches and a modern bathhouse invite the visitor to swim and relax.

Each year hundreds of geologists and students make trips to study the wonders of the rock formations which tell the ancient story of the years before man discovered this beautiful place.

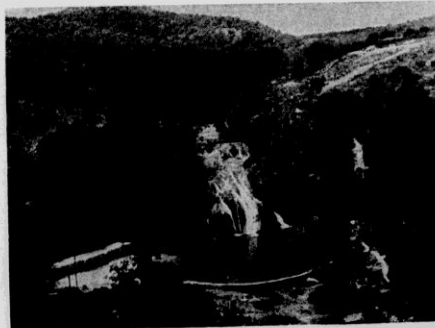

To find how Turner Falls received its name we have to go back to Virginia and May 8, 1840, the year that Mameph Thomas Turner was born. At the age of 21, he joined Gen. Nathan Bedford Forest's Virginia regiment of cavalry in the Confederate army. Following the Civil War, he lived four years in Desoto county, Mississippi, and on March 20, 1869, left Memphis, Tenn., enroute to Oklahoma, Indian Territory. There he settled at Tishomingo, Indian Territory, near Pennington and Blue creeks. In 1870 he started his search in the Arbuckle Mountains for a "great water fall" which was described to him by an Indian. Late in 1870, Mamephah Turner settled in Dougherty, Oklahoma and then discovered Turner Falls, which was later named for him. He was the first known white man to see the falls. He had also learned from the Indians that bees and wild honey were plentiful in the area. When he had confirmed this, he called the stream Honey Creek.

Married twice, both of Turner's wives were Indians. Turner owned at one time all of the Arbuckle mountain area, due to land grants given his wives and children.

Turner was active in the campaign for statehood for Oklahoma and was the first representative of what is now Murray county.

Mamephah Turner died Aug. 29, 1920, and is buried in the Dougherty cemetery.

Turner's name will always be known in Oklahoma because of the location, climate, and surroundings of Turner Falls Park. The park is a year-round recreation spot for the camper, sight-seer, hiker, or explorer.

Aggies split with Eastern in JUCO doubleheader

Murray college banged out 11 hits and scored 10 runs as they split a doubleheader with the mountaineers, 10 to 2, and 1 to 12 at the Tishomingo fairgrounds April 24.

Mark Koehler went the route to take the win in the second game as four men collected 2 hits each for the Aggies.

The damage was done in the fourth inning, as the Aggies sent 12 men to the plate and scored eight runs to give Koehler a cushion that he never needed.

In the second game the Aggies never could get started as they went down 12 to 1.

Tony Coffey, the hard luck boy of the staff took the loss.

Murray State College held its annual rodeo, May 6, 7 and 9. The events included: Calf Roping, Bull Riding, Bronco Riding, Girl's Barrel Racing, Ribbon Roping, Steer Wrestling and a Wild Horse Race.

This year's Rodeo Queen was Julie Parkhill, a Mannsville sophomore majoring in Secretarial Administration. Her school activities include a two-year membership in the Angel Flight, Vice President of the Pep Club, Secretary-Treasurer of the Rodeo Club and Secretary-Treasurer of Poe Hall. Also she has been selected as "Playgirl" of the Sophomore Class of 1964-65.

A parade was held in downtown Tishomingo, May 8, beginning at 4:00 p.m. Roundup Clubs were invited to compete for a $500 prize to be given to the best performing club.

Trophy buckles were given in all the events and an all-around buckle was given to the person with the best money winnings.

The producer of this Year's Rodeo was Mr. Nute McCarty of Pauls Valley, Oklahoma.

Also on the program was a Businessman's Calf Tying and a Girls' Bull Riding as added attractions.

The paid attendance for the three days was $600 according to Mr. Blair, Rodeo Club sponsor.

The names of winners in each event were not available at the time of printing for the Aggelite, but they will be published in the next issue.

Season on boys closes Thursday

Sadie Hawkins Week began with a juke-box dance sponsored by the Home Economics Club. The dance was held last night at the student union.

Other activities for the week are to include a sack race in front of the student union at 12:30 p.m. today and the slave auction which will be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in front of the union.

The week of fun will end with the All-School picnic which will be held at the Vendome in Sulphur on Thursday, May 13th. Remember girls, now is your chance to ask your "favorite boy for a date!"

AFROTC Cadets visit Florida Base

Thursday, April 29, 30 ROTC cadets accompanied by Dr. McKee, Dean Cleveland, Dr. Martin, Mr. Pearson and Major Shockley departed from Ardmore Air Park in a C-124 airplane for a base visitation trip to Tyndall Air Force Base, Panama City, Florida.

After about four hours flying time the group arrived and was taken to their quarters. After lunch, the cadets were free, and all the base facilities were open to them.

Friday, the cadets were conducted on a tour of the Air Defense Command Installation, which included air craft control and warning squadrons. The cadets watched take-off and landings of F-101, F-102, F-106, and T-33 aircraft.

The cadets then received a weather briefing and a lecture on training for emergency bail-out and survival.

Saturday the cadets were free and transportation was furnished to Long Beach, Florida, where everyone went swimming in the Gulf.

The group started their return trip around 1:30 Sunday evening aboard a C-124, and arrived in Ardmore at 5 p.m.

Engineers visit Halliburton Corp.

April 27, sixteen members of Murray's engineering and technology department visited Halliburton Corporation in Duncan, Oklahoma.

At 11:15 the Engineers were taken to the Chisholm Trail Hotel where they were guests of Halliburton for a steak dinner. Immediately following they visited the Research and Developments Technological Center. Here they were introduced to hydraulic fracturing, chemical research, x-ray identification, x-ray of crystal structures and thermo analysis. According to the engineers, "It's a trip we will never forget."

Campus Capers

By Jacquita Perry

When it was unofficially announced that Murray campus was getting new parking decals, Kerry McKee wanted to know what kind.

Scissors have been madly snipping in the girl's dorm in preparation of Sadie Hawkins week. The results are amusing and sometimes almost unbelievable. Boys, be prepared for anything!

Ray Bennett has an unusual pet. It is brown, small, soft, and gentle; however, few people want to hold his tarantula.

The weather has been terrible for swimmers. Maybe English reports can be in on time now.

Bruce Wilson is to be congratulated on his willingness to pose with not one, but five aggressive young Sadies.

Richard Melot, a Murray graduate now majoring in agriculture at O.S.U., visited our campus during the Future Farmers of America Interscholastic Meet. Melot is now doing his practice teaching at So-per, Oklahoma.

Fun reigns supreme at Poe Hall party

Bessie Poe Hall held its annual dorm party Thursday, April 29, at the Elks Lodge, northwest of Tishomingo.

Co-sponsors of the affair were Mrs. Amelia Pountner, Poe Hall house director, and Mrs. Alma Majerkurth, house director of Betty Fulton Hall.

The party began at 5:00 p.m. with a hamburger fry and continued with various other entertainments.

Special guests were: Ronnie Stinson, Lone Grove; Pat Stinson, Marietta; Tommy Hammond, Grandfield; Jim Mayberry Lexington; Alvie Nelson, Grant; Tony Metcalf, Wanette; Kenneth Batey, Idabel; and James Jones, Shawnee.

The guest list also included Ardell England, Oklahoma City; Frankie Scott, Dallas; Harold Grant, New Orleans, La.; Ronnie Howard, Gene Autry; Darrel Weast, Stratford; Darrel Archer, Dale; Ricky Robb, Shawnee; and Marion Simpson, Harrah.

Patton Hall holds hamburger party

Oh no, I couldn't possibly eat another bite! But I'm on a diet! All this was the rule of the night for the inhabitants of Patton Hall on May 4 when the girls held their semester party.

A feast of hamburgers, Cokes, and potato chips was brought up after 10 o'clock so the girls could have food to study by.

College offers seven as nominees for Who's Who

Who's Who Among Junior Colleges is an award given this year for the second time throughout the nation and the first time at Murray College. This award is given to nominees selected by the separate junior college faculty members, on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and ability.

Murray college has submitted seven nominees for this national award. The seven students are as follows: Janie Hudson, who attended Tishomingo High School for three years before graduating from Harrah High School in 1963.

As a freshman at Murray, Janie received the honors of Homecoming Queen and Honorary Cadet Colonel. She has been a cheerleader for two years and is now commander of the A.F.R.O.T.C. Angel Flight, an active member of Phi Theta Kappa, and a member of the Murray Balladiers. She has attained a high grade point throughout college. Janie plans to receive her next two years of college at East Central State College in Ada, Oklahoma. Aaron Hulstine, a graduate of Tupelo High School, who is a member of Phi Theta Kappa and editor of the Aggieelite. Aaron has placed on the top ten students academically for three consecutive semesters. Aaron, too, plans to go to East Central where he will major in English. Kerry McKee, who graduated from Tishomingo High School. Kerry has been a cheerleader for two years, is now a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Secretary of the Student Senate, and a member of Murray's folksinging group, the "Balladiers", for which she won the title, "Most talented sophomore girl." She plans to further her education at Ponhandle A&M. College in Goodwell, Oklahoma. Floy Sliger, a graduate of Madill High School who has been a cheerleader for two years, is also the Secretary of Phi Theta Kappa, and has listed among the top ten students academically three semesters. Floy won the title, "Campus Sweetheart" last year. She plans to continue college at Oklahoma University at Norman, Oklahoma. Dan Gibson, a graduate of Tishomingo Schools, where he attended all twelve years of grade and high schools. Dan has achieved prominence on Murray campus as President of the Student Senate and a member of the Of-

SENATE PRESIDENT EXTENDS THANKS

In the AGGIELITE, Aug. 31, 1964, I stated, "... get up and get out and take part in the activities we have planned for you freshmen of 1964-65." Now let me commend you students of Murray State College, for a job well done. You have made the ascent from high school to the end of your first or second college year, and in doing so have learned to take responsibility along with the fun of college.

Now, after pondering this, let me with all sincerity and feeling congratulate you on your active part in the functions of a growing Junior college.

It was my aim as Student Senate President to initiate and increase activities this year with the help of the people at Murray. We have accomplished at last some of this. I hope next year the Student Senate will work in different fields as it sees fit.

A great deal of the responsibility of participating in the Student Senate is obscure to all but a few. I speak of the part of the individual Senator in the Student Senate. Without these people neither I or anyone else could run an effective student government.

In all of the statewide meetings I have attended this year, in the company of the larger institutions of the state, many have asked how we do our job so well and with so much independence. One answer to this is that I have a very civic minded Senate composed of able students. To them, to the administration of our school, and especially the sponsors of the Student Senate, who were the very best in advisors, workers and good friends, I offer a great deal of thanks and respect.

It is hard to put into words my feelings—so the best way I know is to say thank you very much to everyone associated with Murray State College for making my year as President of the Student Senate a complete pleasure and an unforgettable experience.

Dan Gibson

Dr. Robert Kamm to speak at Murray Commencement

Dr. Robert B. Kamm will be the main speaker at the Murray State Commencement exercises May 27th. Dr. Richard Murray will present the outstanding academic graduate award and the outstanding student in activities award following the commencement address. Diplomats will then be given by Dr. Freeman McKee, President. Reverend Leon Hill of the Tishomingo Baptist Church will give the invocation and Benediction. Gretchen Hixon will be the pianist. The vocal ensemble will present the musical selection "We Watching Over Israel".

Dr. Kamm received his Bachelor of Science Degree from the State College of Iowa, his Masters Degree and PhD. from the University of Minnesota. He came to Oklahoma State University in 1958 as Dean of Arts and Sciences and on February 1, 1965, was appointed as Vice President for Academic Affairs. He retains both positions at this time.

The following are the 1965 graduates of Murray State College: Jimmy Darrell Altom, Ada; John Evan Ames, Mannsville; Juanita Andrews, Harris; Eldon Roy Archer, Tecumseh; Kenneth Roland Bates, Idabel; Richard Charles Benedix, Harrah; Thelma Ora Bridgman, Madill; Alice Patricia Brown, Stonewall; Jimmy Bruce Carter, Coalgate; Jimmy Leon Chatham, Ratliff City; Johnnie Lee Cope, Macomb; and Jim Arthur DeLano, Healdton.

Other graduates are: Emil C. Farris, Jr., Shawnee; Elmo Gaines, Stroud; Eulice Daniel Gibson II, Tishomingo; Grady Martin Grib-

New vistas open for students of language

Dowling's Company of Oklahoma City installed the language laboratory recently.

This is the latest method of teaching a foreign language. It is also used by the shorthand classes and may be used by the drama and speech students.

There are individual booths which enable the student to listen and record. The teacher coaches them by use of an inter-communication system. Individual remedial work may be given to some students either with pre-recorded tape or with his own voice. Special tests may be given, requiring a group of students to record their responses to a given exercise.

Individual booths are equipped with earphones, a microphone, and switches for program selection. Four of the booths are equipped with tape-recording instruments.

The master tape containing the roll is placed on a central unit (console). Students all work at the same speed. The teacher can switch to an individual student to check his progress and make suggestion or corrections.

Some of the rules that are strictly observed in the laboratory are: Books other than language texts or pencils are not allowed in the laboratory and no experimentation with tapes or equipment is permitted.

Melvin Taylor, who has had experience in electronics, operates the switchboard in the afternoons for students who want extra laboratory work. This laboratory is a great step forward in the developing of language arts.

New buildings underway at Murray College

The approval of a $1,160,000 federal loan, granted through the Housing and Home Financing Agency of Washington, D.C., for construction of new facilities at Murray State Agricultural College in Tishomingo, has been announced from the offices of Oklahoma senators Mike Monroney and Fred Harris and Representative Carl Albert.

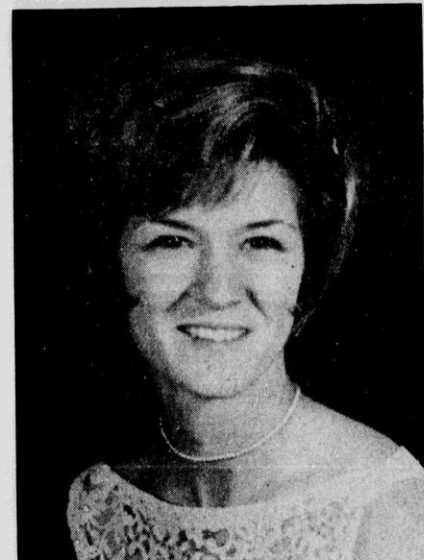

The loan will be used, chiefly, for the construction of a three story men's dormitory for 156 students and a combined student union and cafeteria. Also included are plans for the remodeling of the current student union and the basement of a Boys' Dormitory. These renovations will provide additional housing accommodations for 76 students. Architect for the new additions is Collins and Flood Company of Ardmore and McAlester.

Get a Whiff of This!

The most acute sense of smell exhibited in nature is that of the male silkworm moth which, according to German experiments in 1961, can detect sex attractant of the female at a range of 6.8 miles.

DR. FREEMAN MCKEE, President of Murray State College, is welcomed to the nation's largest regional educational accrediting agency, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Greeting him as a representative of a newly accredited school is Ralph C. Johnson, President of the North Central Association. Murray College was one of 68 schools to receive accreditation by the Association at the group's 69th Annual Meeting in Chicago last year.

Rodeo Club sponsors Queen of Homecoming

Former queen, Janie Hudson of Tishomingo, was escorted onto the field by Danny Gibson, president of the Student Senate, and Paul West, vice-president of the Student Senate. After a deliberate pause, Mr. Gibson stepped out and took the hand of Miss Dewhre, Gibson and West, placed the crown and presented a bouquet of red roses then gave the overjoyed Queen Jane an official coronation kiss.

Miss Dewhre, a freshman majoring in elementary education, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dewhre of Mannsville. Janie was the candidate representative of the Rodeo Club.

Murray's 2-0 victory over Northern College added considerably to the jubilation of Murray fans.

Immediately succeeding the victorious game, a sock hop sponsored by the Pep Club was held in Beames Hall, the College gym. The Al-lusions, a top-notch dance band from Ardmore, provided Murrayites with splendid entertainment and music by which to "cut the rug".

Spotlighting the 1964-65 College Year

Poe and Patton rig initiation for '64 Frosh

What are these girls dressed for—Halloween? No. A masquerade party? No. Initiation? Yes, that's it! Murray sophomore girls in both dormitories thought that freshmen girls would remember their first year in college more vividly by observing a three day initiation.

It all started with a thundering of feet down the halls, the patterning of a running shower and a hearty "Heave ho, into the showers you go!" With rolled hair dripping and clothes water-soaked those frosh who had crossed the line of no return were recruited to the initiating posse. When this process was completed each wily freshman was handed a mop or broom and told to "clean up the joint" with no further ado.

For some girls this initiation was a novel experience; others were familiar with the goings-on. Nevertheless, each one burned night oil while diligently concocting a costume which would look terrible for the next day. Teachers were evidently delighted or shocked by the hour as bare feet pattered into classes. All eyes took in each ghastly hair-style of the day. Despite their peculiar garbs, the girls were cheerful and some were reportedly seen having a good time of it.

Western Week highlighted by Aggie dance

The week of November 2 through November 5 was designated as Western Week at Murray. Those students who wanted to, wore their western duds during Western Week. A dance, after the Eastern and Murray football games, was held in the Student Union and lasted until 12:00. During the dance a contest was held to determine who the best dressed western characters were. This is just one of the many different events that took place at Murray each semester.

Balladiers bid Au revoir at school assembly

January 6, the Folksinging group known as the "Balladiers" presented their final program for the student body. A member of the group, Gerardo Jimenez transferred to another college at the close of the semester.

"This Land is Your Land" opened the program followed by "Great Historical Bum". A selection from Peter, Paul, and Mary's folksongs, "Trials and Sorrows" was presented by the group. To end the program they sang, "On My Journey". And then as an encore they performed, "Oh, What a Beautiful City".

Folks who have little to do usually have a lot to say.

Give some people an inch, and they think they are rulers.

Open Season on men makes Coeds go "Sadie Hawkins"

Did you bring your Sadie Hawkins Costume back? Well, if you didn't you were in trouble. Sadie Hawkins Week, sponsored by the AGGIELITE, was set for the week of May 9-13. This was the time of the year when the boys sit anxiously by the phone waiting for the girls to ask THEM for dates.

Lovely burlesque dresses, dirty sneakers, and blackened teeth made their appearance as a rash of girls developed their own "Sadie" ideas.

The second day, May 10, was climaxed by a juke-box costume dance held on the tennis court. The Home Economics Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rosalva Rainey, offered free refreshments and prizes for the best costumes.

A slave auction was held later in the week when, the boys were given the chance to buy their very own Sadie Hawkins. These slaves have been known to wash cars, mop floors, carry books, or maybe help with difficult homework assignments.

Murray to be first Okla. Jr. College with marching band

Last year, Mr. Wood and Mr. Reid coordinated on the idea of forming a 40-piece marching band. This year the idea was realized and by next year it will be in effect. One of the main purposes in having a marching band is to increase pride in the school and to develop stronger school spirit. Another aspect is to provide a band for ball games and parades.

Oklahoma Military Academy is the only Junior College in Oklahoma that has a marching band, but this unit is composed of both high school and college students. Therefore, Murray will be the first Junior College with a complete college marching band.

The uniforms for the band will consist of matching blazers, slacks, white shirts and ties. The blazers will be furnished by the department and will have a school emblem. The blazers will serve a two-fold purpose: as uniforms for both the band and choir.

Also, as part of the band will be a drum major and majorettes, if the number in the band totals 40.

According to Mr. Reid, "A college with the enrollment of over 600 should be able to provide a 40-piece band. But in order for this to come about, it will take the co-operation of the entire student body. Without this help we are beat."

Mr. Reid asks that those who have participated in band, continue to do so. "The strength is in the freshmen this year who will participate next year. Not only do we wish to form a band but also to have a 60 to 80 voice choir. There are hundreds of students on campus who have participated in music in high school, who are not participating in college. This is not only to help the Music department, but it will benefit the entire school".

Phi Theta Kappa elects officers for next year

During the last meeting for this year, the Alpha Epsilon chapter of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society elected new officers for the coming year. The meeting was officiated by Ronnie Stinson, the current president, who then relinquished the office to the president-elect, John Alexander. Other officers elected were Darrell Archer, Vice-president; Clara Weaver, Secretary-treasurer; and Butch Norton, Social Chairman and Reporter.

The business included a nomination by Janie Hudson to combine certain officer's duties. This was passed by the members. Warren Phillips then defined this motion by making a motion that the Social Chairman and the Reporter be combined, and the motion carried.

A resolution was made by John Ames in order to call the member's attention to the fact that the club has not been very active this year. All members then pledged full support for more activity in the coming year.

Another resolution made it legal for a member to be removed from the club if he misses two consecutive meetings. This motion was passed by the members.

INITIATES ALL. These eleven students were initiated and accorded membership into Phi Theta Kappa at an April 7 assembly.

Eventful year ends ROTC stay at Murray

ROTC has a brighter side

The 20th Air Force ROTC group activated their program well for the 1964-65 term. This program was originated to train officers in reserve for the armed forces. A similar program was first used before the civil war.

For many cadets who qualify for advanced training, it was more than just an interesting course, it could mean a commission in the Air Force, and the start of a proud and interesting career.

Wells chosen Cadet Colonel; others selected

The 20th AFROTC group cadet officers for the first semester were announced at the beginning of the 1964-65 term.

Bob Wells of Harrah, Oklahoma was chosen to the highest office of cadet Colonel. The office of Lieutenant Colonel was held by Jerry Winchester of Maysville.

Cadet Majors were Operation Officer, Ronald Mills, Newalla; Administration Service Officer, Gilbert Sanders, Oklahoma City; Personnel Officer, Gerardo Jimenez, Taft, Texas; Stephen White, Ardmore, Inspection Officer; Don Neal, Davis, Information Officer; William Pace, Ardmore, Band Commander; Dan Orr, Madill, 40th Squadron Commander; Van Wilhelm, Amarillo, Texas, 41st Squadron Commander; Warren Phillips, Mountain View, 42nd Squadron Commander; and Dan Gibson, Tishomingo, 43rd squadron Commander.

The rank of Cadet Captain was held by: Eldon Archer, Tecumseh; Lynn Johnston, Tishomingo; Paul West, Lexington; Jessie Felan, Pauls Valley; Tommy Bennett, Gunter, Texas; Robert Hackney, Davis; Jim Delano, Healdton; Donald Henson, Kingston; Dewayne Miles, Coalgate; and Bruce Payne, Norman.

Cadet First Lieutenants were Kenneth Keeton, Ardmore; Larry Newville, Lexington; Gene Harris, Oklahoma City; Richard Benedix, Harrah; John Ames, Mannsville; Russell Wells, El Paso, Texas; Ronnie Mayo, Petrolia, Texas and Lonnie Mayo, of Petrolia, Texas.

ROTC program terminated after 15 years at Murray

The Air Force ROTC program at Murray College will be discontinued at the end of the current school year, Dr. Freeman McKee, college president, announces. Similar detachments at Eastern A&M and Northeastern A&M are also affected.

The closing of the detachments is the result of cutbacks in military spending which have been instituted recently. Although the program at Murray College will be closed, qualified students who desire to participate in Advanced Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps programs will still have the opportunity to do so. Qualified students from any college may enter into any two-year Air Force ROTC program upon completion of their sophomore year. Oklahoma University, Oklahoma State University, and land; Kenneth Dolezalck, Whitesboro, Texas; W. F. James, Mannsville; Phillip Dohrer, Dustin; Clauis Wade, Marietta; Larry Ellis, Ringling; and Forrest Pever, Shawnee.

Cadet Technical Sergeants were: James Lewis, Connerville; George Ford, Milburn; John Cope, Macomb; Emil Farris, Shawnee; Elmo Gains, Stroud; Grady Girgory, Broken Bow; Earl Scott, Waurika; and Alvie Nelson, Grant.

Tulsa University are three Oklahoma institutions that will offer the two-year advanced program.

Three Air Force personnel staff the detachment at Murray College. They are Major Charles Shockley, Professor of Aerospace Studies; Captain Bruce E. Medley, Assistant Professor of Aerospace Studies; and Staff Sergeant Dennis D. Jones, Administrative Assistant. The detachment has been operated at Murray College since the fall semester of 1951.

Dr. McKee commended the contributions made by the Air Force ROTC program to Murray College. Approximately 50 young men who had ROTC at Murray have completed or are currently enrolled in advance ROTC programs in colleges and universities throughout this region.

Sophomores qualify for advanced ROTC

Between the eighth and eleventh of February, fourteen cadets took physical examinations at Perrin Air Force Base, Sherman, Texas. This was the final requirement these boys needed for going into advanced ROTC.

The easiest thing in the world to do is to become discouraged.

Angel officers are announced

Angel Flight members met in the gymnasium Thursday, October 1, with Major Shockley and Commander Hudson presiding over the meeting. Student Senate representative, Patty Smith, brought a vote to order on the acceptance of a merit system which was compiled by those holding office in the Angel Flight, Cadet Colonel Bob Wells and Lieutenant Colonel Jerry Winchester. Favor was shown the system by a unanimous vote.

Commander Hudson presented a novel approach to furthering publicity of the Angel Flight as an active group on campus. This was the suggestion: That Angel Flight members don full uniform at least once a week from 8 a.m. until 12 a.m. Members considered the idea as a worthwhile experiment; thus they voted to wear uniforms on the following Tuesday, October 6th.

Following the voting and discussion, Major Shockley was called before the group to announce those officers chosen to be in command the first semester. Patty Smith of Lone Grove was announced as Captain. Next in rank was Lieutenant Sue Harrison, Terral Ramonia Hertel, Milburn; held the rank of Sergeant.

Expense of time is the most costly expense there is.

Linda Moore is selected Honorary Cadet Colonel

Murray's R.O.T.C. Coronation Ball was held in Beames Hall, Saturday night, December 19. The gala affair was inaugurated by a receiving line composed of Group Administrative Officer, Gilbert Sanders, Cadet Colonel Bob Wells and Jenna Hellock, Dr. and Mrs. Freeman McKee, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Murray, Dean and Mrs. Raymond Cleveland, Major and Mrs. Charles Shockley and Captain and Mrs. Bruce Medley.

Linda Moore, freshman from Harrah was crowned Honorary Cadet Colonel by Cadet Colonel Bob Wells.

The 20th AFROTC Cadet Group officers were selected for the spring semester. Don Hale of Antlers, was chosen to the highest office of Cadet Colonel. The Executive officer was Lieutenant Colonel Dewayne Miles of Coalgate, and Warren Phillips, Cadet Major from Mountain View was named special assistant to the Cadet Commander.

Cadet Staff Officers for the semester were: Operations Officer, Dan Orr, Madill; Administration Services Officer, William Pace, Orlando, Florida; Personnel Officer, Gilbert Sanders, Oklahoma City; Group Inspection Officer, Eldon Archer, Tecumseh; Information Officer, Ronnie Stinson, Lone Grove. Squadron and Special Units Commanders were Cadet Majors, Lynn Johnston, Oklahoma City; Larry Newville, Lexington; Don Neal, Davis; Russell Wells, El Paso, Texas; Dan Gibson, Tishomingo; Jessie Felan, Pauls Valley.

Murray places 9th in National Tournament

The Murray Aggies earned a berth in the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas, March 6 by winning the Region II Tournament at Tulsa.

The Pride of Murray State wound up the regular season play ranked number fourteen in the nation overall, and sixth in the nation on defense.

Murray's first opponent in the National Tournament was Kilgore Junior College of Kilgore, Texas, on March 17. The fine Kilgore team had won 29 games this season and lost none. They ranked as the number two team in the nation, and averaged 96 points per game throughout the season.

Aggies Romp Over Bacone
Murray's Aggies held Bacone scoreless more than seven of the final 11 minutes, then got enough free throws and easy baskets off their delay game to upend last year's Regional Champs, Bacone, 71-54, Saturday night for the junior college Region II basketball championship.

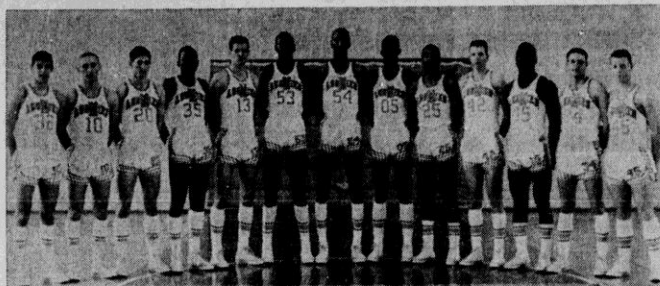

About 1,100 in the Fairgrounds Pavilion at Tulsa watched Murray drop nine charity tosses down the stretch after three inside buckets in two minutes had given the tall and talented Aggies a bulge of 19 points with 6:06 left.

Murray's Daniel "Boone" Jordan topped all scores with 21 points. The 6-1 freshman from Houston was named the tourney's Most Valuable Player on the strength of his 51 points in the three games and outstanding defense work.

Jordan and Louis Lillie bombed Bacone from outside with 14 jump shots. Lillie hit 6 of 11, and Jordan 8 of 13 to render Bacone's 1-2-2 zone defense almost useless. Lillie hit 14 points for the night.

In addition, Jordan also held Bacone's high scoring Bennie Price to only four points in the initial period. Price broke lose in the second half to top Bacone with 15 points. John Smith added 13, and Jack Vernon 10.

In the championship game, Louis Lillie hit five straight distant jumpers in the last 4½ minutes of the first half to help Murray into a 12 point lead.

With Lillie and Jordan hitting their long jump shots over Bacone's zone defense, Murray threatened a runaway. But that was before Bennie Price hit two quickies for Bacone in less than 20 seconds to cut the lead at half time to 32-24. Lillie hit 5 of 8, and Jordan 4 of 8, all but four of Murray's first half buckets.

Murray hit 25 of 58 from the field for 43 per cent and dominated rebounding, 53-31. Bacone hit 34 per cent, 20 of 58. Murray's 6-9 Hal Grant topped all rebounders with 13. He had 12 points, Junious (Sleepy) Simon was close behind with 11 rebounds and 12 points.

Jordan and Lillie receive honors
Jordan won another honor other than the MVP award. He was selected as a member of the All Tournament Team along with Louis Lillie of Murray, Bennie Price and Chico Donovan of Bacone, and Randy Brooks of Northeastern.

Murray Downs Cameron Again
Doug Nowell, Murray's 6-5 forward from Savanna, Oklahoma, hit 15 points in the second half to carry Murray past Cameron 77-68, in a semi-finals match Friday night. He dropped in six long jumpers after intermission to barely top scoring with 18.

Murray, co-champs with Eastern in the Oklahoma JUCO Conference, pulled away in the last five minutes. The Big Blue's lead crested at 17 points with about two and a half minutes left. It came on the heels of a six minute Cameron dry spell.

Duane Kohlenberger topped Cameron with 17 points; Lonnie Sanders helped the loser's cause with 16. Daniel Jordan had 15, and 6-9 Hal Grant had 14 for Murray.

Murray hit 44 per cent from the field with 25 of 57 accuracy while Cameron was 42 per cent, 25 of 59. Each team got 45 rebounds. The Aggie's Louis Lillie topped rebounding with 10 while playing little more than half the game.

This was the third win of the season for Murray's Aggies over the big western Oklahoma school.

Aggies Avenge Loss
Awesome depth and terrific shooting easily carried the Murray Aggies past the first round of the Region II Tournament as they downed Connors 72-44.

Murray needed nearly a half to stave off stubborn Connors, who upset them three weeks before 40-34. The Aggies reaped huge harvests against Connors zone defense and zone press with precision execution of passes that provided plenty of percentage shots; Murray hit 30 of 58 for 52 per cent from the floor and wiped the boards, 52-20. Connors, having to play too much catch-up, hit only 28 per cent, 14 of 50.

Records Fall

Murray set two all-time Region II Tournament defensive records in the game: allowing opposition least number of points-44. Allowing opposition least number of field goals—14.

Only three of the Aggies scored over 10, but there was little dropoff even when their bench was swept clean with over six minutes left to be played. Ardell England, Murray's 6-7 center from Oklahoma City Central, led scoring in the game with 16 points, and grabbed 14 rebounds. But two of his teammates, Lillie and Jordan, added 15 each.

Those three hit 20 of 28 field goals. England got 7 of 11 from underneath. Lillie dropped 6 of 9 from all distances, and Jordan collected 7 of 8, most of them from medium range.

All great achievements start from dreams, but you have to wake up.

Murray stomps Cameron again

The Murray Aggies took another giant step toward proving they were one of the best teams in Region II February 20 by downing a tough Cameron team at Lawton 84-69. This was the Aggies second win of the season over the big school.

Cameron came out in a zone defense to start the game, but the accurate outside shooting of Sleepy Simon, Alvie Nelson, and Lewis Lillie made coach Dale Roark change his strategy quickly. The Aggies hit only 36 percent of their shots from the floor, missing most of the inside shots, but outscored the hotter shooting Cameron team who hit 43 percent, 42-39, in the first half. Little Alvie Nelson led the way the first half with 14-points.

What probably proved the turning point of the game came in the first 2-minutes of the second half when Lillie and his long-time schoolmate, Boone Jordan, equally divided 8-points. At this point, the Cameron team seemed to let down, and never came closer than 10 points to The Pride of Murray State the remainder of the game; and, at one time, with 1:20 left in the game, Murray held a 84-64 lead.

Throughout the game Sleepy Simon brought the Murray boosters to their feet time after time with his crowd-pleasing play.

The loss brought Cameron's record to 14-win, and 7-loss Murray rose to 16-4 for the season with two games remaining.

Peaceful coexistence: Perpetual commotion.

Aggies triumph in first round, 67-55

Oklahoma's best, the Murray Aggies, defeated the Kilgore Rangers of Kilgore, Texas, 67-55, in the first round of the National Junior College Tournament at Hutchinson, Kansas.

The Aggies and the Rangers were cold during the first half, both from the field and from the foul line. Murray hit only six of 12 free throws in the first half and eight of 37 field shots for a miserable 22 per cent. Kilgore bagged 11 of 36 shots from the field for 31 per cent, and five of 10 free throws for 50 per cent in the first half.

The score at the midway point was 27-22 for Kilgore.

One of the teams was bound to thaw, and it was the Aggies who came back with 13 of 25 for better than 50 percent from the field after the intermission. Kilgore remained in the deep freeze, canning only 12 of 34.

It took the Aggies eight minutes of the second half to tie the score, getting the all-even count, 34-34, on a pair of free tosses by Ardell England.

The score was then tied at 36-38, 40, and 42 before successive goals by England and Sleepy Simon gave the Aggies a 46-42 edge with seven minutes remaining.

The Aggies went into a control pattern. Kilgore promptly came out of its tight under-the-basket defensive alignment, and the Aggies just as promptly went into a weave that opened the lanes and invited fouling. Kilgore had to take its chances on fouling, and did.

The Aggies bagged 19 of 23 free throw chances during the second half, and hit both shots in six one-and-one situations in the final seven minutes.

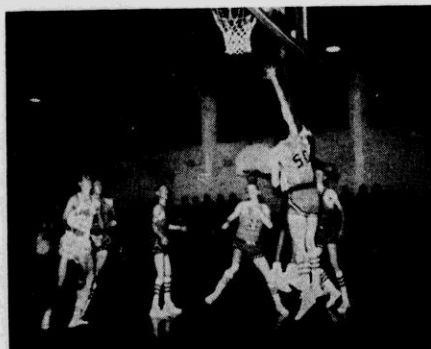

Ardell England led all Aggie scorers with 18 points. Alvie Nelson and Dan Jordan scored 14 each and Louis Lillie bagged 12.

Donald Kruse, Kilgore's 6-8 All-American center, fouled out of the game with 2:45 remaining and the score reading 60-49 for Murray. He took the game scoring honors with 25. Dave Gale scored 17 for the Rangers.

Don't always give you wife credit; she appreciates a little cash too.

LOUIS LILLIE goes high to hit a fadeaway shot in second night action of the Texoma Jucos Tournament. The above shot took place during a game with Paris Junior College in which the Aggies used a strong second half to give the Paris club their second defeat in as many nights.

ARDELL ENGLAND, 53, Aggie freshman from Oklahoma City, goes up and over Delbert Fuller, 56, of Connors for 2-points as Doug Nowell, won the game 61 to 53.

New physical Ed. program to begin at Murray college

Murray's physical fitness program, now being expanded for the 1965 fall term, will offer no less than 21 semester hours for both men and women.

Along with varsity athletics, men will have a choice of tennis the first nine weeks, or an activities course, which will include personal health and first aid. Women may choose between softball the first nine weeks, or an activities course which meets the full semester.

Physical education III will be devoted to developing personal hygiene, good posture, body coordination and an appreciation of sports.

In addition a well-rounded intramural program will be available to everyone who is interested. It will consist of touch football, volleyball, a cross-country race, basketball, softball, track and field and tennis.

These courses and activities will be under the supervision of instructors in Murray's physical education department.

Second semester courses will be similar to those of the first.

BULLETIN

Murray's baseball playing Aggies tied for the conference championship with Connors this year with a 5-won, 3-loss record in conference play.

This year's share of the championship crown ended a long dry spell for Murray in baseball. It marked the first time the Aggies have ended on top in over a decade.

Players who were members of the All-conference team: Shanon Saxon, shortstop; Lewis Lillie, thirdbase; and James Blue, outfield. Lillie and Blue are freshmen and Saxon is a sophomore.

Eldon Archer who graduated from Bethel High School. He is a member of the Officer's Club and has attained a high grade average. He is also very active in the Baptist Student Union.

Five out of these seven nominees will ultimately win the Who's Who Award. Winners will be notified by mail this summer and will be presented with a certificate.

Connor's relief pitcher Jim Deal walked in a run with none out in the bottom of the eighth inning, to enable Murray to earn a split of a conference doubleheader 4 to 3 here April 13.

The Aggies, after falling behind 3 to 1 early in the ballgame, found themselves playing catchup. In the bottom of the seventh, Louis Lillie singled and Shannon Saxon sacrificed Lillie to second, James Blue doubled to plate Lillie. Blue took third on a single by Love Denton, and Billy Wood bunted him home. It was a new ballgame after the regulation seven innings.

Terry Elizondo, set Connors down in order in the eighth inning, leaving it up to the hitters. Elizondo singled to lead off the inning and Lillie pushed him to second with a ground single between third and short, Deal then walked Saxon to load the bases, and James Blue came up with his second RBI of the day when he drew another base on balls to win the game.

It was a well pitched ballgame with Mark Koehler starting and Elizondo relieving him in the fifth to take the win. Tom Kinsey took the loss for Connors.

In the first game Connor's bespectacled Jim Mizell limited the Aggies to 4 hits, while striking out 11 batters to beat the Aggies 6 to 1. Taking the loss for the Aggies was starter Tony Coffey.

This left Murray and Connors deadlocked atop the JUCO standings with 3 and 1 records and raised their season record to 3 and 3.

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

The Administration, Faculty, and Staff extend to each student a welcome to Murray State College.

Many changes and problems face each of you in your college program. During these times of national and international unrest, your college work becomes more and more important. May we urge you to put forth an extra effort to get the maximum benefit from your academic endeavors.

The doors of the Administration and Faculty are open to aid you in every way. Do not hesitate to call upon us for guidance when you feel the need.

There will be a certain amount of inconvenience to you because of the building program, however. I know the benefits of the completed project will more than offset the period of inconvenience. We solicit your help in our continued growth. Take part in all the activities. Become a strong booster for YOUR COLLEGE.

Students who are interested in music, but have a conflicting schedule should check with Mr. Reid or Mr. Pearson.

Trio, ensembles, quartets, etc. will be selected from the chorus personnel.

If you like to sing and if you like to play an instrument, see Mr. Reid or Mr. Pearson. They would like to see you and talk with you about enrolling in band and or chorus.

Scholarships are available for students who would like to try out for piano accompanist for the college Music Department. Students who have accompanied high school vocal and instrumental groups are eligible. Interested students should contact Mr. Reid or Mr. Pearson as soon as possible.

BULLETIN

Students driving automobiles on the Murray campus are required to register vehicles in the Dean of Students office not later than 5 P.M., September 17. Cost of the registration and decal is 50c.

All automobiles not registered by September 17 will be given violation notices and required to pay 50c for the first offense; $1.00 for the second offense; and $3.00 for the third offense.

Tribesman staff needs workers

Students interested in working on the college yearbook, The Tribesman, should contact John Fletcher, sponsor, as soon as possible.

There are plenty of openings for students who are willing to work and have original ideas. Editor for this year's edition of the Tribesman is Joan Shuman.

By the work one knows the workman.

NUMBER ONE

Busy schedule planned for Murray students

The Student Senate of Murray College has planned many activities for the beginning of the 1965 college term. During "Freshman Week", September 1-3, a film and watermelon feast has been scheduled. The film will be shown Wednesday, September 1, at 8:00 P.M. on the campus lawn, north of the Administration building. The watermelon feast will be held Thursday, September 2, at 7:00 P.M. in PHI THETA KAPPA Park, on the west side of the campus.

Another film will be shown Tuesday, September 7, at 8:00 P.M., north of the Administration building. The Student Senate will host a dance on the tennis courts, east of the gym Thursday evening, September 9, from 8:00 until 11:00.

An all-college pep assembly will be held in the college gym Friday morning, September 10. The exact time will be announced during the first week of classes. All students are urged to attend this first pep assembly. The football players and coaches will be introduced during the assembly. The purpose of this gathering is to "build a fire" under the student body and team for the opening game of the 1965 football season against Dodge City, Kansas on the Murray field Saturday, September 11. There will be another pep assembly at 7:45 September 11, at the south entrance of the gym. All students are urged to unite at the gym not later than 7:45.

He that always excuses himself, accuses himself.

Don't cross a bridge until you get to it.

Orientation & Enrollment Schedule

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION, SEPT. 1, 2 and 3. All students pre-enrolled in Orient 111 and all first-time freshmen who, although not pre-enrolled, presumably will be enrolling in Orient 111, should report to the Gymnasium (Fieldhouse) at 8:30 a.m. on September 1.

ACT TEST. The ACT test will be administered Saturday, September 4, at 8:00 a.m. in Room 102 of the Classroom Building. All beginning students who have not had this test previously should report at that time.

REGISTRATION. Students who have not pre-enrolled should report to the Library on Monday, September 6, in accordance with the following schedule:

First Letter of Last Name	Time
A - K	8:30 - 11:30
L - Z	1:00 - 4:00

Procedure to be followed:

1. Prepare Schedule of Classes with assistance of faculty adviser.
2. Obtain Class Cards for all classes scheduled.
3. Complete enrollment in Registrar's Office (Admin 203).
4. Make fee payment in Business Office (Admin 201).

PAYMENT OF FEES. All enrollment fees must be paid prior to attendance at classes which commence Tuesday, September 7.

Category	Time of Payment
Pre-enrolled returning students	September 6.
Pre-enrolled new students not taking accelerated Orient 111	September 6.
Non pre-enrolled students	September 6 or after
Students enrolled in accelerated Orient 111 course on Sept. 1, 2, and 3	At scheduled times during the period of Orient 111 course.

The Vocational Rehabilitation representative will be in the Business Office on September 6. Any students attending college under Vocational Rehabilitation assistance should delay fee payment until that date.

Campus clubs need members

Murray Students are encouraged to participate in campus activities. Organizations are available to all full-time students. A full-time student is one who is enrolled in 12 or more semester hours.

Organizations recognized by the Student Senate are Music Club, Engineers Club, Aggie Club, Rodeo Club, Home Economics Club, Dramatic Club, Lettermans Club, Science Club, Art Club and Goal Diggers Pep Club.

Try-outs now open for new cheerleaders

Campus coeds who are interested in trying out for Aggie cheerleaders should contact Miss Jymme Sells, physical education instructor, as soon as possible. Try-outs will be held the first week of classes, so that the cheerleaders can prepare for the first home football game Saturday, September 11.

BULLETIN

Every student should check the bulletin boards and carefully observe the instructions for registration.

ALL students must pay their tuition before they may attend class and before they are officially enrolled.

Dormitory students are required to pay for their room and board IN ADVANCE, however this may be done in quarterly payments. These payments are due on Sept. 1, Oct. 1, Nov. 1, and Dec. 6. New cafeteria cards will be issued on these dates. If a student pays for the entire semester at one time he will be issued a special cafeteria card which need not be renewed during the semester.

Health insurance plan is available for all students

A Blue Cross and Blue Shield Insurance plan especially for students of Oklahoma colleges and universities is now being offered to Murray College students.

Any full-time student, enrolled for 12 or more semester hours in any accredited Oklahoma college is eligible to join the program. Dues for Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be $24.00 a year, payable $12.00 semi-annually.

Any student interested in this program should contact the business office as soon as possible.

WELCOME TO A FRIENDLY COLLEGE —

The AGGIELITE staff welcomes you to Murray College! The 1965-1966 year promises to be the best in the history of the college. All the ingredients for the success of this year are assembled—larger faculty, many new courses, new construction around the campus, plus good athletic prospects, scores of planned activities, and the largest enrollment ever! The final and most important ingredient of all, however, is YOU. Whether a sophomore who has successfully navigated your first year of college or a freshman just embarking on this new and different way of life, only YOU can make the success of this year a reality.

We congratulate you because you have selected Murray College as the first rung of the ladder of education. Perhaps you are not fully aware of the vast amount of opportunities that actually lie before you. They are here, nevertheless, in every phase of life on the campus. Educational, spiritual, and social opportunities that will develop your potential and contribute to your enjoyment of the months ahead. You have probably heard it said that "College is what you make of it". And you have heard all your life the admonition that "You only reap what you sow". These expressions may be worn, but the truth is still there. The keys to enjoyment and satisfaction are hard work, co-operativeness, and participation.

Another factor in adjusting quickly to college life is that of ceasing to identify totally with the past. This is a new environment and a clean slate. Here one does not wear his coat-of-arms on his sleeve, and there is no longer the security of parents position on which to trade. Past accomplishments are simply proud memories. Other students neither know nor care what your "crowd" did in high school. What you can do here and now is the matter of importance.

Try to visualize Murray as a small, but effective melting pot. Students from every background imaginable are suddenly placed on equal ground. Here, possibly for the first time, you are on a common level with every other person in school. At home, whatever progress you made was dependent, in some small part, upon the position of your family in the community and the set into which you were born. Here, if you possess any original worth—and most people do—it will have to show forth under conditions alien to the settled standards at home. This realization comes as a jolt to most freshmen.

The most popular realization comes early. They admit the those to whom this realization comes early. They admit the equality of every person whom they pass on campus, and they have a ready smile and a friendly greeting for everyone. After a very short time on Murray's campus you will discover that friendliness is the rule, not the exception, and that the term "Friendly College" is an appropriate one. As students on a friendly campus, let us make it our duty to know every other student. Let us forget that we belong to groups from one section of the state or the other, and devote ourselves to creating a spirit of togetherness so that we can each proudly say, "Murray is my college, I am a part of it."—L.A.W.

AS IT APPEARS TO ME

By Leslie Winburn

This is the first appearance of this column in the AGGIELITE. I would be pleased to receive (favorable) comments on it but if you don't like it, read it again in the next issue. Perhaps you'll change your mind. Because this is also my 'debut' as a columnist, all encouragement would be appreciated. As many of the returning sophomores will recall, last year a regular column, entitled "Campus Capers" kept everyone informed on current happenings around Murray. Although this column is a direct descendant of that one, I just couldn't bring myself to name it "Son of Campus Capers". With a classy title like that it might become nationally syndicated and put me in another income tax bracket!

The only source of material for this issue's column turned out to be the Activity Calendar for the first couple of weeks of school, so the following is "what's happening":

Murray's campus will be humming with activity as crowds of freshmen begin arriving for "Freshman Week". While attending the orientation classes will involve most of each day, evening entertainment will be provided by the Student Senate. Wednesday night, September 1, the movie "Diary of Anne Frank" will be shown and an All School Watermelon feed is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The following week will bring the arrival of the Sophomores and the beginning of regular classes. More activities are planned for that week, including another film, "Vertigo", which will be shown September 7 at 8:00 p.m. in front of the Student Center. The following Thursday, September 9, will find the tennis courts the scene of an All School Dance that will last from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m.

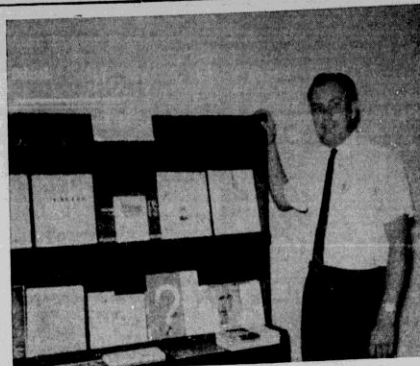

Save some of the wild energy you work up at the dance for Friday, September 10, by the way, so you can really take part in the Pep Rally that will be held in the gym. (Time to be announced later). This is in preparation for the first game of the '65 football season. The Aggies will play against Dodge City, Kansas on our field Saturday night and everyone is urged to be at the Pep Rally just prior to the game. Be at the north end of the football field at 7:45 with plenty of lung power. Support the team all the way by attending the rallies as well as the game!

Drivers! Be sure to get your car registered! It's easy to do and you'll avoid all sorts of complications if you get in and register early. The blue and white decals for your car are a brand-new design this year, and will easily identify you as a Murray student. Registration begins September 6 and the final day is September 17.

September 13 is the day chosen for the Faculty Dames Student Tea, which will be held from two until five o'clock in the afternoon in the home of Dr. and Mrs. McKee. All girls are invited to attend.

Loud mouths usually eat their words.

Sophomore expected to spark football season

Murray college football fans can expect a large number of returning sophomores for the 1965 season, according to Wayne Canaday, Head Football Coach.

If the last ball game of the 1964 season was any indication of the enthusiasm of the returning sophomores, then the Murray fans will probably witness a spirited ball team beginning the season against Dodge City, Kansas on the Murray field, September 11, at 8:00 P.M.

Returning sophomores are: Quarterbacks, Gary Lively, Baden, Penn., Marvin Esmond, Tulsa; Halfbacks, Lyndal Herin, Plano, Tex., Bobbie Smith, Houston, Tex., Billy Tuggle, Nocona, Tex., and Toni West, McKinney, Tex.; Fullbacks, Bruce Wilson, Cushing, and Ronnie Westfall, Marietta; Center, Don Day, Sulphur; Guards, Gary Buckner, Corpus Christi, Tex., Raymond Cotton, Hillsboro, Tex., Richard Grey, Plano, Tex., and Quinton McDaniel, Antlers; Tackles, Rodger Auction, Baton Rouge, La., Kelly Reeves, Anson, Tex., Ivory Young, Wynne, Ark., Robert Bowen, Fort Worth, Tex., and Jimmie Wolff, Cushing; Ends, Luther Campbell, Detroit, Mich., Billy

Wood, Midland, Tex., Bernie Mathias, Shreveport, La., Phil Belt, Corpus Christi, Tex., Larry McKinney, Cedar Hill, Tex., and Bryan Johnson, Houston, Tex.

The freshmen group of footballers were assets to their respective high schools during the 1964 season, but whether they will make the Murray team is up to them.

It is hoped by Coach Canaday that the enthusiasm of the sophomores will have an influence on the freshmen. The freshmen lineup consist of: Backs, Herman Crook, North East High School, Oklahoma City, Farris Strambler, Midland, Tex., Sherrill Neal, Davis, Larry Wood, Wynnewood, Dick Severson, Marlin, Tex., Tom Caskey, Wagoner, LaJoy Gains, Hobart, Terry Wood, Tishomingo, and Jimmie Hicks, Hobart; Line, Mike Jordan, Mt. Vernon, Tex., Chris Hankins, Ada, Ray Woods, Elk City, Mickey Peercy, Tishomingo, Bobby Wolff, Cushing, and Antoine Treadway, Shreveport, La.

Coach Canaday stated, "My staff, and the 1965 Aggies hope that they will have the support of the community and student body to add to a spirited season."

Give Big Assist

Newspapers and other advertising media will give space and time worth $264 million this year to public service campaigns of the Advertising Council, Inc. Launched during World War II, the Council is supported by contributions of from $100 to $15,000 from business men and companies.

Nature Goofed?

Nature seems to have goofed in designing the rhinoceros. He looks like a prehistoric monster. His legs appear ridiculously short for his great body. Two lance-like horns, one much longer than the other, just from his enormous head. He weighs more than a ton. He looks stolid, but he is a nervous wreck, with a nasty unpredictable temper.

Night classes organize Sept. 6

Enrollment for evening classes at Murray State College will be at 7:00 P.M., Monday, September 6 in the college library, according to Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean.

Interest has been expressed in organizing courses in art, typing, and modern math. A minimum enrollment of ten students is required for organization of evening classes. Cost per semester hour for evening classes will be $5.50.

Intramural teams organize Sept. 15

Intramural sports will soon be in full swing again and all teams are urged to get organized and ready to go. The teams must have at least seven players and not more than ten. The names of the teams and their members must be turned in not later than Wednesday, September 15, to the intramural director, Coach Gene Robbins. Robbins' office is located in the college gym.

The teams are not only for the boys, but girls also are encouraged to participate.

Students not participating are urged to turn out and take part in the sideline activities.

Benefits extend past age 18

There are many young people between the ages of 18 and 22 whose monthly social security benefit ended the month before the month in which they reached age 18. What is required for these young people to begin receiving monthly social security benefits again?

First, each young person must be a full-time student in an educational institution. Second, if the young person reached or reaches age 18 in July, 1965 or earlier, an application must be filed in order to receive the monthly social security benefits during the years age 18 through age 21.

Students who need information on Social Security benefits, should contact Homer Reese, Area Social Security Representative, who will be in room 209 of the administration building September 9, at 2:00 P.M. This is the office of Don Martin, college counselor.

Aggielite wants student news

The Aggielite staff encourages all campus organizations to turn in news items to the Aggielite office located in room 303 located in the Administration building. The staff wishes to point out that only the news of which they are aware can be printed. Your co-operation will be appreciated.

Science Club has many benefits for those who join

The student with an interest in science, whether as a hobby or career, is urged to join and participate in Science Club activities. According to the club constitution, students taking one or more science courses are eligible for membership.

Possible benefits for active members include such items as meeting with one or more visiting consultants in some professional aspect of science, field trips to installations of technical or applied science, attendance of an outstanding science symposium, and motion pictures of scientific activities.

Interested students should contact Mr. Paul Park, head of the science department.

Student employees report to Student Aids office

All students who have been assigned campus jobs must report to the office of Don Martin, director of student aids, for work slips authorizing campus employment. They must report not later than Friday, September 10, according to Martin.

Ten new instructors join Murray College faculty

Ten new instructors have joined the Murray faculty for the 1965-66 college year, according to Dr. Freeman McKee, president.

Howard Johnson will teach general physical and general biological science. Don Martin will be Director of Student Aids, Counselor, and teach psychology. Larry Milligan will teach art, and courses in history and economics. Bob Nelson will be track coach, assistant football coach, and teach courses in physical education. Fred Poe will teach speech, dramatics and English, and Patricia Robbins will be teaching courses in business.

Mickey Rowe will teach chemistry, and Jymme Sells will teach women's physical education and general physical science. Mary Ann Slack will teach English, and will also be assistant librarian. G. B. Stotts will teach in the Engineering and Technology Department.

Howard Johnson received his Bachelor of Science degree from Southeastern State College, Durant, and is completing his Master of Science in Biochemistry from Texas A&M. His home is Wister, and he is married to the former Geraldine Kirk of Stringtown, and they have a daughter, Mary Beth 3. Mr. Johnson has been associated with the Martha, Oklahoma, and Las Animas, Colorado schools as principal.

Mr. Milligan is from Hinton, and is married to the former Aida Ayala Vega of Toa Alta, Puerto Rico. They have two boys, Jeffrey 6, and Aaron 4. Mr. Milligan taught in the Lawton Public Schools and received his Bachelor and Masters degrees from Southwestern State College, Weatherford. He is an active member of the OEA and NEA, and his main hobby is outdoor sports.

Patricia Robbins is the wife of Gene Robbins, Athletic Director at Murray. Her home is Clayton, and she is the daughter of Mrs. Frona Standefer. She received her B.S. degree from Southeastern State College, and is completing her Master of Science degree from East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Robbins have two daughters, Kathy and Robin. Mrs. Robbins has taught three years in the Tishomingo Public Schools and worked as a secretary two years prior to teaching.

Mickey Rowe is from Tishomingo. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Southeastern State College and his Master of Science degree from the University of Oklahoma.

Mary Ann Slack received both her Bachelor and Masters degrees from Southeastern State College. She has taught in Mannsville, Temple, Russett, Lovington, New Mexico, Madill, and Dickson Public Schools. She has been an active member of the OEA, and NEA, and she and her husband Harold have two daughters, Karen 12, and Kay 3.

Jymme Sells is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sells of Wynnewood. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in physical education and natural science from East Central State College, Ada, and her Masters of Education from the University of Arizona. She is a member of the Methodist Church, and has been active in many organizations. She was selected to Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges, is a member of the Phi Delta Zeta Sorority, and is also a member of the Women's Recreation Association of America.

Mr. Stotts received his Bachelor of Science degree from East Central State College, and his Masters degree from the University of Oklahoma. He has also done graduate work at Oklahoma State University. He taught at Bray, Oklahoma and for the past six years has been associated with the Riverside Indian School in Anadarko. He and his wife Louise have four children, Gregory, Ronald, Barbara, and Timothy.

BEWARE, STUDENTS! Don't try to drive AROUND the college campus. It can't be done. The street between the library and classroom building has been closed. This area is being landscaped, and will eventually add additional beauty to the campus.

Students enjoy summer fun at Murray college

Students attending the 1965 summer session at Murray College had the opportunity to share in many summer activities.

Many of the students made daily trips to Pennington creek in Tishomingo to swim and sun burn.

A picnic and swimming party was held July 6 at Cumberland Cove on Lake Texoma. A steak fry and swimming-skiing was held at Cumberland Cove July 20. All of the college faculty and students attended.

Record enrollment set for fall term at Murray

Goal Diggers pan for members

Thursday, September 9, at 6:30 p.m. the Goal Diggers held a meeting to elect officers. The officers are President, Billie Anderson, Sophomore, Dibble, Vice-President, Mattie Loffer, Sophomore, Madill; Secretary and Treasurer, Joyce Childs, sophomore, Roff; and Student Representative, Carol Halsted, freshman, Ardmore.

Also at this meeting Sue Millisor, sophomore, Mount Vernon, Ohio, was appointed alternate cheerleader.

Monday night, September 13, at 6:30 p.m. a social gathering was held at Miss Jymne Sell's home for the Pep Club where it was decided that the members would dress in uniforms of blue Murray sweatshirts and slacks. Also, dues of a dollar a semester will be required of each member.

Before each ballgame there will be a pep assembly held outside the gym at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in supporting our athletic department and promoting school spirit is urged to join the Goal Diggers. If interested, contact Billie Anderson or Joyce Childs so you can come to our meetings every Monday night at 6:30 p.m. in the classroom building in room 102.

Tribesman staff members selected

The Tribesman staff had its first meeting Wednesday, September 8 in the office of John Fletcher, yearbook advisor.

Joan Shuman was appointed Editor of the 1965-66 Tribesman and Anson Shuman as Assistant Editor. Terry Coker was selected as Sports Editor, Paul Lambert as Student Senate Representative, and Loma Steele, Sue Xan Arnold, and Joyce Childs as typists. Other members "volunteered" to assist with the remaining sections of the yearbook.

The largest number of students in the history of Murray College has enrolled for the fall term. A record total of 641 had been reached by September 20 with another week of the enrollment period still open. Official figures will be released in the next AGGIELITE, following the close of this period. The previous high enrollment was recorded in 1938-39 when 595 students, some of whom were high school and vocational students, attended Murray.

A Lone Grove sophomore became Murray's 600th student this fall. He is Don Gardner, a Veterinary Medicine major who is planning to transfer to OSU for the second semester. Last year at Murray Don maintained a very high grade point average and was a member of the Rodeo Club.

In addition to the large number of Oklahomans and many students from other states who are on campus, Murray has also drawn students from the countries of Mexico, Peru, Iran, and Cuba.

This year larger numbers of people everywhere are beginning college or returning to college in pursuit of higher education and the benefits which it affords, and colleges all over the state and the nation are also expecting new records in enrollment. Two of the chief reasons for the increases will be the flood of "post war babies" who have reached college age and the influence of the stepped up draft call.

Everyone was trying to smile their best Monday, September 13, for that was the day individual pictures were taken for the Tribesman and for I. D. cards. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osborne of Osborne Studios in Stillwater, Oklahoma worked hard and did a splendid job.

The Murray students are to be complimented on their cooperation. There were approximately 575 smiling faces turned toward the cameras out of over 600 enrolled at that day.

For those students who missed having their picture taken, there will be make-up pictures taken September 27. On this same date, the students who have had their pictures taken will choose their proofs and make orders for the pictures wanted.

Anyone wishing to purchase one of Murray's yearbooks may do so when proofs are selected September 27. Four hundred and seventeen have already been purchased toward a goal of 450.

Girls drill team selects members; plans activities

Thursday, September 9, at 4:00 p.m. an audition for the Girls Marching Drill Team was held at the gym. Twenty-five girls, along with five alternates, were chosen to represent Murray State College at various events throughout the college year. The thirty girls were judged on poise, co-ordination, appearance and ability.

The judges were Mrs. Katy Rood, Mrs. Rosalva Rainey, Mr. Harold J. Winburn, Mr. Robert E. Pearson, and Mr. Jack B. Reid.

Costumes of flared short blue skirts, white long-sleeved blouses, a jacket of blue, white majorette boots, and a blue western hat will be worn by the girls.

Jackson will head B.S.U. activities for college year

Officers of the Baptist Student Union began the year's activities with an overnight 'Retreat' at Falls Creek, September 3. During this time a council meeting was held to plan events for the coming semester.

The 1965-66 BSU officers were elected and installed last spring. Chosen to serve as president was Mike Jackson, Sophomore from Stroud. Serving with him will be Lanny Hudson of Tishomingo, vice-president; Tom Freeman of McAlester, program chairman; Darrell Archer of Tecumseh, music chairman; Sammie Belcher of Wapanucka, noon-day chairman.

Also Donna Martin of Tishomingo, missions chairman; Billie Anderson of Blanchard, social chairman; and Janice Pace of Tishomingo, editor of the BSU newsletter. Faculty advisor for the BSU is Mrs. Katy Rood, speech and English instructor. Pastor advisor is Reverend Lovelace of the Madill First Baptist Church.

The officers sponsored an Open House all day at the BSU building September 6 and hosted some forty people at a pizza party that evening. The building is located one block north of the Murray campus.

Short 'N-on-Day' programs are held at 12:35 daily, and are dismissed in plenty of time for 1:00 classes. Vespers services take place each Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 until 7:00 p.m.

WHAT! THE "MISS AMERICA" contestants on Murray's Campus? No, it's just those "gorgeous" Poe Hall freshmen dressed for their two-day dorm initiation.

Womack heads Science club

The first meeting of the Science Club was held Wednesday, September 15. Fourteen members and the faculty sponsors, Paul J. Parks and Howard Johnson, were present.

Primary item of business was the election of officers in which Rick Womack was chosen president; J. R. Murray, vice-president; Glenda Godwin, secretary-treasurer; and Vandell Newville, Student Senate representative.

J. R. Murray is chairman of the Program Committee, and members are Peggy Cobb, Wally Hynes, and Don Bowles.

Poe Hall elects officers; stages frosh initiation

Mrs. Poynter, house mother of Poe Hall, called a dorm meeting September 8. The purpose of this meeting was to elect the officers for this year. Carol Genn, sophomore, Lone Grove, president; Bonnie McMurtry, freshman, Sulphur, vice-president; Linda Keith, freshman, Lone Grove, secretary-treasurer; Pama Summers, sophomore, Sulphur, Student Senate Representative, and Linda Herrell, sophomore, reporter, Pauls Valley, were the officers chosen.

Mrs. Poynter read the dorm ordinances to all 37 residents living in Poe Hall. At this time, the sophomores informed the freshman girls about their initiation duties, which included: wearing cut-off blue jeans inside out, shirts wrong side out, hair unrolled, bare-footed and wearing stockings with runners, for the first day.

The second day, they wore skirts upside down and wrong side out, one side of their face was made-up in Cleopatra style with hair in dog-ears.

"All girls not participating in the initiation will have to suffer the consequences," stated the sophomores.

Rodeo club elects officers; plans pony raffle

Forty-nine members joined the Rodeo Club at its first meeting on Tuesday night, September 14. Election of officers was held and Sonny Bentley was chosen president. Serving with him will be Van Chew, vice-president; Rosemary Bentley, secretary; Bonnie McMurtry, treasurer; Jerry Standifer, reporter; and Johnnie Harris, Student Senate representative.

The club will sponsor a raffle in which chances on a Shetland pony will be sold for one dollar. The drawing is to be held on October 9 during the second performance of the Johnston County Riding Club's two-day "Shodeo". Funds raised will be used in the Murray Club's future activities.

Meetings of the Rodeo Club have been scheduled for every second and fourth Tuesday night of each month, at 7 p.m.

DON'T BE A DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE . . .

Everyone has read, seen, or heard the story of "Dr. Jeckyll and Mr. Hyde." I am sure, but did you know that we have these individuals on Murray Campus? Peace-loving individuals who suddenly turn into some kind of diabolical brutes when they can't find a parking place? People who don't care how many bumpers they take off, or how many yards of chrome they strip off the cars next to them?

The fight for parking space is enough to transform any peace loving man into a monstrous fiend, or is it? Just because the one in front of you got the last parking space and you are late for class, don't blow your top.

Even though the parking space between Patton Hall and Haskell Lucas may be the most convenient place to park, there are other places. For instance: south of Fulton Hall, south of Poe Hall and north of the Armory.

Although there are no parking regulations now, if the people would park their cars just as if there were it would do away with a lot of the parking problem.

Within the next two weeks, concrete curbs and dividing lines will be added to the paving already completed. So until then, we need your co-operation.—E.F.P.

LET'S MAKE THIS A SUCCESSFUL YEAR —

Another school year has begun and everything that comprises a school year, such as academic achievement, a degree of cultural attainment, and the traditional fun and frolicking are to be found in proportion at Murray College.

On this campus, there exists a diversity of clubs and other organizations which are now busily meeting and electing officers. They are setting forth objectives which they hope to accomplish during the year.

It is important for every student to be in a club or some type of organization in which he has a definite interest. This sense of belonging is necessary to many students and seems to take some of the grind out of college work.

The student body represents many backgrounds. The students react differently as situations present themselves. College seeks to cultivate the individual, a process which usually has great merit.

From the beginning, the student must decide what type of scholar he is to be. For the resolved and hard-working person, only success and security await. As for the others, the dismal thought of having to join the ranks of many people in trying to get good paying jobs with little or no college education, is disheartening.

This decision can only be made by the student. The decision will have lasting effect on the future of the student and likewise effect on the nation.—Preston Parker, 1965-66 Student Senate President.

Murray College is close to the Recreation Center of Southern Oklahoma.

By going north, northwest, a one-day trip from Tishomingo provides ample time for exploration of scenic Platt National Park near Sulphur, in the foothills of the Arbuckle Mountains.

Here are found famous mineral springs which were used by Indian tribes long before the time of the white man; beautiful mountain streams with waterfalls and rapids; and a natural area abounding in trees, shrubs, and wild flowers along with birds and native animals. There are swimming facilities in both the streams and in mineral pools adjacent to the park.

Veterans Lake, adjoining the park, provides additional scenery and fishing.

Going southwest from Sulphur we find Turner Falls with its clear blue water and towering falls. This beautiful park provides swimming, fishing, picnicking, and camping.

Following U. S. 77 into Ardmore we can go to Lake Murray State Park, a 10,000 acre year-round playground with approximately 5,000 acres of clear water. Lake Murray Scenic Drive leads from U. S. 77 into the park. Paved and good gravel roads encircle the lake and lead to attractions such as the lodge, boat docks, beach area, Tucker's Tower, and to the many camp grounds and fishing spots.

Lake Murray has long been the most popular spot in the Southwest for skiing and other water sports. The lodge provides speed boat and excursion boat rides and rental aqua cars. The Lake is zoned and marked into appropriate areas for various water sports and for fishing. Swimming is available in an excellent pool in vicinity of the lodge and at a natural beach near the boat docks. Tucker's Tower contains interesting geologic exhibits and the famous Lake Murray Meteorite. The Tower is also an excellent observation point for viewing the panorama of the lake.

For some points of interest close to Murray State College: the Tishomingo granite field near Troy, the General Leavenworth historical site near Kingston, the oldest house in the state near Swink in Choctaw County and the marker honoring Uncle Wallace and Aunt Minerva, who credited with originating "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot", a few miles South of Oleta in Pushmataha County and the petrified wood stumps and chips that are found in Pontotoc County near the village of Jesse.

The AGGIELITE Staff would like to encourage all students to turn any news items about former students to Fern Perry, Aggelite Staff, Murray State College, Tishomingo, Oklahoma. The staff is interested in keeping this column active throughout the year.

Cecil Richardson, a graduate of the 1923 class at Murray was the officer in charge of the capture of Dixie Radcliff and Donald Boggs. A nationwide search was in effect for the couple who were responsible for the deaths of four men in the states of Texas, Pennsylvania, and New Hampshire.

Former students are now working on the staff of their respective college newspapers. Aaron Hulstine, '65, holds the position of associate photographer. Jacquita Perry, '65, is organizations editor, and Rachel Jacobs, '65, is society editor on the East Central Journal.

Nancy Lumpkin, '64, is now editor of the paper at Panhandle and Kerry McKee, '65, serves on the staff.

A 1960 graduate of Murray was named Agricultural manager of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce.

Don Dudley, an agricultural education major, has taught agriculture in Cromwell and Oklahoma City.

Engineering club elects officers

Wednesday, September 8, the Engineering Club met to elect officers and to discuss activities for the coming year.

Heading the group as president will be John Lively. Other officers will be Mark Koehler, vice-president; Lyndal Herrin, secretary-treasurer; Joe Green, Student Senate representative; and Tom Freeman, reporter.

The twenty-nine members present talked about plans for a steak dinner, a membership drive, trips, and an auto rally. Another meeting has been scheduled for September 22 at 7:00 p.m.

Also present for the meeting were faculty advisors Harold J. Winburn, R. B. Briscoe, and G. B. Stotts.

NO. 89, RAYMOND COTTON making one of Murray's many outstanding defensive plays against Dodge City.

Murray Aggies rally to tie in fourth quarter

Murray Aggies staged a rally from 44 yards out to score with 3:58 left to play in the fourth quarter to tie Dodge City, Kansas 7-7 Saturday, September 11th. In the pre-season ranking Dodge City was number 17 in the nation's junior colleges.

The first quarter was an even up ballgame with both teams moving the ball but neither team could get in scoring distance.

The second quarter started very much like the first one ended, but Dodge City caught fire and moved the ball down to Murray's one yard line where Brown of Dodge City took it across for the first score of the game. The first half ended with Murray trailing seven to nothing.

The Aggies seemed to get their second wind at half time but were plagued with fumbles throughout the third and fourth quarters at critical points on the field. With 3:58 left Toni West, sophomore from McKinney, Texas in an attempt to run an end sweep which had been one of Murray's big ground gainers of the second half, saw daylight off tackle and turned on the speed that didn't stop until 44 yards later and Murray's first touchdown of the year to tie the score 7-7.

West led the Aggies in yards gained with 87 for an average of 11 yards per carry. Jim Baldwin, sophomore from Azel, Texas was next with 23 yards and 8 carries for a 2.8 yard per carry.

Clinton Johnson, Freshman from Wynnewood, carried 6 times for 16 yards and an average of 2.7 yards.

The work horse for Murray was Bobby "Stump" Smith, sophomore from Houston, Texas who carried 10 times for 23 yards.

Girls urged to join intramural sports program

Women who like to participate in sports, join the intramurals. If you will come for practice on Tuesday and Thursday at 3:30 p. m. until 5:00 p.m. you will receive points for it. Get enough points and you can have a letter on your Murray jacket or sweater.

Points will be given for participation in such sports as archery, bowling, badminton, tennis, hiking, square dancing, and field and track.

The object of the intramurals is to promote a high degree of physical activity and encouraged a spirit of good sportsmanship.

To participate in a tournament you must attend one out of three practice periods preceding the tournament play. To get points you must participate 45 minutes out of the hour and a half. Points are carried over from year to year.

The intramural program will sponsor the Powder Puff Football game, girls must take part in the intramurals to be eligible to play in this game.

All those interested in going out for intramurals see Lisa Kreps or Miss Sells.

No Counts top early standings

The No Counts jumped to an early lead in the intramural standing, sweeping the cross country event held Wednesday, September 15.

The victors finished with a low point total of 19. Eleven points separated the No Counts from the second place Studs, who finished with 30 points. The Refugees and Mercenaries finished in a deadlock for third place, each having 31 points.

Fifth and sixth places were taken by the Tigers and the Bootleggers, with 32 and 38 points respectively. Although the Swamp Rats totaled only ten points, they are in seventh place by virtue of having only one entrant. Rodeo Club likewise entered only one runner and placed eighth with 19 points. There were no entries for the Catchers, the Hot Shots or the Stud Duds, who are in a three-way tie for the cellar spot.

Top individual honors went to Charley Jones of the Bootleggers, who finished with a time of 9:20 for the mile and three fourths distance. Charles Griffith of the Mercenaries and Phillip Lansford of the Tigers followed a close second and third. Fourth place went to Jimmy Ferguson of the No Counts, with the Refugees' Ralph Tyler taking fifth. The sixth place entry was Frankie Kerley for the No Counts.

Robert Apala of the Studs took seventh and eighth place went to Sammy Tyler of the Refugees. The remaining entries in the order of their finishing were as follows. Terry Aryrear, Studs; Dave Kirby, Studs; Tom Wilson, Tigers; Frank Murphy, Mercenaries; John Cochran, Mercenaries; Robert Tiger, Tigers; Aubrey Day, Bootleggers; Junior Harrison, Refugees; Teddy Belvin, Rodeo Club; and Gene Williams of the Bootleggers, who failed to finish the race.

Eleven teams to compete for top intramural spot

According to Gene Robbins, athletic director at Murray State College, eleven teams will be competing for top honors in the annual intramural athletic program.

This year's program will include the cross country run, touch football, volleyball, basketball, track, tennis and badminton. Representatives of each team will compete in all seven sports.

At a recent meeting of team captains, Robbins emphasized that the main purposes of the intramural program are to promote sportsmanship and provide a stimulus for competition. Robbins also explained that overall scoring would be on a low point basis, with one point being awarded for a first place finish in each sport. Points will be tabulated at the end of the year.

The cross country run was held Wednesday, September 15, with the touch football season running from September 20 to November 3. Volleyball competition will be from December 7 to January 6, and basketball from January 31 to March 31. The track meet will be held on April 18. Tennis and badminton will be played April 4 through May 11.

The teams and their captains are as follows:

Bootleggers, Aubrey Day; Catchers, Sherril Neal; No Counts, Jimmy Ferguson; Studs, Robert Apala; Refugees, Ralph Tyler; Hot Shots, Frankie Scott; Stud Duds, Fred Kear; Mercenaries, Charles White; Swamp Rats, Lavon Thompson; Tigers, Robert Tiger; and Rodeo Club, Jimmy Duncan.

Full results of all intramural sports activities will be carried on the sports page of each edition of The Aggelite.

Murray tackles Ranger 24 to 6

Murray Aggies scored 24 points to defeat Ranger, Texas Junior College 24 to 6, Sept. 16, behind the running and scoring of Toni West, soph. from McKinney, Texas and Marvin Esmond, soph. from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Murray Aggies controlled the ball most of the first quarter by scoring on a 6 yard end run by Q.B. Esmond, and Mike Jordan, Freshman from Mt. Vernon, Texas kicking the extra point. Late in the first quarter Jordan kicked a 26 yard field goal to give the Aggies a 10 to 0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Ranger started their passing game and passed down to the Aggies 10 yard line where they took it in on an end sweep. The half ended with the score 10 to 6 with the Aggies out in front.

Murray started moving the ball well in the third quarter but had two touchdowns called back before Esmond finally punched one across from the one yard line after a pass interference was called against Ranger. Jordan kicked the extra point to make the score 17 to 6 in favor of the Aggies.

Toni West scored the last touchdown for Murray on an end sweep that went 61 yards, West was Murray's top ground gainer with 130 yards in 13 carries.

Billy Tuggle helped Murray out of trouble with his punting, one carrying 60 yards. He punted 6 times for 250 yards for an average of 41 yards.

Murray's "woe" and "go" teams working as one, combined team spirit and team effort to bring the Aggies their first victory of the season.

Murray meets Arlington State Junior Varsity Thursday, Sept. 23, 8:00 p.m. at Murray college field.

Sportin' Around

Here is how the Oklahoma JUCO Conference shapes up for 1965: Eastern is in number one spot with O.M.A., a close second. Northern holds third place in the pre-season ranking with Connors fourth and Murray Aggies in last place. O.M.A. was ranked 8th in the National Junior College rankings in the pre-season poll.

Most Oklahoma JUCO teams came out on the short end for the weekend of Sept. 11th. O.M.A. was downed in the fourth quarter by Northeastern A&M by a score of 14-10 and Hutchinson, Kansas Junior College drove two touchdowns across in the fourth quarter to stagger Northern 12-9. Murray Aggies stayed out of the lost column by tying Dodge City, Kansas 7-7. Eastern and Connors were idle Sept. 11th but opened their season Sept. 16th.

Jerry Rhome, Tulsa passing great of 1964, was on the throwing end of three Dallas Cowboys touchdowns Saturday, Sept. 11th that helped defeat Chicago 34-21.

Bill Anderson, quarterback for Tulsa, showed his passing ability Saturday, Sept. 11th after two years of playing behind Jerry Rhome by throwing for two touchdowns to defeat Houston, Texas 14-0.

A fool is not one who makes a mistake, but one who repeats it.

Patton Hall sets monthly dues

Dorm life for Patton Hall girls began with an election of officers Tuesday night, September 7.

At this meeting it was decided to pay 25c each month for dorm dues.

Officers chosen for Fulton Hall

Fulton Hall held its first dorm meeting September 14 in the auditorium. Purpose of the meeting was to discuss rules for the upcoming year and to elect officers. At the meeting, Ronnie Hill, Wynnewood sophomore, was elected president. Freddy White, Wynnewood freshman, was chosen vice-president. The secretary-treasurer is to be Steve Howe, a sophomore from Sulphur, and sophomore Donald Day, also from Sulphur, is the Student Senate representative.

AS IT APPEARS TO ME —

By Leslie Winburn

When I asked for comments about this column I really didn't expect to hear from anyone. I sort of anticipated a "Let's ignore it, maybe it'll go away" attitude. But was I wrong! The response has been so overwhelming that it cannot pass unmentioned. Two letters have poured in already! I would now like to extend my grateful appreciation to those who have expressed such delight in my first efforts as a columnist; so, a great big THANKS for the encouragement. Mom, I'm glad you liked it. Also THANKS to my grandmother, who wished me luck.

Well, another year is off and running at Murray College, and the enrollment grew larger each day last week. To those of you who didn't arrive with the first wave of troops (pardon the military expression, all you sensitive boys), a belated but hearty welcome to the campus. What's this you say? You would have been enrolled earlier but you couldn't find a place to park. It IS rather a problem this year. You must remember, however, that Murray is Going and Growing, and that for every problem caused by Progress, there are a number of solutions. Besides, Murray is not the only college with parking difficulties. It's going to be a nation-wide problem very soon. Fortunately, hope is in sight, as a panel of experts has been trying to formulate some sure-fire solutions. Through complicated channels I have obtained a list of their qualified findings, which I shall pass on to you readers. Bear in mind, of course, that these answers have slight draw-backs . . . but they're nothing that the people in Detroit can't handle.

At any rate, here is what well-known authorities say students can do about crowded parking facilities:

1. Drive cars that are built double-decker style. (In this case, watch out for low bridges.)
2. Drive cars that fold up like carrier-based aircraft.
3. Drive cars with attachments that park them vertically.
4. If the situation becomes too critical, merely cement over the impossibly jammed cars and start all over again.

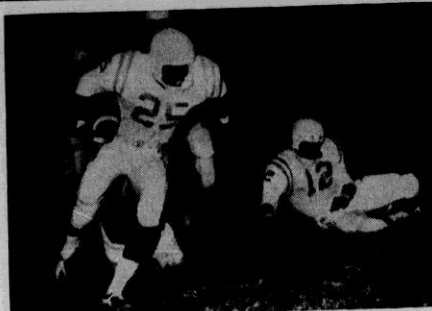

THINK ABOUT IT.

September 13 Mr. Alloway's math room was a scene of organized confusion as hundreds of students had their pictures made. The process of capturing all those faces on film in one day was a tremendous accomplishment. A feat that outranked it entirely, however, was that of having all the boys dressed in coats and ties on such a warm day!

A certain person has expressed a desire to see his name in this column, so he won't be left out completely. Hi, Rodger Aucoin!

Darrell Archer had a small problem the other night. It seems that someone wrote "Just Married" on his car, and he couldn't find the person responsible. You behaved just right, though, Darrell, for as I always say "When in doubt, run and shout."

And, in parting, I'd like to leave this mutilated version of an old saying . . . and dedicate it to Fulton Hall: "A watermelon in the hand costs twice as much as two on the vine."

Officers Elected at Fulton

Officers for Fulton Hall were elected Tuesday, September 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

BULLETIN

Colonel Herbert Hope, Director of the Oklahoma Selective Service System, has requested that all institutions of higher learning notify local boards at the end of each semester of their registrants who did not complete a full-time course of instruction with a satisfactory grade point average. A full-time course of instruction is deemed to be 15 or more semester hours. A satisfactory grade point average is deemed to be 2.0 grade points or better for the minimum 15 semester hour enrollment.

Faculty dames honor college girls at tea

A tea was given by the Faculty Dames for the Murray College Women, Monday evening, September 13, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Freeman McKee. Serving the guests throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Mary Horton, Mrs. Virgil Haines, Mrs. Amelia Poynter and Mrs. Katy Rood.

The table was laid with white linen and pink dahlias.

Attending the tea were approximately seventy-five women students and twenty faculty members.

Parents honored Saturday at Murray-Cameron game

Saturday night, October 16, has been designated as "Moms' and Dads' Night" at Murray State College.

Parents of Murray students should register in the new classroom building between 6:00 and 7:30 p.m. The Faculty Dames will serve refreshments to the honored guests during this time.

Highlighting the evening will be the Murray-Cameron football game starting at 7:30 p.m. on Murray Field. Parents of Murray football players will have special seats on the field behind the players' bench.

At half-time, Student Senate President, Preston Parker, will present a gift of one dozen long-stemmed red roses to the parents who traveled farthest to attend the event.

During half-time the "Aggie Marching Band," under the direction of Jack Reid, will make their first public appearance on the home field.

Art Club plans first meeting

The Art Club will meet Tuesday at 7:00 p.m., in room 102 of the classroom building.

This is a new club on campus. Its main emphasis will be to stress Murray's new Art Department.

The club activities will include socials, art shows, and possibly trips to other colleges to visit their Art Departments.

The first meeting will be concerned with electing officers and writing a constitution and by-laws.

There are no restrictions for membership, so everyone is encouraged to support the new club.

NUMBER THREE

Three-act drama scheduled for November dates

"On the Night of January 16th," a comedy-drama in three acts by Ayn Rand, has been chosen by the drama department for its first production of the season. The play, directed by Fred Poe, speech instructor, has been scheduled for a two-day run the latter part of November and will be presented in the college auditorium.

This play is the trial of Karen Andre, a young Swedish girl who is accused of pushing her former employer and reputed lover from the roof of a penthouse apartment atop the Faulkner Building in New York City. In addition to Miss Andre, there are a number of especially good roles for both men and women.

"Night of January 16th" has long been a favorite of schools and little theatre groups. The plan of the play is rather unique in that the jury for the trial will be chosen from the audience on performance night. At the end of the play this jury will retire to the jury room and decide the verdict. The play is considered by many directors to be tremendously effective theatre.

A complete list of the cast will be announced later.

BULLETIN

Organizations should turn in names of their Homecoming Queen representatives to Preston Parker, Senate President, as soon as possible.

New club forms on Aggie campus

For the first time on campus an International Club is under way at Murray, according to Ricardo Gonzalez, a sophomore from Havana, Cuba.

The club will hold its first meeting within the next few days to adopt a constitution, and to introduce its officers, which have already been appointed.

Mrs. Katy Rood, Spanish and English instructor, will be the sponsor for the newly-formed club.

Purpose of this club will be to provide for better understanding among the nations represented on our college campus. One of the many projects planned is a tutoring service for Spanish students. All students and faculty are strongly urged to join and participate.

"Life of Paul" to be presented at local BSU

The Baptist Student Union will present the "Life of Paul" in a series of film strips.

The films will begin Tuesday, October 12, at 6:45 p.m.

Noonday services are each day at 12:35 to 12:50 p.m. Vesper services are Tuesday and Thursday at 6:45 p.m.

The Baptist Student Union has been very active this year and everyone is urged to attend.

Annual meeting planned Oct. 16

The second annual yearbook workshop for high school yearbook students and faculty advisors will be held on the Murray State College campus, Tishomingo, Saturday, October 16, according to Tom Wood, workshop advisor.

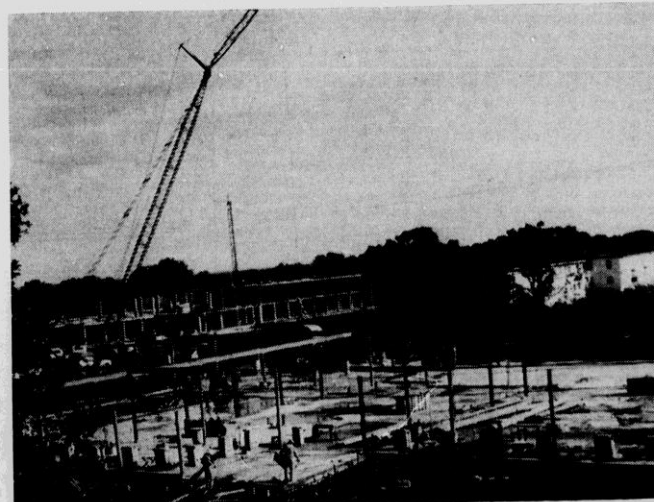

Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. in the new classroom building. John Clark and George B. Smith, publication consultants with American Yearbook company, will assist in the presentation of the different phases of the program.

The morning sessions will be discussion and the afternoon will be devoted to planning the yearbook pages, writing copy, writing headlines, and mounting the elements on the page.

Honor group plans party for new members

The Phi Theta Kappa fraternity will have a "Get-together Party" for members and prospective members. The party will be held in room 105 of the Music Building, Tuesday, October 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Special guests will be Raymond Cleveland, dean of students, and Ricardo Gonzalez, a sophomore from Havana, Cuba.

UP THEY GO! The three story dormitory, in the background and the new student union, in the foreground, now under construction on the Murray campus are moving ahead rapidly. Favorable weather conditions have allowed Metropolitan Construction

Co. of Oklahoma City, the building contractors, to move ahead. The buildings are presently scheduled for completion in the spring. (Staff photo by Don Blevins)

"PASS ON, AMERICAN"

A sentry's voice calls out in the dark, "Halt! Who goes there?"

"An American", is the reply.

"Is that so?" says the sentry. "Then repeat the first stanza of the National Anthem."

A lengthy pause. "But I don't know it."

"Pass on, American."

The story above is too true to be very funny. That ignorance of our country's anthem is so casually accepted is far from a laughing matter. We are forced, instead, to search our own minds and hearts, and to sadly admit that too few Americans could behave any differently in a similar case. Going deeper, we have to ask how many of us even bother to salute the stars and stripes of our flag any more? Has the pledge of allegiance become a meaningless ritual to be mumbled through so we can get on with the ballgame or other entertainment? When did you last place your hand over your heart and repeat the pledge of allegiance while chills of pride ran down your spine?

If you've ever felt those chills, that thrill of pride in being an American, then hang around, friend, you'll probably be an exhibit in a museum of American History some day. You have a quality that is already rare in many sections of the country. It's called 'patriotism'. Once treasured by Americans, it was handed down from generation to generation. Patriotism led people to fight and die for their flag and their beliefs. Is this same patriotism what causes our young men today to go to any lengths to avoid the armed services? Is this patriotism the inspiration of the riots and brutal killings that happen every day in America's cities? Or is patriotism causing today's attitude that cheating is okay if you don't get caught? Not by a long shot! That noble creature, the American patriot, is vanishing. He's being replaced by spiritless, luxury-loving "Americans" whose primary emotion is fear. Fear of nuclear war, fear of automation, fear of boredom, fear of being alone, and fear of being unloved have smothered people's spirits and left no room for patriotic feelings.

As our country's next citizens and leaders, we owe ourselves and this country the best possible preparation for the task of overcoming this dull acceptance of fear as a way of life. The revival of patriotism could defeat those fears. If we know and appreciate its meaning, we shall be able to maintain it. Rather than bursting into adulthood as if we were fresh from a roller-coaster ride, with everything blurred and no positive standards, we shall have a belief to uphold. Let us now find ways in which we can instill patriotism in our lives. The emphasis is on NOW, incidentally, because there are certain forces in the world today who readily assure us that if we don't use it, we'll lose it.—L.A.W.

As it appears to me—

By Leslie Winburn

October has arrived and once again it's that time of year when the leaves begin to turn—just before test time. The arrival of October has also brought symptoms of colds, hay fever, and sinus trouble to plague students and teachers alike. Everyone seems to be sniffing and sneezing. If only I had a nickel for every time I've sneezed! I'd sneeze a lot more often. A cold has been called a physical ailment that is both positive and negative; sometimes the eyes have it, sometimes the nose. Whatever your condition, perhaps you'll take heart in the words of a wise old philosopher:

"Colds, of course,
Eventually go,
But usually only
Blow by Blow."

Don't look now, but the skate board rage has hit. It's been reported that Sherida Eidson brought a board from Shawnee, and many students of Murray are trying to master the art of "Sidewalk Surfing". Al Barnes has been wiped out several times and Eddie Martin reportedly has a lot to learn about the sport. Dick Hander has also been seen trying his luck on the cement waves.

Some people will do anything for publicity. A certain sophomore football player recently burst into the office and demanded recklessly that a bulletin be placed in this column. This bulletin would be to inform the general public that when he asks a girl for a date he's only kidding, and that all girls should dismiss it as a joke if he asks them out. Although this is pretty newsworthy, I just don't happen to believe a word of it. I know he was actually only trying to trick me into mentioning his name again in this column, but it didn't work. Rodger, 'cause I'm not even going to say 'Hi' this time.

Everybody wants to know: Mattie Loffer, did your mother really send you some "horsing around money"? Tom Freeman, what did you say when that mean old telephone pole by the BSU ran up and hit your red car on the back bumper?

Linda Sewell recently became chairman of the new 'Campus Beautification Committee'. I hear she specializes in the fine art of washing and wiping interesting 'land marks' around the campus. A special branch of this committee is composed of some guys in Fulton Hall who have their own clean-up detail. In fact, Ducky Day could call them the 'clean-out' detail, because that's exactly what they did to him. They did such a complete job on his room one day that he couldn't find anything when he returned. Empty . . .

Have you heard about the latest fad? The object is to save some money, if possible, because who knows? Some day it may be valuable again.

Robbins featured at coaches clinic

Murray State Athletic Director Gene Robbins was one of three featured speakers at the recent Northwestern Louisiana State College Coaches Clinic held at Natchitoches, La.

Featured along with the Aggie roundball mentor were Frank Truitt, head coach at Louisiana State University and Bob Davis of Georgetown College.

During the day-long get together of high school coaches, such topics as the use of the full and half court press, basic drills, and the teaching of basketball fundamentals came under discussion. Robbins, who is president of the National Junior College Basketball Coaches Association, spoke to the group on disciplined basketball at Murray College.

Upon conclusion of the meeting, the coaches attended the ball game between Northwestern and Northeast College.

Coach Robbins, who is in his fourth year at the helm of Murray's basketball program, holds a Master of Science degree from Northwestern Louisiana. While working on his second degree, Robbins piloted the Northwestern freshman squad to a 7-3 record.

Since coming to Murray, Robbins coached teams have compiled a 59-14 won and lost record and captured two state and two regional championships. Twice his Murray teams have finished the season in the top ten national rankings.

In addition to his duties as basketball coach and athletic director, Coach Robbins has been named to head the recently created physical education department at Murray State.

Senate holds first meeting

The Student Senate had its first meeting at 12:15 in the home economics room Tuesday, September 21. Preston Parker called the meeting to order and made a short speech introducing the officers. Members were then asked to introduce themselves and tell what club they represented.

A general discussion about who should get the concession stands at the remaining home football games followed.

Mr. Wood introduced the idea of a small loan committee, and members were urged to consider the matter carefully. Don Day was appointed chairman of the committee to get more information on a project of this kind.

The parking problem was discussed and Mr. Wood encouraged representatives to spread the word that the lot would be marked off in the near future.

Mr. Wood made a proposal to the representatives to consider a Murray State College Sign as the big project for the year. After some deliberation, Don Day moved that the Student Senate appropriate money for this new project. He received the approval of the entire body.

Rodney Walker moved that the meeting be adjourned.

New enrolment figure tops high set in 1964

Library expands to accommodate more students

The increase in Murray's enrolment this fall has led to an increase in the number of students using the college's library facilities. Large numbers of students may be found enjoying the studious atmosphere of the library nightly. Extra tables and chairs have been provided to make room for the overflow of readers.

Two additions have been made in the library itself. Extra shelving has been erected to accommodate the growing collection of books, and a set of "Princeton Files" has been in use since its arrival last spring. These files hold the magazine leaflets that were once in bundles. Assembled in alphabetical order by their names and dates, the magazines look very neat and orderly within the bright red files.

Final enrolment figures for the 1965 fall term at Murray State College have established a new all time high, with this year's figure surpassing the 1964 total by more than one hundred.

The final total for the fall term enrolment, which was completed Sept. 27, was 659, as compared for 549 for the same period last year.

Of the over 600 students, some 95 list their major fields of study in the agriculture field, with 74 students majoring in business. Some 48 students list elementary education as their major and another 39 are physical education majors. Forty two women are majoring in secretarial administration.

Around 140 students are pursuing courses in the general education classification. This category, usually for students yet to decide upon a major field of concentration, is composed of 138 Murray students.

A statement of enrolment issued recently from the Office of the Registrar showed 382 freshmen and 235 sophomores presently on the class rolls. The freshmen class lists 283 men and 99 women for its total. Fifty women and 185 men make up the sophomore class. Some 42 special students are on roll.

Carter county leads all areas as to the number of students enrolled at Murray State, with 128 students. Johnston county, home county of Tishomingo, is a close second with 116. Of the 650 students at Murray, 597 are Oklahoma residents, with 54 of the remaining 63 students being from Texas. Five of the other out of state students list Louisiana as their home.

Eight students have journeyed to Murray State from foreign lands to obtain the first part of their college education. This number includes three from Iran, two from Mexico, and one each from Peru, England and Cuba.

Present figures indicate that the 644 full-time students are now enrolled in some 9,661 semester hours for the fall term.

All-State Juco Chorus includes Murray group

Eleven vocal students represented Murray College in the All-State Junior College Chorus, October 4. The mixed chorus, composed of almost 100 students from Oklahoma's junior colleges, gave a concert at the regional meeting of the North Central Association of Junior Colleges which was being held October 3 and 4 at the Skirvin Hotels in Oklahoma City.

Conductors for the chorus included Bob Pearson from Murray, Bob Pratt from Eastern, Kenneth Richards from Northeastern, Gene Brooks from Cameron, and Terry Platt from Connors.

Social Security Representative visits Murray

Field Representative Tilson of the Social Security office in Oklahoma City was on campus the week of October 4 through 8. Tilson was here to receive applications from eligible Murray students for aid under the 1965 amendments to the Social Security Act. According to Tilson more people are eligible than have applied.

Mr. Tilson will return to Murray campus to counsel students on Tuesday, October 12, and will return semi-monthly thereafter.

Sewing machine acclaims approval

By name the new sewing machine for the Murray College Home Economics Department is referred to as an automatic Touch 'n' Sew. The bobbin is threaded automatically. Appliques, monograms and motifs, buttons, and even embroidery can easily be sewn on with the new Touch 'n' Sew. It has as many as twenty-one different fashions discs.

The machine itself is white, and the cabinet is dark brown mahogany. At the back of the cabinet there is an extra link which extends outward into a table. The Home Economics department has four other sewing machines which are new also, but they did not come in their cabinets, and they are straight sewing machines. The cabinets are to be sent later.

Aggies attend OISA meet on OCU campus

The second annual Oklahoma Intercollegiate Leadership Conference was held October 1 and 2 on the Oklahoma City University campus.

Murray State College was represented by Tom Woods, sponsor; Preston Parker, president; Paula Robinson, secretary; Joyce Childs and Rick Gonzales.

The purpose of the Leadership Conference was "to offer to both student and adult leaders the opportunity for open discussion in depth in order that these leaders of Oklahoma might come to a great awareness of who they are in terms of both responsibility and possibility".

A mixture of discussion groups, forums, and addresses were included in the agenda. Discussion groups considered such topics as: "Institutional Analysis," "The Purposes and Programs of Student Government," and "Community Involvement." Speakers included Dr. John F. Olson, president of Oklahoma City University; the Honorable Leo Winters, Lieutenant Governor of Oklahoma; and Dr. Waldo Stephens.

Freshman select officers for college year

Wednesday, October 6, the freshman class had its first meeting of the semester. Dick Hander, a business major from Corpus Christi, Texas, was elected president. Dick is a defensive guard on the football team.

Glen Joplin, Wapanucka, was selected to fill the office of vice-president. Glen, a general education major, is proctor for the first floor of Fulton Hall.

Clarinda Leming, who is majoring in elementary education will serve as secretary-treasurer. Clarinda is from Sulphur.

The freshman class reporter will be Mike Loudenslager. Mike is an agricultural education major from Choctaw.

Ken Case will represent the freshman class in the Student Senate. Ken is an honor student from Oklahoma City.

LaVonda Loyd was chosen as the freshman class candidate for Homecoming Queen. LaVonda, Tupelo, is majoring in general education.

Murray College bull test set

Bulls consigned to the Eleventh Annual Murray College Bull Test were officially weighed on test Friday. There are 141 bulls on test this year representing 8 different beef breeds. Most of the bulls were consigned by Oklahoma breeders with a few calves being consigned by breeders from Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico and Texas, according to Dr. Jerry Martin, in charge of the test.

The bulls were delivered to the testing station on September 10, 11 and 12. During the three week warm-up period, they were tested for tuberculosis and brucellosis, wormed and vaccinated for black-leg, leptospirosis and red nose.

To be eligible for the test, the bulls must have graded choice or better and have had a minimum 205 day adjusted weaning weight of 475 pounds. The post weaning performance of the bulls will be measured over a feeding period of 140 days. To be eligible for a Certificate of Performance the bulls must meet the minimum Performance Registry International standards for feed gain tests. These minimum standards are an average daily gain on test of 2.60 lbs. and a weight-per-day-of-age of 2.4 lbs.

Many of the top performing bulls on the test will be consigned to the Eleventh Annual Murray College Performance Tested Bull Sale. The sale has been set for March 12, 1966 and represents an opportunity for commercial beef cattle producers to obtain bulls with the genetic potential of increasing the performance of cattle.

The 90 bulls that sold last year had an average weaning weight of 551 pounds, an average gain on test of 3.19 pounds and an average weight-per-day-of-age of 2.75 lbs.

ATTENTION FRESHMAN!

If you are interested in helping in the concession stand on the nights of Oct. 30 and Nov. 6 and have not submitted your name to Mike Loudenslager, do so at the earliest possible date. Remember, this is to help raise funds for the Freshman dance at the end of the year, so support your class.

New league pacesetters strengthen early lead

Arlington lands Murray's first loss of season

Arlington State handed the Murray Aggies their first loss in three outings by a score of 14 to 13. Thursday, September 23.

Arlington scored in the first quarter after the Aggies fumbled the ball on the opening kick-off. The first quarter ended with Arlington, 7-0.

The second quarter was an even-up ballgame with neither team scoring until the last two seconds, when pass interference was called on Arlington as Billy Wods, soph. from Midland, Texas, was trying to catch a pass in the end zone from Gary Lively, soph. from Baden, Pennsylvania. The half ended but Murray had one play to get the ball over from the one-foot line because the penalty for interference in the end zone brings the ball out to the one foot line. On a quarterback keeper, Lively went across to make the score 7-6. Mike Jordan kicked the extra point to tie the game 7-7 at half-time.

The third quarter started with neither team moving the ball until late in the quarter when the Aggies had the ball on their 39-yard line and moved 61 yards with Ronnie Westfall, soph. from Marietta, scoring from 5 yards out. This was Murray's longest offensive drive of the year. The extra point attempt failed and the score remained 13-7 in favor of the Aggies.

Arlington started their passing game in the fourth quarter with Ronnie Faulkner throwing and hitting his ends well and finally throwing from 5 yards out to Fred Gough for the touchdown. Dennis Hunt kicked the extra point to put Arlington ahead to stay 14 to 13. Outstanding players for Murray were Ivory Young, soph. from Wynne, Arkansas, and Raymond Cotton, soph. from Hillsboro, Texas, on defense, and Bobby Smith, soph. from Houston, Texas on offense.

The league leading Tigers and Catchers strengthened their hold on the top spots in their respective circuits during last week's intramural football action.

In the American league, the Tigers trounced third place Rodeo Club 36-0. The Studs and Mercenaries continued in a fifth place tie after dueling to a nothing deadlock.

The Catchers and Refugees, one and two in the National league standings fought to a 6-6 standstill Wednesday night, tightening the league race. The Bootleggers blanked the Swamp Rats 26-0; and took over third place, leaving the Rats and No Counts tied for the cellar spot.

"Whoa" and "Go" defeats Connors Aggies 20-7

Murray Aggies "Whoa" and "Go" teams turned in an outstanding game Thursday, September 30, to spoil the Connors homecoming by a score of 20 to 7.

The Murray Aggies "Go" team started a little slow the first quarter having to punt the first two times. A screen pass from Marvin Esmond, sophomore, Tulsa, to Bobby Smith, sophomore, Houston, Texas, was good for 45 yards and a touchdown behind good down field blocking. Mike Jordan, freshman, Mount Vernon, Texas, added the extra point to make the score 7 to 0 for Murray. This touchdown seemed to be the lift that Murray needed to get its offense going. The first quarter ended with Murray ahead 7 to 0.

Murray moved the ball 65 yards in 17 plays and Herman Crook, freshman, Oklahoma City, carried it over from 1 yard out with Jordan adding the point after to make the score 14 to 0 at half time with Connors Aggies on the short end.

The third quarter saw the Connors Aggies hold Murray without a score but the "Go" team moved the ball well until it ran into a tough Connors goal line defense.

Murray couldn't score until the latter part of the fourth quarter after another long drive. Toni West, sophomore, McKinney, Texas, went 20 yards on an end sweep to give Murray its final score. The kick was blocked and Murray went ahead 20 to 0.

Murray "Whoa" team played the best game of the season in giving up 83 yards rushing.

Rodger Aucion, sophomore, Baton Rouge, Louisiana and Chris Hankins, freshman, Ada, were chosen as outstanding defense linemen. Ronnie Westfall, sophomore, Marietta, Herman Crook, and Bobby Smith, were chosen as outstanding offense backs.

Mavericks score three quick TD's to defeat Aggies

Northern Mavericks ran wild for 19 points in the first quarter to hand Murray its first conference loss by a score of 19 to 13 in front of a Parents Night crowd October 9 at Tonkawa.

Northern scored on the third play of the ball game after the opening kick off on Jesse Eakers 70 yard run; the kick failed and the Mavericks went ahead 6 to 0 after just three minutes of play. Northern had the ball in play for just nine downs before Fred Howard took it in on a 5 yard sweep to make the score 12 to 0. Kick by Hyle Howe failed again and Coach Leo Canaday's Mavericks had a good 12 to 0 lead with the ball game just minutes old.

Murray's offense started a drive on the 25 yard line and 10 play's later with the help of a 15 yard penalty. Toni West, Sophomore, from McKinney, Texas scored from 4 yards out. Mike Jordan kicked the extra point to make it 12 to 7.

The Northern team came right back with a 35 yard touchdown run by Eddie Hurst and Hyle Howe added extra point to make the score 19 to 7.

Second quarter started with the Aggies moving the ball at will and finally scoring on a 35 yard pass from Quarterback Marvin Esmond, Sophomore from Tulsa to Billy Woods, Sophomore from Midland, Texas. Extra point failed and the half ended with Murray behind 19 to 13.

The third and fourth quarter saw Murray's offense miss important first downs inside Northern's 10 yard line 4 times.

Harry Boyd, junior at Central State College was the coaches' choice for outstanding defensive player in the Central and Langston game. Boyd is from McKinney, Texas and is a former two year all-conference halfback from Murray State College.

Nation's eighth-ranked OMA, after two tries at the extra point, was downed by Missouri Southern 19 to 20 in a non-conference game Thursday, October 7.

Eastern out-scored Connors 19 to 3 to take a firm hold on first place in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference.

Brother Leo and his Northern Mavericks scored 19 points the first quarter and stopped the Murray Aggies four times inside the 10 yard line to down Wayne Canaday's Aggies 19 to 13 in the first coaching clash between the two brothers.

Toni West, Sophomore from McKinney, Texas is ranged number five in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference in scoring, with four touchdowns.

	conference win	season record lost	ties
Eastern	2-0	3-1	0
Murray	1-1	2-2	1
Northern	1-1	2-3	0
OMA	0-0	3-2	0
Connors	0-2	0-4	0

Murray plays host to Cameron Junior College Saturday night, October 16 at Murray field.

Cameron, the nation's number one junior college team last year has suffered two set-backs this year but the Murray Aggies will have their work cut out for them on Parent's night.

Booming junior colleges are seen as best hope to fit youth for jobs

The growth of junior colleges in size and numbers is our best hope to meet the explosive demand for higher education, according to an October Reader's Digest article, "Junior Colleges—Hope for the Future." The United States has 719 junior colleges with 20 to 30 new ones opening each year, and as soon as the new schools open they are swamped with applications for admission.

Publicly supported community colleges and private junior colleges are relieving pressure on four year schools. This is now so great that according to some estimates 100,000 qualified high-school graduates will not get into college this autumn. Technological advance has caused the squeeze, the authors contend. "It's estimated that within five years 68 percent of the jobs in the United States will require some education or training beyond the secondary-school level. Back in 1930, only ten percent of all jobs required this."

Two-year colleges train young people to meet the growing need for "middle-level manpower" in semiprofessional, technical, sales and other work for which some college education is desirable. Community colleges fit courses to the jobs opening up in medical technology, bookkeeping, library work, date programming, retailing, and office work. Employers in one Florida town have been so desperate for data programmers that they hire students before they have completed the course.

The article is condensed from U.S. News & World Report.

Barbara O'Dell, '65, after attending one summer session at East Central State College is now a grade school teacher in Highland School, Wolf Point, Montana.

Kerry McKee, a 1965 Murray graduate, has been selected to head the yearbook staff at Panhandle A&M. Kerry is also a majorette in the college band.

W. B. Daugherty, '64, is now the English and Journalism instructor at Connors State College at Warner. He is in charge of production of the yearbook and newspaper. Daugherty is also the Public Relations Director.

W. B., while at Murray, was editor of the AggieLife. While at Southeastern State College, where he received his Master's Degree and where he did his graduate work, he was editor of the Southeastern.

Eugene Kennedy, the Animal Husbandry instructor at Cameron Junior College, graduated from Murray with the class of 1958. Eugene attended Oklahoma State University at Stillwater after graduating from Murray.

Before teaching at Cameron, Kennedy was Assistant County Agent in Bryant County.

Mickey Rowe, after completing three semesters here at Murray, transferred to East Central State College, Ada. From East Central, Mickey went to Southeastern State College, Durant, where he received his Bachelor's Degree.

After one summer of graduate work at Oklahoma University, Norman, he now teaches freshman chemistry and organic chemistry at Murray.

Don't just stand there learn something!

The competition for good jobs is a very fast track today. And you can't afford to just stall around, while others are learning how to move ahead faster.

Today, to get a good job, you need a good education. You really can't get ahead without one. A good education is the first thing most employers ask for. It proves you've got what it takes to handle a good job... a good paying job... a job with a solid future.

So, if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. For the latest information, visit the Youth Counsellor at your State Employment Service. Remember, a good education isn't a luxury today. It's an absolute necessity.

To get a good job, get a good education

Twelve new members were initiated into Phi Theta Kappa at a ceremony held Thursday morning, October 21.

Twelve honor students join Phi Theta Kappa

Drill team to perform Nov. 6

The first performance of the girls marching drill team will be at the homecoming festivities. The drill team will do a dance routine to the band's music of "Shake, Rattle, and Roll" and a marching clock routine to "Rock Around the Clock."

The girls next performance will be at Madill's Armistice Parade, November 11.

Campus club elects officers

The International Club met October 7 to elect officers. The officers chosen were: President Alejandro de la Rosa; Vice president, Abdollah Falsafi; Secretary-treasurer, Rose Favors; Student Senate Representative, Ricardo Gonzales; and Reporter, Tom Freeman.

The club plans to study different cultures and customs, to celebrate holidays in native fashion, and to eat original foreign meals.

Halloween party after OMA game

The Murray student union will be the scene of a Halloween dance and party Saturday night, October 30, immediately after the Murray-OMA football game. In addition to dancing there will be fun and games galore! There will be dunking for apples to test your skill so be prepared to "dive in" to the evening's festivities. Also, everyone will be required to wear a mask to this party. No, you can not get in on your natural face! Make plans now to attend the game and be sure to be on hand for the fun afterward.

BULLETIN

There will be no classes on Friday, October 29, in order that faculty members may attend sessions of the Oklahoma Education Association State Convention.

Classes will resume Monday morning.

Since the end of World War II, the United States has spent a total of more than 100 billion dollars on foreign aid, reports the October Reader's Digest. Current spending on foreign aid is about three billion dollars yearly.

The 1965 Phi Theta Kappa Initiation was presented in assembly, October 21. As a soft background music was played by Darrell Archer, active members filed down the center aisle of the auditorium, led by the president, John Alexander. Pledges, each carrying an unlighted candle, were led in by the secretary-treasurer, Jeannie Pogue. On stage the pledges formed a semicircle behind the active members.

The president, John Alexander, presided. The members taking part in the initiation were Jeannie Pogue (torchbearer), Paula Robinson (rosebearer), Butch Norton, Kenneth May, Joan Shuman, and Carl Olson.

After the pledges, Odes Brown, Paul Lambert, Lannie Hudson, Bill Fitts, Mark Kochler, Loe Nance, Beverly Patterson, Linda Risner, Lou Niblett, Rosetta Favors, Barry Buchanan, and Preston Parker were admitted into full fellowship, they signed the membership book and each received a white rose and his candle was lighted.

Dr. Murray brought the initiation to a close with a few words of wisdom and congratulations to the Phi Theta Kappa members for their achievements.

All ghosts are welcome at Poe

Poe Hall will be the scene of a Halloween party on Wednesday evening, October 27, from seven p.m. to eleven p.m.

Dates and faculty are welcomed "with open arms" to the evening's festivities. Fortune-telling, apple-bobbing, and spin-the-bottle, are just a few of the planned activities, for the night. All this is to be garnished liberally with refreshments.

See, they really did it! Here are those long-awaited concrete curbs for the parking lot between Patton Hall and Haskell Lucas Dorm. (Staff Photo by Richard Break)

"Balladiers" entertain at program tonight

Tonight, October 26, at eight p.m. in the college auditorium, the music department will sponsor a very light and enjoyable program.

To begin the program, the college choir will sing several selections. Darrell Archer will then play and sing some of his own compositions.

The feature of the evening will be the "Balladiers", a folk-singing group from Southeastern State College. Members of this popular trio are former Murray students Ronnie and Lonnie Mayo, and Jerry Jimenez. They began singing together while at Murray and have aroused enthusiastic response from audience in both Oklahoma and Texas. The Mayo twins and Jerry are now students at Southeastern and Oklahoma Presbyterian Center in Durant, and have found their group to be in constant demand all over this area.

There will be no charge for admission to this program.

Hot dogs and pop at B.S.U. party

Hot dogs, volley ball, ping pong, and lots of people made a successful evening at the Baptist Student Union Tuesday night, October 19. Mike Jackson, president, said that over 50 students were present, and that six pounds of hot dogs and five cases of pop were consumed.

The members of the Baptist Student Union plan to attend the state BSU Convention in Tulsa, October 29 through 31.

Everyone is invited to attend BSU Noonday each day at 12:35 p.m. Services are dismissed in time for 1:00 classes. Vespers is held each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 6:45 p.m.

Air pollution is causing severe damage to church organs, according to a report quoted in October Reader's Digest. The sheepskin valves that pump air into the large electro-pneumatic organs used to last for twenty years or more, but now hold up for only about five years.

Students rap protests as marches continue

On Saturday, Oct. 17, an estimated 13,000 demonstrators massed in New York and California to protest U. S. involvement in Viet Nam. A number of smaller and more isolated protests were held in scores of American cities and towns.

While nothing when compared to the throngs marching in the above mentioned states, Oklahoma, too, had its anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The nearness of this problem, of dissatisfaction with U. S. foreign policy, was brought out recently when a group of University of Oklahoma students, around 30 in number, marched on the federal courthouse in Oklahoma City. Smaller groups were on hand to picket at several shopping centers in Oklahoma's capital city.

Among the picketing and other protests were several reported incidents of draft card burning. One of the most publicized was that of Dave J. Miller, a 22 year-old New Yorker, who was indicted and then released on $500 bail.

Many words have been written in view of the recently staged marches, involving pacifist groups from our nation's colleges and universities.

On the college campuses in this country, where many of the demonstrations were held, those protesting represented only a small proportion of the entire student bodies.

Just what was the reaction of local students to the Vietnamese protest marches? Of the twelve students contacted by the Aggieelite, in an attempt to sample public opinion concerning the marches, all were sound in their stands against the protests.

John Charles Murphy of Ardmore had this to say concerning the marches. "I feel deeply that these unpatriotic demonstrations pose a disgrace to this country and should be put to an end immediately."

Most of the students quizzed seemed to think these demonstrations projected a poor image of American willingness to back decisions and policies set by the present administration. As Linda Lawson pointed out, "They (the demonstrations) reflect a bad image of America to other countries". Elaine Bodine seemed to think that "they set a poor example for the rest of the world". "This type of demonstration makes America look weak", added Leroy Graves.

Ricky Robb pondered the question then noted, "I think they are very un-American". Edwina Harman expressed belief that the protest marches are "Communist inspired". "I am definitely against them", was Arnold Muncie's only comment.

Dear Mom and Dad,

I got your letter yesterday and was very glad to hear that at least one person is supporting us over here.

None of the guys know what they feel anymore. We all get encouraging letters from home and at the same time we hear about the demonstrations and uselessness of our fighting over here. We are beginning to think that there is no one who supports us anymore except our families.

People keep saying there is no need for this war, why did it start anyway? I don't know why it started and I don't question the need for it. I do know that unless we hear some encouragement from home, other than from our families, none of the guys will care whether they fight or not. Dad you know that we can't win with an attitude like this.

The other day I was talking to one of the guys in my outfit, he has no folks to send him letters of encouragement. He expressed the attitude felt by nearly everyone in the company; what's the use, no one cares.

We have been reading about the boys who have torn up their draft cards. I am proud to be fighting to preserve peace for my country. I didn't realize that the boys back home were doing so much to keep from being drafted. I knew that some were getting married or starting to college, but when they go so far as to tear up or burn their draft cards that is not only being unpatriotic, it is being stupid. Don't they realize they could be doing more over here fighting for their country than they can behind bars for five years?

All the fellows agree that they are glad to be fighting for their country, but still the feeling that it is futile is working its way into the minds of some of us.

Maybe the boys don't want to come over here and fight, I don't like the idea of fighting too much either, but it has to be done. If we had more encouragement and less fanatical demonstrations, I am sure we could have this war over with in a short while. I know we would be more willing to fight.

I guess I will close for now. Write soon, we like to know you remember we are over here and that we have your support.

Your son,
Dave

As it appears to me—

By Leslie Winburn

Rounding the turn and coming in to the eighth week of school, Murray students are nervously awaiting their nine-weeks' grades. Because grade points are being emphasized this year more than ever before, every exam is extremely important. One boy was recently overheard telling his friends about a tough exam. He expressed the feeling of several people when he said, "I can smell those rice paddies already."

Although there are many important factors involved in getting good grades, some students may be ignoring a likely possibility. Often your attitude in class can sway 'the benefit of the doubt' in your direction. Instead of sitting in the back of the class, try sitting up front. Then make a habit of nodding your head in wild agreement whenever the teacher emphasizes a point. You might even mutter, "Ain't it the truth"—if it's not an English class, that is.

Another approach to making a hit with your teacher concerns laughing it up. You roar with laughter when your teacher tells a joke. Oh, and you'll know he told one when he looks up expectantly.

October of '65 will be a month that many Murray students will always (?) remember. For instance, Preston Parker won't forget that he almost overslept and missed his initiation into Phi Theta Kappa, and Terry Elizondo won't forget being shot by an arrow from the girls' archery practice.

Students can never forget the hilarious antics of the four mysterious 'guest cheerleaders' who led some yells at the pre-Cameron pep assembly and helped ignite the spirit that almost led to a Murray victory. A fine example of the school spirit everyone felt that day was the tremendous competition yell led by our own cheerleaders. Congratulations to those girls for their endless supply of pep and spirit—it's beginning to get contagious.

Everyone wants to know: Why two freshmen girls have been sitting in the trees near the Murray Monument. Linda McCarroll and Carol Halstead, what's so interesting about the view from up there?

And remember, "Early to bed and early to rise"—will result in your missing a great deal that doesn't go on in the daytime.

Murray senate attends OJCSSA

Four voting delegates, representing Murray College, recently attended the first annual Oklahoma Junior College Student Senate Association meeting, held at St. Gregory's College, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Ricardo Gonzalez, International Club representative, ran for the office of vice-president, but was defeated by five votes, by Preston Seism, a delegate from Okla. St. Tech.

Other elected officers of the newly former association are as follows: President, Leon Jones, Bacone College; Secretary, Aurora Anderson, Altus Junior College; Treasurer, Evelyn Williams, Bacone College; Parliamentarian, Mary Coe, Altus Junior College; Historian, John Holahan, St. Gregory's College.

The Murray delegates took an active part, in the convention events; ratifying of the constitution, planning of the calendar, training program activities, discussion groups and the planning of the spring meeting.

Other delegates from Murray who attended the convention were; Preston Parker, President of the Student Senate; Barry Buchannon, Music Club representative; and David Spears, student representative.

Science club hears Beaty; plans trip

Thursday night, October 7, Leslie Beaty spoke to twenty seven members of the Science Club and their sponsors, Paul Park and Howard Johnson. Beaty is assistant manager of the Federal Wildlife Refuge located southeast of Tishomingo, and has completed a four year curriculum in wildlife management at Colorado State University. Prior to his work in Oklahoma, he worked in Montana, Colorado, and Kansas.

In his talk, entitled "Public Use of Wildlife Refuges", Beaty explained that the main purpose of a refuge is to protect wildlife and to prevent extinction of certain species. He also pointed out that a refuge is for public use not public abuse.

Following the guest speaker's talk, Rick Womack conducted the business meeting of the club. Loma Steele was chosen reporter and plans were made for a trip to the Nobel Foundation at Ardmore on October 18.

Homecoming near; clubs must elect queen candidate

Has your club selected its candidate for Homecoming Queen? If not, arrangements should be made soon. The deadline for submitting candidates is 5:00 p.m., Friday, October 29.

The student body will vote on the candidates Wednesday, November 3. The election period will last from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. Voting will be in the foyer of the Student Center and will be handled by the Student Senate.

Police chief asks students' co-operation

Jack Hutchins, Chief of Police, has asked that all Murray students observe speed limits and co-operate with the city police department at all times. Student drivers are urged to travel 35 m.p.h. or less on city streets and no more than 15 m.p.h. when in school zones.

These speed requirements are enforced for the protection of driver and pedestrians alike and each student's co-operation will be appreciated.

Aggicite enters six categories in OCPA contest

Monday, October 18 was the deadline for entries in the annual Oklahoma College Press Association Contest. Murray's newspaper, the Aggicite, has entered articles in the following categories: Feature Story writing, Editorial writing, Sports and News Writing, Photography, and All-Around Newspaper. Five articles in each category were selected from issues of the Aggicite dating from January of the past school year until the most recent issue printed.

Presentation of awards to winners in the various sections of the contest will be made at the OCPA Banquet in Stillwater on November 19. The banquet will be a highlight of the OCPA Fall Conference being held November 19-20 on the Oklahoma State University campus. Several members of the Aggicite staff will accompany Mr. Wood to this convention to represent Murray College.

Cast selected for all-school performance

With the announcement of the players who will take the various parts, construction of the setting begun, and rehearsals each evening, the production of "Night of January 16th" scheduled for November 15 and 16 is now well underway, according to Fred Poe, director of the play.

Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Patricia Whitson, Ardmore freshman, has been chosen for the leading feminine part, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the murder trial. Nor has it the hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, which will be taken by Gary Buckner, Corpus Christi, Texas, sophomore.

Twelve important members of the cast remain to be chosen, but they, fortunately need no rehearsing and will not be selected until the night of the performance. They are the jury, who will listen to the evidence; render the verdict which of the two endings written for the play will be used. Among well known people who have served on the jury during the professional performances of the play are Jack Dempsey, James Roosevelt, Ricardo Cortez, Babe Ruth and Helen Keller, on another occasion four United States Congressmen were among the jurors' Buckler of Pennsylvania, Dunn of Minnesota, McFarlane of Texas and Charles Kramer of California.

Art club forms; needs new members

Are you interested in the finer things of life? Then you ought to join the young but growing Art Club of Murray College.

Tuesday evening, October 12, the initial meeting of the club was held to elect officers and formulate a constitution. Officers chosen for the coming year were: president, Froman Cowan; vice-president, Leslie Winburn; and secretary-treasurer, Joan Shuman. Sherry Alexander was elected to serve as both Student Senate representative and reporter for the club.

The club's sponsor, Larry Milligan, asked a committee to write a constitution for club members to consider at the next meeting. Upon approval of the club, the constitution will be submitted to the Student Senate for acceptance. The Art Club will then be officially recognized as a campus organization.

All students of Murray are invited to join the club and participate in its activities. Membership is not limited to those enrolled in art classes.

Student Senate sign project now underway

The Murray College Student Senate sign project is now taking shape, according to Preston Parker, Senate President. The sign will be located on the north side of the campus, facing Murray Drive. It will be fifteen feet tall and will be constructed of aluminum poles, and ten inch aluminum letters on redwood. The letters will read "MURRAY STATE COLLEGE". The poles and redwood have been purchased, and the letters will be delivered this week. Plans are being made to light the sign also. The Murray College Student Senate is paying all cost of this project.

Cotton to fill vacant office

The members of Fulton Hall held a meeting October 5, to fill the vacant office of secretary-treasurer. Raymond Cotton, sophomore, Hillsboro, was elected. Steve Howe, freshman, Sulphur, formerly occupied the office.

The third annual Murray State College high school Basketball Coaching Clinic will be held on the Murray campus Saturday, Oct. 30, according to Athletic Director Gene Robbins.

The program will get underway at 9:45, following a welcome by Dean Cleveland of Murray State. Registration will be from 9 o'clock until 9:45 a.m.

Leading off the program will be Charles Heatley, head roundball mentor at Lindsay, with a discussion on fundamental drills. Heatley will be followed by Spiro coach Gerald Blankenship, who will speak to the group on the zone press.

Starbuck Roberts, of Oklahoma City's Harding high school, will be the final speaker before the lunch break. Roberts' part of the program will include a discussion and demonstration of the man for man defense.

The clinic will resume at 12:45, with Bailey VanZant of Pryor, speaking to the assembly on the zone defense. Taking the floor next will be Roy Cates, of LaGrange high school in Lake Charles, Louisiana. He will talk to the high school coaches from throughout the area on the use of the zone and zone press offense.

Barry Dowd, of Thomas Jefferson high school in Dallas, will explain the use of the fast break type offense. In a discussion from 2:50 to 3:33, Joe Shoulders, of Tulsa McLain, will talk on the man for man offense. The multiple post offense will be the topic of discussion by Bill Blakely, of St. Marks high school in Dallas.

Closing out the program will be Jenks Simmons, El Reno high school coach, who will speak to the group on "basketball and the athlete."

All coaches present for the third annual event, will be the guests of the college at the Murray State and Oklahoma Military Academy gridiron clash to get underway on the local field at 8 o'clock.

Engineers choose queen candidate

The Engineer's Club met October 14 to select its candidate for 1965 Homecoming Queen. Leslie Winburn was chosen as the Engineer's representative. A freshman journalism major, Leslie is co-editor of the Aggie and vice-president of the Art Club.

The Engineer's Club has scheduled its annual Auto Derby for Tuesday, October 26. Information will be posted as to starting place and time. Anyone is eligible to enter for cash prizes and lots of fun.

It's that time again

Aggies hit the hardwood

The Murray State roundballers of coach Gene Robbins began their first pre-season drills Thursday, Oct. 21, with veteran sophomores dominating the group.

Reporting to Robbins for the first drills were ten sophomores and five freshmen. Last year Robbins' team had only two sophomores.

Shouldering the hopes of the 1955-56 Aggies will be three returning All-Conference players. Back from last year squad, which finished 22-6, are Lewis Lillie, 6'3" forward from Houston; Julius Simon, a 6'2" guard also from Houston; and Ardell England, a 6'7" center from Oklahoma City.

When questioned about the Murray chances for the coming season, Coach Robbins noted that, "This group of boys could go a long way if their attitudes are right". He added, "We will either be a very good team or a very poor one, it all depends on the individual."

Linda Russell is Rodeo Club representative

Linda Russell, freshman from Dale, Oklahoma, was selected to represent the Rodeo Club as a candidate for Homecoming Queen at the club's regular meeting October 13.

Sponsored by Jymme Sells and Wendell Blair, the club made plans for several activities during October. These included operating the concession stand at the Murray-Cameron football game and holding a dance afterward. Plans were also made for a party for club members and their dates that was held at the Elks Lodge in Tishomingo, October 21.

Dean will speak to Madill club

Academic Dean Dr. Richard Murray will address the Madill Daughters Club on "Higher Education Today." The dates has been set for November 4.

Dr. Murray's talk will be designed to give the women of Madill a greater insight toward what will be expected of their children in college. The mothers will then be better prepared to help their children, as entering freshmen, to feel qualified to meet the challenges they must face.

What's an education good for anyway?

Just a lot of practical things... like a good job, a good salary, and a better share of the good things in life. You wouldn't want to do without any of them. But you may be forced to... if you settle for less than a good education.

Don't kid yourself. A good education isn't a luxury today. It's an absolute necessity. With most employers, a good education is the first requirement for a good job... a good paying job... a job with a good future.

So, if you're in school now... stay there! Learn all you can for as long as you can. If you're out of school, you can still get plenty of valuable training outside the classroom. Find out about it. Visit the Youth Counsellor at your State Employment Service.

Herman Crook powers through the Cameron secondary for a good gain early in the second quarter. Cameron defeated Murray however, 28-21.

Cameron slips by Murray; Aggies nearly pull upset

Lawton's Cameron Aggies overcame a 20-7 deficit in the fourth quarter of action Saturday night to post a 28-20 win over the Murray College eleven before a near capacity crowd on hand for the local college's Parent Night.

Murray quarterback Gary Lively, a Baden, Penn. product, had a hand in all three Aggie touchdowns, as he ran for two and hit end Billy Woods for a third.

Cameron got on the scoreboard just a minute and 11 seconds after the opening kickoff, with defensive halfback Marshall White racing 37 yards after picking off a stray Murray aerial. The kick for the point after touchdown was good and it looked as though Cameron was on its way to an easy romp of Murray's unheard Aggies.

Trailing by seven points early in the game, Murray began to loosen up its air attack and came storming back to score on a 50 yard pass play from quarterback Gary Lively to Billy Woods. The conversion attempt split the uprights and the score stood 7-7, with 6:40 remaining to play in the first quarter.

Tommy Caskey gave Murray its second scoring opportunity of the night when he recovered a fumbled punt inside the Cameron five yard line. From there it was just a matter of time before Lively crossed the white stripe, giving Murray a 13-7 advantage. The conversion kick failed.

Murray Leads at Half
Throughout the remainder of the first half the two teams battled evenly, with the local Aggies taking a 13-7 lead to the dressing room.

The superior play of Murray's line was again shown early in the third period when several hard charging linemen barred the ball line from a Cameron back and Chris Williams pounced on it at the visitors' 45 yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, after the fumble recovery, Lively again found Woods all alone and hit him at the seven for a 39 yard pass completion. Again it was Lively going in for the TD. The kick was true and Murray held a 20-7 advantage with 7:35 remaining to be played in the third quarter.

From that point, however, everything seemed to be coming Cameron's way. The visitors' crushing ground game began to roll, as they struck for three touchdowns in less than eight minutes to take the lead, 28-20.

Murray tried desperately to score again, but time proved to be more of a factor than the play of the huge Cameron team.

Heroics were common among the Murray team, as linemen and backs alike turned in top notch performances.

Outstanding back in the Cameron game was Gary Lively, sophomore from Baden, Pennsylvania who scored twice and threw for another touchdown. Lively threw for Murray's first TD and scored the others on runs of 1 and 2 yards.

Larry Woods, freshman from Wynnewood in his first starting appearance of the season, was chosen outstanding defensive player by the coaches. Sharing the defensive honors was Antonio Treadaway, freshman from Shreveport, Louisiana.

The loss was the first for coach Wayne Canady's Murray Aggies in six starts.

Tigers remain atop standings

The American league leading Tigers kept their record unblemished by trouncing the cellar dwelling Stud Duds 20-0 last Monday. On the same night, the second place Hot Shots forfeited to the last place Studs, giving the Studs a tie for second place and the Tigers an even greater lead.

Rodeo Club, who has yet to see its first win, retained a hold on fourth place by virtue of a postponed game. The Mercenaries and Stud Duds, who are also winless, fill out the standings in fifth and sixth places.

The National league standings remained the same, as the Catchers posted their third win, downing the No Counts, 14-0. The Refugees eked out a 6-0 win and a tie to remain within striking distance. In their game earlier this season, the Refugees and Catchers battled to a 6-6 deadlock.

In a somewhat less than decisive game, the Swamp Rats defeated the No Counts 16-0, but the victory was not confirmed at press time because of the possibility of an ineligible player.

Northern Junior College stayed alive in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference race by defeating Connors 41 to 20 Saturday, October 23. Northern now stands 2-1 in conference play. They have to defeat conference leader Eastern to maintain a tie.

Murray Aggies lost to Navarro Junior College 30 to 15 in a non-conference game.

Oklahoma Junior College Conference leader, Eastern upset last years score of 14 to 6 to insure itself of at least a tie for the title. Fourth rank Murray is the only one left in Eastern's way.

Ray Frantarcangelo Eastern's fullback added another 6 points to raise his season's total to 57.

OMA meets Murray at Tishomingo Saturday, October 30 in a do-or-die game for both teams. The winner of this game could tie Eastern for the conference title.

Here is how the Oklahoma Junior College shapes up as to date.

Gary Lively bursts into the end zone from the one to score one of his touchdowns against Cameron.

Navarro fast backs too much for Murray Aggies

Nationally ranked Navarro ran by Murray Aggies Saturday, October 23 by 15 points.

Navarro scored three times on long runs to out score Murray 30 to 15.

Murray opened the scoring when Antoine Treadaway, freshman from Shreveport, La. recovered a fumble in the end zone and Mike Jordan added the extra point.

On the kick-off, a Navarro back received the ball in his end zone and behind a fine blocking wall, ran down the side line for a Navarro touchdown that covered 100 yards. The extra point was good to tie the score 7-7.

Navarro scored once more in the first quarter on a pass play from Larry Hullett to Jack Williams to make the score 14 to 7 at the end of the first quarter.

Charles Thornton intercepted a Murray pass on his 22 yard line and ran 78 yards for Navarro's final score of the half. The half ended with Navarro leading the Aggies 29 to 7.

The third quarter started with Murray moving the ball well but unable to score. Navarro kicked a field goal from 41 yards out that was good for three points to put Navarro ahead 23 to 7. Late in the third quarter Charles Thornton rambled 75 yards on a punt return to score Navarro's final touchdown. The quarter ended with Navarro 30 to 7 ahead.

Dick Hander, freshman from Corpus Christi, Texas recovered a Navarro fumble in the end zone and Gary Lively ran the ball across for the final two points to make the score 15 to 30.

Paul Stewart had this to say, "I am against the protests because they do not show American patriotism."

The belief that the U. S. should continue its present Vietnamese policy was summed up by Abdollah Falsafi, who said, "I am against these demonstrations and I feel the United States should stay in Viet Nam."

When asked about his feelings on the subject, Dean Kennedy answered with another question. "Why should the guys be giving their lives for freedom, when the people over here are fighting and fussing about it?"

Roger Watkins' only comment was "better dead than red".

Student Senate President Preston Parker felt that "in lieu of the nation-wide protest meetings and marches, there should be a counter movement against the marches". He added, "Since most college students do support the administrations policy in Viet Nam, they should speak out rather than remaining in a passive role".

And speak out they did.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is at present leading a ground swell of American reaction against demonstrations protesting U. S. policy in Viet Nam.

College students—from whose ranks most of the peace marchers sprang—are planning programs to show their support for American combat troops.

A spokesman at Washington State University said that the university's annual blood drive had been tied to the Viet Nam effort after a Red Cross aide noted that some of the blood would probably end up in Viet Nam as plasma for wounded servicemen.

An organization of about 75 students at Michigan State University has launched a drive to get 15,000 student signatures on a petition supporting President Johnson.

Petitions are also being circulated at West Virginia State College. Here, officials hope to obtain 1,000 signatures supporting the American fighting men.

Plans for a parade down Fifth Avenue in New York City are being mapped by the newly formed citizens committee to support American Viet Nam efforts.

And so, the protests and the anti-protest protests continue.

Reading list offers variety

There are many variations in the reading material contained in the new book list in the Murray College Library. Subjects include art, science, government, history, religion, cooking, and references.

Critiques of four major novels by Ernest Hemingway can be found in Ernest Hemingway by Carlos Baker. For the basis of a research paper in the field of science, history, literature, or humanities this book will be of interest.

Wheels Across America by Clarence Hornung has made available to the public over 1,100 rare engravings, prints, and early photographs of America's growth in transportation.

Are the problems raised by automation and television without parallel in human history? No, the same basic problem was discussed by Aristotle, Adam Smith, and Karl Marx. The Great Ideals Today by Robert Hutchins illuminates the contemporary world by discussing it in terms of great writings.

The Best of Robert Service by Robert Service displays collected poems with a setting in the Alaska Yukon. The poems, telling stories about the prospectors and bar room characters, are similar to ballads.

Dummy boosts school spirit

No, that wasn't Dean Cleveland hanging in effigy last Wednesday morning. The figure that was seen hanging in the tree outside Patton Hall was to represent a Cameron player. The Pop Club sponsored the building of the dummy to boost school spirit for the Murray-Cameron game Saturday night.

The Cameron dummy was carried on a stretcher into the assembly Friday morning. Gary Buckner, Bernie Mathias, Ronnie Westfall, and Marvin Esmond, four "female" cheerleaders introduced the dummy and led a few cheers.

Saturday night, previous to the game, the dummy was carried to the south end of the football field where it was thrown, amid much yelling and cheering, into a large bonfire which had been kindled for that purpose.

The 1965-66 Student Senate officers are, from top to bottom, Rodger Aucoin, Paula Robinson, and Preston Parker. They were chosen in an election last spring.

Senate officers are busy people

Preston Parker, sophomore from Scottsdale, Arizona is 1965-1966 Student Senate president. Carrying a double major of history and English, Preston must combine a busy schedule of studies with the equally demanding tasks that his office requires. As a freshman at Murray, Preston was listed on the Dean's Honor Roll the second semester and this year he became a member of Phi Theta Kappa.

Vice-president of the Student Senate is Rodger Aucoin, a sophomore general education major from Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Rodger, who acquired the nickname "Cajun" last year, has played football both years at Murray and is currently president of the O Club. He served as reporter for his freshman class.

Paula Robinson is secretary-treasurer of the organization. Paula is a sophomore elementary education major from Tishomingo. An outstanding student, Paula maintained a 4.0 average the first semester of last year and narrowly missed a perfect average the second semester. She was a member of the Angel Flight and the Phi Theta Kappa, and was elected Campus Sweetheart. This year Paula is drum major of the Aggie Marching Band and a member of the girl's drill team.

Past Memories—

I would like to make an apology to Mickey Rowe. In the last copy of the Aggie Lite, I stated that he had his Bachelor's Degree, Mickey has completed his Master's Degree.

Trent Holman and Kay Mayberry, who were married while they were students at Murray in 1963, are now living in Moore. Trent works for the Oklahoma Tax Commission.

Patsy Belcher, '64, who was editor of the Aggie Lite while at Murray, is now serving as editor of the ESU paper at East Central State College. Patsy was editor of the East Central Journal last year.

The "Balladiers" are all graduates of Murray. This folk-singing group is composed of Ronnie and Lonnie Mayo, '65, and Jerry Jimenez who transferred in January, '65. All the boys are now attending Southeastern State College.

Jerry did a solo act at "Six Flags

Over Texas" during the summer.

Harry Boyd, '65, is doing an outstanding job in football at Central State. Harry played on the main squad while at Murray.

Robinson crowned homecoming queen

Paula, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Robinson, was crowned by Student Senate President Preston Parker. Prior to the crowning, Miss Robinson was presented with a bouquet of red roses.

Queen Paula and her two attendants, Mattie Loffer and Linda Russell, were presented to the throngs of people on hand for the annual event, as the Murray marching band played "Wonderland by Night". The crowning ceremony took place in the center of a shell formation made through combined efforts of the band and the girls' drill team, facing the east stands.

Following the crowning, the girls were brought to the west side of the field where they were again presented to the crowd.

Paula was the queen candidate from the Aggie club, while Mattie, a sophomore from Madill, represented the sophomore class. Linda is a freshman from Shawnee and represented the Rodeo Club.

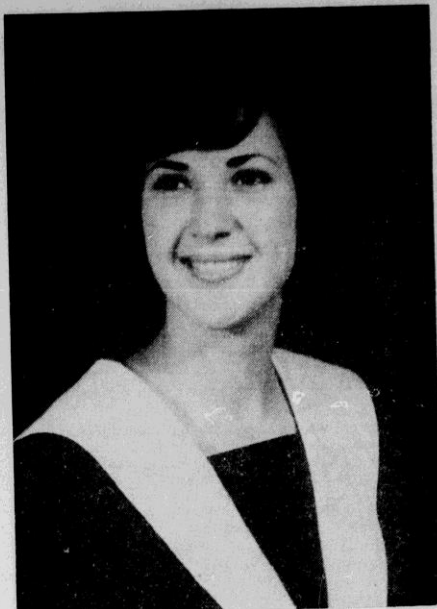

During the early part of the half-time show, the drill team, under the direction of Miss Sells, exhibited their marching skills in routines to popular musical hits. The girls did dance routines to "Rock Around the Clock" and "Shake Rattle and Roll."

During pre-game activities all ten queen candidates were recognized. They were Carol Watkins, Music Club; Karen Caldwell, "O" Club; Sherida Eidson, International Club; LaJoy Walters, Home Economics Club; Leslie Winburn, Engineers Club; Linda Russell, Rodeo Club; Paula Robinson, Aggie Club; Mattie Loffer, Sophomore class; LaVonda Loyd, Freshman class; and Liz King, Pep Club.

The Murray marching band, under the direction of Mr. Reid, played the National Anthem and the invocation was given by Mike Jackson to get the clash between the two rival schools underway.

Following the game, the traditional homecoming dance was held in the student union under the sponsorship of Phi Theta Kappa honor fraternity. The Renegades, from Shawnee, provided the musical backdrop for the affair.

PAULA ROBINSON, a sophomore education major and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Robinson of Tishomingo, was crowned 1965 homecoming queen at halftime of the Murray-Eastern game.

"Night of January 16th" audience acts as jury

Something new in theatricals will be the feature of the evening when the Drama Department of Murray College presents "Night of January 16th" in the college auditorium on Monday and Tuesday evenings, November 15 and 16. There have been plays before with vague endings, but this is the first one in which the audience takes an integral part in its development and conclusion. Talented actress Patricia Whitson portrays the part of Karen Andre, a girl on trial for murder, and the jury selected from the audience is given the problem of deciding her guilt or innocence.

As they get their seats at the box office, patrons may leave their names as candidates for jury duty. On the evening of the performance these names are given to the Clerk of the Court, who places them in a drum, and the twelve that are drawn by lot are selected to serve. The Clerk, played by Anson Shuman, will then address the audience and explain that twelve of them will be called upon to come up and take their places in a regular jury box just as they would in a legitimate court trial. The twelve will be sworn in and will listen to the testimony.

Between the acts the jurors are led off to a small deliberation room. Each act represents one day of the trial. Just before the ending of the third act the jury retires for the last time to render a verdict. They vote after a short discussion, and although legally a unanimous decision for a verdict is required, for the sake of dramatic brevity a majority vote is taken as decisive for this trial.

Free tickets to all-school play available now

Tickets to the two performances of "Night of January 16th" are now available, according to Fred Poe, director of the play.

Admission to the play on either night, November 15 or 16, will be granted only to those with tickets, due to the limited seating capacity of the college auditorium.

No charge will be made for the tickets, which may be picked up at Mr. Poe's office on the first floor of the Administration building. Everyone is urged to secure a ticket as soon as possible due to the limited number available. The tickets will be different colors to signify which night of the performance its holder may attend, so if you have a preference, get your ticket now.

Candidates for Homecoming presented Nov. 1

"Autumn Leaves", the annual presentation of the candidates for Homecoming Queen, was held in the college auditorium, Monday, November 1.

To begin the evening Darrell Archer, a sophomore, general education major from Bethel, played and sang "Autumn Leaves".

Donna Martin, freshman elementary education major, Tishomingo, presented the Music Club candidate, Carol Watkins. Carol is a freshman from Tulsa majoring in music. Carol was escorted by Mike Jordan, freshman. Mike is a pre-vet major from Sulphur Springs, Texas.

The "O" Club candidate, Karen Caldwell, was presented by Rosetta Favors, sophomore, Colbert, majoring in Home Economics. Karen, an Ardmore freshman, is majoring in business administration. Karen was escorted by Rodger Aucoin. Rodger, a sophomore majoring in general education, is from Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Sharon Jones, Bennington sophomore, majoring in general education, introduced the representative from the International Club, Sherida Eidson. Sherida, a freshman from Earlsboro, is a secretarial administration major. Sherida was escorted by Ricardo Gonzalez, a sophomore business administration major from Havana, Cuba.

Sophs discuss monogrammed pins

Monday night October 25, at 6:30 p.m. the sophomores held a meeting to discuss buying gold plated pins with the initials of Murray State College on them. The price of the pins are 65 cents each.

At the meeting they elected Mattie Loffer, from Madill, for their representative for homecoming queen.

Also at the meeting they planned to share the concession stands at the Eastern vs. Murray football game with the freshmen.

Halloween dance follows OMA game

A Halloween dance and party was sponsored by the Student Senate after the Murray-OMA ballgame, October 30.

Along with dancing and games, refreshments were enjoyed by the large number of students who attended. Prizes of five dollars each were presented to the "best-dressed girl", Rodger Aucoin, who came as a blushing (?) bride, and to the "best-dressed boy", Dick Hander, who was attired in a Jungle-Jim outfit.

Winner of the special "door prize" was John Bradley, who found himself the new owner of a 9'x3' authentic old door.

BULLETIN

Richard Murray, Academic Dean at Murray has announced that Murray College Achievement day will be Wednesday, November 24. Therefore, the Thanksgiving holidays will begin after classes are dismissed Tuesday, November 23.

The holiday was granted upon request of the Student Senate in special recognition of the students of Murray College.

The Murray Aggies will travel to Kilgore, Texas Saturday, November 13. This game will complete the 1965 football season.

Art club okays constitution; discusses tour

The Art Club of Murray State College met at 6:00 p.m. in the classroom building, Thursday, November 4. Froman Cowan called the meeting to order and then asked the club members to read over the new constitution. The constitution received a 3/4 majority of votes of the club and shall go into effect upon receiving the approval of the Murray Student Senate.

Next there was a general discussion about taking a week-end tour of museums in Oklahoma.

A representative from A. & E. in Oklahoma City has been invited to discuss commercial techniques before the art club sometime in the near future.

"I AM A STOP SIGN"

You probably don't know me, but I am the slender fellow with a bright red face who stands on the corner in front of Murray College. For nine weeks I have stood there, waiting patiently for somebody to notice me, but so far my wait has been in vain. When I took my job, I believed that I was to have a position of great authority and that my word would be law. Some fairy tale that turned out to be!

At first I blamed myself because people were blithely ignoring me and cruising on around the corner barely bothering to shift into second gear. I even got a bit panicky, wondering if perhaps I was getting invisible or something. Now I know that my fears were absurd and that the blame lies with certain people whose names I can't list because their number includes just about the whole register of students at Murray College and about half of the residents of the town. People! If only you people could stand in my place and observe the sights I witness daily, how differently you would behave behind your steering wheels.

I scarcely enjoy being rooted helplessly in the ground, watching car after car narrowly escape colliding with another car simply because its driver fails to heed the meaning of my one-word decree. What will cause people to cease this reckless disregard for safety? Perhaps a jolting crash or two would make people aware of my presence.

My concern extends beyond my own small corner, however, for I believe that each time a driver gets away with failure to stop for me he becomes a bit more daring, and he will soon be a habitual violator of other traffic laws, as well. He will believe that regulations are for 'the other guy'. Why do you suppose a highway intersection has been defined as 'the place where the bodies are found'? Many of those bodies belong to drivers who thought the signs were for the other guy.

YOU are 'the other guy' in my books, and I'm going to keep on waiting patiently on my corner, now that I have expressed my feelings. You have two choices; either you will obey the law or you will continue to ignore it. And if you choose to ignore it, I'll be standing there when you fail to stop just once too often. I don't know how you'll get yours—head on or broad-side. Maybe you'll just hit a pedestrian and send him screaming to the hospital. Which ever occurs, I'm afraid you'll find it much more costly than this advice.

Perhaps you are feeling indignant just now because you can't remember a time that you have failed to stop for a stop sign. Then my congratulations to you! The individuals like you enable our country to maintain some degree of law and order. To the more numerous body of selfish, egotistical citizens-on-wheels, I only say, "If the shoe fits, wear it." Wear it until the day your luck meets an end in a grinding crash of metal, glass, and human bodies.

WHICH ONE ARE YOU —

Have you ever asked yourself this question? "If every student performed just the way I do, where would Murray State College be?"

What if every student performed and worked just the way you do? What if every student showed the same interests, faithfulness, the same skill and discipline? What would Murray State be like?

It really is good that not everyone is a natural born leader because more followers are needed than leaders. However, it is important how one follows. A club, no matter how hard the officers work, will dissolve if it doesn't have co-operation and assistance from its members. A football team will play hard to win a game, but they will play a lot harder if there is a large crowd boosting them to victory. It is discouraging to them though, if their fellow students don't even care about the outcome.

There are two kinds of people; those who are part of the problem and those who are part of the answer. WHICH ONE ARE YOU ??? —G.D.

As it appears to me—

By Leslie Winburn

Everyone got into the spirit of things at the gay Halloween party sponsored by the Student Senate. Could the punch have had anything to do with this? Connie Holder testifies that she had three cups of the stuff and it was pretty stout. The 'door prize' gag contributed to the hilarity of the evening, at any rate. Some people were surprised that the prize was a genuine old door. And what's this about Mike Jordan stuffing the ballot box trying to win?

It seems that Sunday, October 31, was a day of undeclared war around campus. It was Viet Nam West, with water balloons as the ultimate weapons. Van Chew, were you one of the casualties of the battle? Even so, you probably will consider yourself lucky when you compare experiences with Yvette Stamps. I hear she had some 'raw' luck in an egg fight the night before. Eggs are handy, in the long run but who likes long runny eggs?

Preston Parker, president of the Student Senate, has a brand new, solid walnut gavel that's guaranteed to put the fear into anyone careless enough to be 'out of order' in a meeting. Just remember, Preston, to rap the gavel on the table first, and then on the nearest head if you want immediate results.

Rain, rain, and more rain fell on Murray last week. The question arises, however: Which dampened your spirits the most, the heavy rain or your nine weeks' grades?

HAPPINESS is knowing you set the curve on a nine-weeks' test. FEAR is watching Mr. Goss hand out a history exam.

SECURITY is finishing a term paper three weeks before it's due.

BULLETIN

Schedules of next semester's classes will be available this week in the registrar's office, according to Mrs. Louise Craven. Pre-enrollment for students who have not attended Murray previously will begin Monday, November 22 and will continue through January 8, 1966.

Students currently enrolled at Murray will pre-enroll from December 1 until December 11.

Murray Aggies stun OMA

By Richard Break

Murray Aggies struck for at least one touchdown in each period Saturday night to post a 33-14 upset victory over highly favored Oklahoma Military Academy on the local field.

Five Aggies got into the scoring column, as Murray posted its second conference win of the season.

The win gave the Aggies a 2-1 Oklahoma Junior College conference record and set the stage for the homecoming showdown with league leading Eastern last Saturday on the Murray gridiron. The Mountaineers were undefeated in three league starts.

Toni West was the big scoring gun with three touchdowns, while Billy Woods and Marvin Esmond each got one. Mike Jordan, Aggie placement specialist, added three extra points.

The Aggies scored one touchdown in the first quarter, two in the second and one each in the third and fourth periods for their season high scoring total.

Couch Wayne Canaday's Aggies were in control from the onset, hitting the scoreboard with 5:40 remaining to be played in the first quarter, as quarterback Marvin Esmond and Billy Woods teamed up on a 60 yard pass play. Esmond dropped back to throw, found the big end all alone and hit him with a strike at the O.M.A. 35 yard line. Woods scampered the last 35 yards to give Murray the lead, which it never surrendered. Mike Jordan entered the game and added the first of his three extra points.

Just eight minutes later Murray was on the scoreboard again, as fleet halfback Toni West went on a 29 yard jaunt to paydirt, to culminate a drive which started on the Aggie 11 yard line. Jordan's kick again split the uprights, for a 14-0 advantage.

Cadets Counter

The Cadets from OMA mounted their first serious offensive threat of the evening midway in the second period, after Bobby Rogers picked off a stray Murray aerial and returned it to the Aggie 21 yard marker. OMA then sprang Rodger Thompson loose on a 21 yard scoring jaunt to thin the Murray lead to 14-6. The conversion kick was true.

On the kick off, following the OMA score, Bobby Smith returned the ball from the end zone out to the Murray 45, to set the stage for the final Aggie score before halftime. From that point it took the local eleven just 11 plays to reach the promised land, with West bulling his way over from five yards out. The point after touchdown attempt sailed wide and the Aggies took a 20-7 advantage to the dressing room.

In moving in for their third TD of the night, Murray stayed entirely on the ground, choosing to grind the necessary yards in four and five yard licks.

Following the halftime break, Murray took the kick off and drove to the Cadet 24 before being faced with a fourth down and long yardage situation. Mike Jordan was called on to attempt a 39 yard field goal. The Cadet defensive unit was not to be denied, however, as a hard charging lineman managed to deflect the ball and it fell harmlessly.

The two teams then exchanged possession of the ball twice before Murray halfback Raymond Cotton came up with an interception at the OMA 34 yard line.

Esmond Goes Over

On the first play from scrimmage after the interception quarterback Marvin Esmond hit Bobby Smith at the 13 to give the Aggies a first down. Strambler then hit the center of the line for four yards. Esmond took it down to the five and a piling on penalty against the Cadets made it first and goal to go at the two and a half. From this point, Smith hit the line for no gain and West brought the ball to rest just six inches from paydirt. On third down, Esmond burst into the endzone for the counter. Jordan's placement was true and Murray owned a 27-7 lead, as the third quarter ended.

Throughout the biggest part of the fourth frame the two teams battled around the midfield stripe, with neither being able to mount a serious threat.

The Cadets pushed across their second touchdown of the contest in a desperate attempt to make the score at least respectable. Doyle Clark struck for the OMA marker on a five yard burst, with just 1:18 remaining to be played in the game. The extra point kick was good and the Cadets had their 14 point total.

With less than a minute to go Bobby Smith set sail on a 48 yard excursion to give Murray a first and goal at the 9 yard stripe. Toni West punched it across for the score in the waning seconds. The point after touchdown failed and

Intramural champ to be decided in Wednesday's game

The top two teams in each league will square off this week to determine the campus intramural football champion. The playoffs, which were originally scheduled November 8th and 11th have been postponed until the 15th and 18th because of rainy weather.

On the 15th, the Tigers, American league champs, will meet the National runner-up Refugees. The same night will see the Catchers, tops in the National league, battle the Mercenaries for a berth in the finals.

The winners of each game will play the 18th to decide first and second places, while the losers of their respective games will pair off to determine third and fourth.

The final game of the season will feature the American and National league all-stars. The top athletes in their respective leagues will be selected by a vote of the players. The post-season duel will be the last football action before the teams begin competition in basketball.

In the last regular season action, the Hot Shots forfeited to the Tigers.

the Aggies owned a 33-14 victory over the visitors from Claremore.

Toni West, sophomore from McKinney, Tex. rushed for 150 yards and 18 points to bring his season total to 42 points. Toni, along with Bobby Smith, sophomore from Houston, were named backs of the week. Bobby and Toni together accounted for over half of Murray's 450 yards (251 yards).

Larry Woods, freshman from Wynnewood along with Rodger Aucoin, sophomore from Baton Rouge, La. were named outstanding defensive players. This is the third straight week for Aucoin to be named as an outstanding player.

Coaches Canaday and Nelson said that Murray's win over OMA was an offensive and defensive team effort.

Aggies tie Eastern for 2nd in Juco Conference

Murray Aggies overcame a 14 point lead to tie Eastern Mountaineers 21 to 21 Saturday, November 6 to end the Oklahoma Junior College Conference competition.

A Homecoming crowd sat through the first quarter and saw Murray's defense stop the Eastern single wing offense time after time. The Aggie offense couldn't get going until the second half, therefore, it was up to the defense in the first half. Eastern scored late in the second quarter on a 19 yard pass play from Freeman Harris to James Stewart. The kick was good and Eastern held a 7 to 0 lead at half time.

The Mountaineers blocked a punt inside the Aggies 20 yard line and Ray Fratarcogelo carried it over from 4 yards out to give Eastern a 14 to 0 lead early in the third quarter.

Murray started their longest drive of the season behind quarterback Gary Lively from their 20 yard line and went 80 yards for the touchdown. Lively went over from 1 yard out to put Murray on the scoreboard. Mike Jordan added the extra point to make the score 14 to 7. Minutes later Herman Crook picked up an Eastern fumble and ran 48 yards for Murray's second touchdown behind some fine blocking. Jordan again added the extra point to tie the game 14 to 14.

Early in the fourth quarter Toni West out ran Eastern's defense to score from 47 yards out. The kick was good by Jordan and the Aggies were ahead for the first time 21 to 14. Murray's defense fought off Eastern's hard running backs for the next 10 minutes but Eastern's end, Arnold Taylor, made a fine catch in the end zone and the kick was good to tie the game 21 to 21. Time ran out before Murray could make a comeback.

was first present in New York it was feared that this innovation might not prove popular. Women might not like to have their escorts leave them to sit in a jury box, and patrons might prefer to watch the play from the auditorium, rather than the stage. But such fears proved groundless. Not only would the public serve on the jury gladly, it was pulling wires to get the chance. Each performance averaged a hundred candidates, and at no time was there a clown in the jury box to spoil the performance. The chief problem created by the juries was their restlessness. The jurors liked to stroll about the lobby between acts, but of course that could not be permitted, since jurors must be strictly removed from any possibility of influence or pressure brought to bear upon their decision. Also in this case, they must be on hand for the rising of the curtain.

A tabulation of the verdicts given during the Broadway run of the play shows that acquittals outnumbered convictions three to one. Since the evidence is so evenly balanced (on only two occasions were there unanimous verdicts,) this probably reveals a public bias against capital punishment.

Queen finalists told at rally

A pre-game pep assembly was held in the gym Thursday evening. At this assembly the top three girls for Homecoming Queen were announced. The girls were, Mattie Loffer, Linda Russell, and Paula Robinson.

Coach Canaday gave a pep talk and introduced all the sophomores who are playing on the football team.

The American College Test will be given on the Murray campus, Saturday, November 13. The test will begin at 8:00 A.M. in room 102 of the Classroom building. The Home Economics Department will serve refreshments.

Candidates—

The Engineers Club, was introduced by Sara McNew. Sara is a freshman home economics major from Lone Grove. Leslie is a freshman journalism major from Tishomingo. Leslie's escort was John Lively. John, a sophomore from Ardmore, is an engineering major.

Comedy team to take on faculty

The fabulous Harlem Travelers, featuring the kings of comedy basketball, will meet their toughest test of the young season on Nov. 18 at 8:00 in the Murray College field house.

The Travelers will take on a veteran squad composed of Murray College and Tishomingo high school faculty members in what should be one of the funniest basketball games played at Murray College.

The Harlem Travelers featured such stars as Ed Hurt, Bob Harrell, Ray Clay, Mack Thomas, Bill Allen, and Art Smith. The Murray College and Tishomingo high school All-Star team will be headed by Tallboy Woods, Crazylegs Mihura, Slick Canaday, Scooter Goss, and Slim Delver.

Admission costs will be 50 cents for students with I.D. cards and $1 for all others. Proceeds from the game will go to the "O" Club.

Chi Alpha elects officers; invites new members

The first meeting of Chi Alpha, a new fraternity for Pentecostal students, took place Monday night. At this meeting officers were elected. They are Carol Genn, president; Jim Mayberry, vice-president; Thelma White, secretary-treasurer; Lynda Keith, reporter; and Tom Estes, program chairman.

The sponsor of this organization is Rev. Lester Ames, pastor of the Assembly of God church in Tishomingo. Co-sponsors are Buddy Parks and Francis Moore.

Meetings will be held every Monday evening in the classroom building except the second Monday of the month when the District Chi Alpha rally takes place.

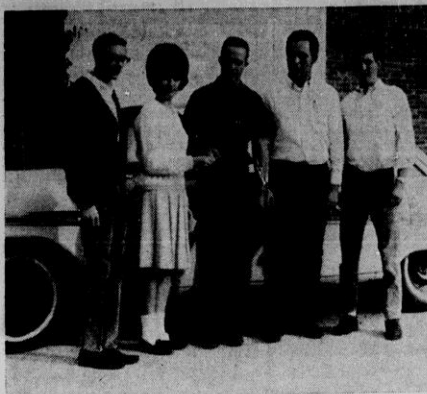

Purpose of this organization is to promote Christian fellowship on campus, and every student is cordially invited to join.

Linda Moore, who attended Murray in 1965 is to be married to Roy Capps from McCloud, Friday, November 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church at Harrah.

While attending Murray, Linda was elected Honorary Cadet Colonel, attendant for Homecoming Queen, and most likely to succeed.

After her marriage she plans to continue working for O.G.&E. until second semester, she then will continue her education at Northeastern A. & M. College.

BULLETIN

Murray College will be represented in the Madill Veteran's Day parade by the girl's drill team, the Aggies Marching Band, and the Goadiggers, Murray's pep club.

The festivities on November 11 will include a special ceremony at 12:45.

ella, Wilson, is a freshman home economics major. Liz, Tishomingo, a freshman majoring in home economics, was escorted by Paul Lambert. Paul, Tishomingo, is a sophomore general education major.

During the introductions Darrell Archer sang several songs, Liz King did a modern jazz dance, and the Men's Ensemble sang "Dear Heart." The program was sponsored by the Home Economics Department and Donald Day served as the Master of Ceremonies.

TEN HOMECOMING QUEEN candidates were presented to the student body Monday night, November 1, in the college auditorium. This program was sponsored by the College Home Economics Department.

Delbert Lester finishes first in Auto Derby

The Auto Derby is an annual event, presented each year by the Engineers Club. Cash awards were given to the first, second, and third place winners of the derby. Tuesday, October 26, was the date of this year's event. Approximately twelve cars took part in the action.

Delbert Lester, a sophomore from Soper, was the winner of the first place prize of $15.00. Accompanying him were his navigator, Larry Finney, and Tom House who went a long just for the ride.

Warren Roberts, a sophomore from Springer, came in second, receiving the $10.00 prize. Billy Porter acted as his navigator.

Third place winner, Perry McKinly, a sophomore from McCloud, received a $5.00 cash prize. Wayne Anderson acted as his navigator.

The course of the derby led the contestants north of Tishomingo, back east to Milburn, then back west through the game refuge, until they finally arrived at the point from which they had started. The starting time for the derby was 2:30. Each contestant was given a list explaining the route to be taken. Correct speed, comprehension of the odometer, and traveling the correct course, were the factors which had to be considered while traveling the route. Correct time for completing the entire route was forty minutes.

Murray graduate in second year as line coach

A Murray College graduate, Glenn Wolfe is in his second year as an assistant football coach at Lindsay high school.

Wolfe, who now tutors the Leopard linemen, was a member of the Aggie grid squad while attending Murray.

During his two years as an assistant at Lindsay, the orange and black gridders have compiled an 18-3 record, with one regular season game yet to be played. The Lindsay team will enter their fourth straight state playoff series on November 26.

Last year, in his first season at Lindsay, a Wolfe coached tackle, Danny Noles was named to the Daily Oklahoman All State squad.

Nov. 25 opens holidays season

Thankful Feeling Prevails at Murray

November 25 is a day on which all Americans will join in giving thanks for the many blessings of the past year. Across the land families will gather together for a day of fellowship with loved ones, and many people will have to travel great distances to be home for the occasion. Among the holiday travelers will be numerous students from Murray College. Therefore, in addition to wishing everyone a happy Thanksgiving, the Aggie staff urges each one to drive carefully.

Though every day is, or should be, a day of Thanksgiving, the final Thursday of November is designed as the national day of Thanksgiving, and the usual tendency is to list a number of things for which one is thankful. On the campus of Murray College several persons were asked to name the things for which they are most thankful, and their replies probably echo the feelings of most of us.

An often repeated reply to the question "For what are you thankful" was the answer, "For my country." Tom Wood added to this his thankfulness for "my health", and Connie Holder added home to the list.

Linda Hallmark covered the situation by saying that she's thankful for "everything in general". Tresia Ray commented that on her list would be "life, health, and the future."

"Murray College," was Darryl Archer's reply. "Because it's helped me in so many ways."

Rex Hefner, Jr. stated that he's grateful "that I'm still in college and not someplace else." Along this same line of thinking, Terry Wood and Bernie Mathias both were thankful that they're not in Viet Nam. Sherril Neal is grateful for "being able to keep out of the draft by keeping up my grades."

Miss Sells says she is thankful "for where I am, for who I am, and that there's no war prevailing. Also that this is a land of plenty."

Sonny Bentley will give thanks this year "for the freedom in our country and for my Christian home." Mickey Rowe answered that there are too many things for him to be able to eliminate any.

Kaye Essary's thankful to be going home, and Dean Ross says he's grateful for the holiday, too. Johnny Day summed up the object of his thankfulness in one word: "Girls!" Mattie Loffer is thankful to be alive and to see the beauties of the world.

Janelle Roberts said that she's thankful for her few troubles.

Many persons seemed unable to decide just which items they were most thankful, so when Paul Lambert was faced with the question, he finally replied, "I'm thankful that it's only an hour until dinner because I'm hungry."

Each of the various replies received could be repeated by so many persons on the Murray campus that this can justifiably be called a "cross-section" of the entire campus' viewpoint. In addition, there are numerous personal items for which each should offer thanks, not only on November 25 but on every day of the year. Happy Thanksgiving.

Art department in the process of development

Being offered this fall are two new courses which are, art appreciation, a course on the history and technical aspects of art, and free hand drawing which enable the student to draw objects of a material nature. Also, a night class of free hand drawing as well as painting is being taught.

At the present there are approximately forty students enrolled in the two courses but it is hoped that the enrollment will be higher next semester.

Paintings and drawings will be shown in an exhibition later in the semester.

Art 113 is being offered in the spring consisting chiefly of painting, this course is designed basically for the art major.

Local theater sets new charge for students

Through negotiation between the Student Senate and the management of the Thompson Theater, down town Tishomingo, a new admission price has been agreed upon for M.S.C. students.

The regular price of sixty-cents had been reduced to fifty cents, providing the student presents his student I. D. at the box office.

Because of this price change, there is to be only one more movie presented on the campus by the Student Senate.

More than 150 student journalists and faculty advisers from Oklahoma's state, municipal, and private colleges heard Senator Mike Monroney and 16 other speakers when the Oklahoma Collegiate Press Association held its annual fall conference Friday and Saturday, November 19-20, at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

Senator Monroney, a former newspaperman, addressed the OCPA at its evening banquet November 19 in the OSU Student Union, climaxing a day-long program of seminars, demonstrations, and talks by experts in various fields of college journalism.

The conference, co-sponsored by the OSU School of Journalism, was designed to acquaint members of the association with new techniques of producing college newspapers and yearbooks and to broaden their understanding of modern professional journalism.

Booklets expose advance profile

To show at a glance the main trends over the past century and where we stand at the present time with human and material resources in the counties of Oklahoma, the Technology Use Studies Center at Southwestern State College has made available a 17-volume series of booklets.

Each volume contains 45 tablets and 45 corresponding charts. Included are statistics on population, employment, and personal income; also agriculture, industry, education, housing, and voting records. Much of this data goes back to the time of statehood in 1907.

These booklets came from official and reliable sources of information which can serve as the starting point for evaluating realistically our potential for future growth and development. They are available at the circulation desk in the Murray State College Library.

CONSTRUCTION WORK continues to progress at a rapid rate on the new three story dormitory (background) and the new student union. Favorable weather conditions have permitted workmen of the Metropolitan Construction Co. of Oklahoma City to stay on schedule, which calls for completion of the work during the spring semester.

MY THANKSGIVING PRAYER

What does Thanksgiving mean to you, the time of the year to be at home and have a big feast, or perhaps the time of the year to be at home with your family and give thanks for the things you have?

A certain portion of the Thanksgiving holiday should be set aside to perhaps read a short Thanksgiving poem or to say a silent Thanksgiving prayer. This will be my prayer for this Thanksgiving day:

O God, I am thankful for each new friend I have made this year. I thank you for my home and my family and for the happiness given me by my family and friends. I thank you for the health, strength, and ability to do my work throughout each day of the year. Lastly, I thank you for making it possible for me to live in this free America, and to be able to give thanks on this Thanksgiving Day. O God, help each and everyone of us to not forget to make this holiday a Thanks-giving holiday.

Amen

BALLOTS TO BRICKS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

The other day a man handed me a brick, with only the explanation, "You can turn your ballots into bricks with a yes vote on State Question 433."

When the voters of Oklahoma go to the polls on December 14, they will carry with them the ability to set in motion the greatest construction boom in our 58 year history as a state. Passage of the question will provide a whopping $54,750,000 for construction of long over due buildings for our state colleges, universities, mental and public health institutions and reform and penal institutions.

The actual question coming before the electors is the approval to finance vast building programs through the sale of bonds. These bonds will be paid off from the already existing cigarette tax. No increase in taxes will be needed to finance the bond issue.

Although the actual amount of the bond issue is $54,750,000 the involved institutions can further qualify for federal matching funds, thus bringing the building program total as high as $85,000,000.

The program, which will get underway immediately upon approval by the voters, will be completed within five years.

State colleges and universities will receive a lion's share of the total amount. Some $38,500,000 will go to the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education, who will in turn divide the money between the schools under their control. These funds will be used entirely for building and the expansion of present facilities.

State Question 433 has no organized opposition—only the apathetic Oklahoma voter, who will sit at home on election day assuring himself that the issue will pass without his one small vote. However, let me assure you, that without each and every 'small' vote Question 433 doesn't stand a chance.

For many years the people of Oklahoma have held a rather indifferent attitude toward proposals such as 433. Time has come for us, as the future leaders of this state and nation, to do something to change this indifference.

Go to the polls on December 14 and cast your vote in support of improved facilities for our colleges and universities.

If you are below the voting age, explain the provisions of the proposal to your parents or to voting age friends. Make sure they understand the facts and urge them to tell others of the benefits that will come to our state.

In addition to the $54 million construction program, passage of the question will create thousands of new jobs, thus strengthening the Oklahoma economy.

Passage of State Question 433 will benefit every Oklahoman, from the youngest to the oldest. Its passage lies heavy on the shoulders of the college age youth of our state. — R.W.B. III

Orchids to the cast of "Night of January 16th" for their outstanding performances last Monday and Tuesday nights, and to Mr. Poe who directed the successful all-school play. Anyone who wasn't on hand for at least one of the exciting productions of the play certainly missed an entertaining evening.

Emotions ran high as the various characters took the witness stand and were examined in a most professional manner by the opposing attorneys. The difficult task of deciding the guilt or innocence of Karen Andre, played by Patricia Whitson, was left to a jury composed of twelve members of the audience on each of the two nights. It seems that opinions were fairly divided, as the Monday night jury voted to acquit the defendant while on Tuesday night another jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The defense side, headed by Joe Green, is to be congratulated for its effective case on Monday night. It seems that the prosecution, with Gary Buckner in his first stage role as the district attorney, took the Monday night defeat to heart. Mr. Poe says that Gary worked diligently with his witnesses and polished his case all day Tuesday, determined to swing Tuesday night's verdict to guilty.

It was evident that hours and hours of work went into this play on the part of the cast, the director, and the stage crew, and once again they are to be congratulated for the fine results. They played to near-capacity crowds on both nights, and I'm sure anyone who viewed the Murray College version of "Night of January 16th" will agree that it was definitely a success.

Don't forget to remember: The quickest way to do many things is to do only one thing at a time.

Have a Happy Holiday, and BE THANKFUL.

Eugene Bradley, 40, George Farr, 39, and Thomas Rae, 40, all grew up in the same town, graduated from the same high school and attended Murray State College together.

After attending Murray, Eugene and Thomas, still together, attended Oklahoma State University. They later served in the same branch of the service. All three served in the Air Force and all died as the result of plane crashes.

In 1941, Bradley was killed when his plane failed to come out of a dive. Two years later, Farr died when his jet crashed on takeoff. Last year, Rae was killed when his plane plunged into Herring Bay.

Millard "Mid" Biker, who is now living in Muskogee, attended Murray College in 1940-41.

Mid is now the Vocational Rehabilitation Specialist for this area. In addition to this, he also works with the Boy Scouts and his local Shrine.

While here at Murray, Mid ran the book store and he was one of the very first residents of Haskell Lucas.

DARRELL ARCHER, sophomore, tunes up his guitar for another performance.

Darrell Archer; songbird of Murray State campus

Songbird, Darrell Archer, sophomore from Bethel, started his music career at the age of six when he began singing with his mother. "I began singing when I was old enough to sing," was the reply to the question as to when he began to sing.

Darrell has composed many of the songs he sings when he appears on the Hudson Brother's Show and other worth-while gatherings. Along with singing, Darrell learned to play the piano and also the guitar without the help of lessons.

In high school he was president of the student senate and secretary of the senior class. While at Murray he has been president of the music club, vice-president of the Phi Theta Kappa, music chairman of BSU and member of the National Math Club. He also is on the Dean's Honor Roll.

Darrell has performed for the Rotary Club and Lions Club. Thursday, November 18, he traveled to Madill for the Baptist Youth Fellowship.

After finishing at Murray State, Darrell has plans to attend OBU, OU, or ESCS.

Painting, reading anti-Communist literature, and playing tennis are his hobbies. Many of his paintings have been priced, but none sold.

Darrell will appear again on the Hudson Brother's Show early in December.

BULLETIN

Christmas holidays will begin at 5:00 p.m. Wednesday, December 22, for Murray College students, according to Dr. Richard Murray, Academic Dean.

Classes will begin again at 8:00 p.m., Monday, January 3, 1967.

Mercenaries top final standings

The Mercenaries came out on top of the overall intramural football race by defeating the Catchers, 18-8 and squeaking by the American league leading Tigers 8-6.

Final playoff action left the Tigers, regular season champs in the American league, second behind the Mercenaries, with the Catchers filling the third place spot. The Refugees, runners up in the National league, finished fourth in the tournament.

The Bootleggers finished fifth by virtue of their regular season record. Behind them in the regular season standings were the Studs, No Counts, Rodeo Club, Hot Shots, who tied with the Rodeo Club for eighth place and the Stud Duds.

The No Counts are still on top of the overall standings, however. Their early win in the cross-country run and their seventh place finish in the football race give them a low point total of 26. The Mercenaries are in a relatively close second with 32 points, and the Tigers round out the top three with 34.

The rest of the standings are as follows: Refugees, Studs, Bootleggers, Catchers, Rodeo Club, Hot Shots, and Stud Duds.

Cagers campaign opens Nov. 29

Murray State College opens its basketball season November 29 away from home, playing four games on the road before returning for a home game. The Texoma Juco Tourney will be the first home game, this will start on the 14th of December and will last through the 16th.

The Aggies will meet their first test of the season in a non-conference match against Southwestern on Nov. 29. The game will get underway at 8 p.m. in the Lindsay high school gym.

Murray ended last year's season as Co-Conference Champions, Regional II Champions, Texoma Juco Champions, and ninth in the National Tournament.

The loss of Alvin Nelson and Shannon Saxton by graduation will be heavily felt as they were a great factor in stabilizing the ball club during the past season. It is hoped that some of the returning people will have the desire and develop the leadership required to formulate a consistent ball club.

Returning this season are: Ardell England, 6'7", 190 lb., sophomore, Oklahoma City. Top scorer on last year's ball club with a 14.2 average and leading rebounder with an average of 10.1 per game. He hit 45 per cent from the field and was named to Region II All-Star team and received All-American honorable mention.

Doug Nowell, 6'5", 175 lb., sophomore, from Savanna, Oklahoma. A starter last season, averaged 10.4 pts. per game and was the second leading rebounder. He hit 41 per cent of his shots from the field.

Sleepy Simon, 6'2", 185 lb., sophomore from Houston, Texas. He had a 6.8 pt. per game average. He was voted the outstanding defensive player by his team mates.

Lewis Lillie, 6'3", 170 lbs., sophomore, from Houston, Texas. Averaged 12.4 pts. per game last season as a starter. Named to Region II Tournament All-Star team. He shot 45 per cent from the field.

Hal Grant, 6'3", 190 lb., sophomore, from New Orleans, Louisiana. Averaged 7.1 pts. per game

Girls intramurals start volleyball

Tuesday, November 16th at 6:30 p.m., volleyball started for girls intramurals team. After sufficient practice the girls will go to the Girls Play Day held at Tonkawa.

Classes will not be held until after Thanksgiving but will resume on the following Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the gym.

Plans for playing basketball are being made for next semester.

Veterans saluted at campus program

November 11, Veterans Day, was observed on Murray campus with a short program.

To begin the program, the Murray Marching Band and the Calamity James marched onto the campus. They stood at attention while the band played the National Anthem.

James Erwin then introduced Mike Jackson, president of the BSU, who gave the invocation. Rev. Farris Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Tishomingo, presented a talk in remembrance of the soldiers lost in foreign wars.

The program was concluded by a benediction given by Mike Jackson.

and was leading percentage shooter from the field with a 56 per cent.

Daniel Jordan, 6'2", 185 lb., sophomore from Houston, Texas. Averaged 12.6 pts. per game and was named most valuable player in the Region II Tournament.

Wayne Williamson, 6'1", 165 lb., sophomore, Idabel, Oklahoma. Averaged 2.6 pts. per game in 20 games last season and was the leading free throw shooter with an 87 per cent shooting average (26 of 31). Needs to shoot more from outside as he hit 13 of 18 attempts for 72 per cent.

Terry Elizondo, 5' 10", 150 lb., sophomore, Hugo, Oklahoma.

Love Denton, 6'2", 180 lb., sophomore, Oklahoma City.

Also making an appearance as freshmen are: Butch Williams, McAlester, Oklahoma; Jerry Thomas, Idabel, Oklahoma; Jim Day, Macomb, Oklahoma; and Ralph Tyler, Lone Grove, Oklahoma.

Each game played will require a peak performance from each team member as the opponents will be looking forward to adding this game to their win column.

Faculty Dames have November gatherings

The Faculty Dames recently held two meetings which included a spaghetti dinner on November 20 and a demonstration on November 22. Both meetings took place in the home economics room of the classroom building.

Hostesses at the dinner were Mrs. Canaday, Mrs. Winburn, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Wood, and Mrs. Don Martin.

At the regular meeting Jack Irby Blaylock was guest speaker. He demonstrated to the members various flower arrangements and Christmas decorations. Hostesses for this meeting were Miss Clark, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Thomas, and Mrs. Wiseman.

Next semester schedules are available now

Pre-enrollment for current students will begin December 1 and continue through the eleventh. Students are advised to pick up trial schedules at the Registrar's office, and proceed to their assigned advisors for consultation. The enrollment process may be completed by turning in the trial schedule, with the advisor's approval, to the Registrar's office.

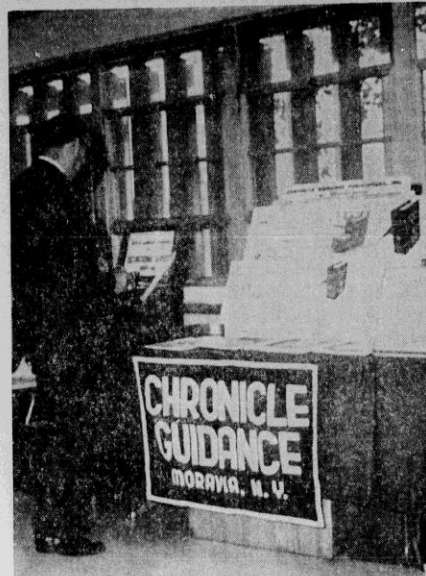

Students may pick up class schedule at either the Dean's office or at the Registrar's office.

In addition, students enrolling for the first time will begin their pre-enrollment on November 22. The pre-enrollment period for newcomers will end on January 8.

International Club hears about Iran

The International Club met Wednesday night, November 17. After a short business meeting a program was presented by Abdollah Falsafi, Ali Asghar Hemmat, on the culture of Iran. They discussed the government, religion, education, and art of Iran. They also had books, pictures, and stamps that they showed the club.

State educators merge at Murray

Educators and counselors from every section of Oklahoma converged on the Murray campus Tuesday, November 16 to attend a guidance conference for high school counselors. The conference was sponsored by the Division of Guidance and Counseling of the State Department of Education.

Dean Richard Murray officiated as chairman of the meeting, which was opened by a welcome address by Dr. Freeman McKee, president, Murray State College.

During the afternoon panel discussion, Francis Gates of the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission emphasized that "Industry wants educated and skilled people who are willing to learn, adapt, and keep up with industry."

The focal point of the conference was voiced by Dr. F. F. Gaither, University of Oklahoma, when he explained what the adolescent is, and, through his explanation, illustrated to the discussion group the problems faced by today's teenagers. In Dr. Gaither's words, "an adolescent has left where he was and has not yet arrived where he is going; he has left a state of dependence and is working towards independence to dependability."

NUMBER SEVEN

EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter below was sent to President Lyndon B. Johnson on behalf of the student body of Murray College, and was signed by each member of the Student Senate:

December 1, 1965

The President
The White House
Washington 25, D.C.

Mr. President:

We, the Student Senate of Murray State College, on behalf of the entire student body, wish to express our whole-hearted support of the stand our government has taken in Vietnam. Our students have the utmost respect for your administration and its policies. We realize the supreme sacrifice that must be made in order to give future generations a brighter outlook for freedom and peace for all mankind.

As citizens of the United States, we cannot understand the process of burning draft cards or the mass protest marches that sometimes result in violence. What stands foremost in our minds is that we are proud of our men in Vietnam, and if our turn comes to serve our great country, we will serve with pride and strength of conviction because we are Americans.

Respectfully yours,

Former students begin county scholarship drive

Elmer Massey, President of the Murray College Former Students' Association, announced recently that the Board of Directors decided at their November 6 meeting to begin establishing county scholarship fund drives. Each member of the Board of Directors is kicking off the drive with a $5.00 contribution.

Former students who are interested in establishing a county unit in the county in which they reside should contact Elmer Massey, Marietta, Oklahoma, or Tom Wood, Murray State College.

Because of increased enrollment at Murray additional scholarships are needed.

A course in Press Photography and Photo Editing will be offered during the Spring semester at Murray College. Prerequisite for the course is at least one course of journalism or its equivalent. The class is open to primarily freshmen, and enrollment in the course must be approved by Tom Wood, instructor.

The course will emphasize skills and techniques in the fields of publications and press photography. It is designed to give students a balance of theory and practice in the total process of creating good pictures. The class will also include a course project which will emphasize the types of pictures most commonly called for in publications work.

Christmas Ball scheduled for December 18

Saturday night, December 18 has been designated as the date for the Christmas Ball. The formal dance will be sponsored by the sophomore class and will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the student union.

This affair will be Murray's first formal dance of the year and preparations are under way to make it a memorable occasion for all.

Local artist demonstrates pastel works

The Art Club met last Thursday at 6:30 p.m., in room 102 of the classroom building.

Mrs. Louise Stamps, a resident of Tishomingo, who is very active in painting, gave a pastel demonstration. She did a very fine job and all members were very well pleased with her demonstration.

The club also discussed the possibilities of traveling to Tulsa, and touring the various art galleries of the city. Future plans for art shows were recognized and also a film on portrait painting, which is to be shown in the near future.

BULLETIN

Anyone wishing to run for the vacant office of Vice-President of the Student Senate should contact a Student Senate Representative or an executive officer no later than 5:00 p.m. on Thursday, December 9. At a following meeting, all candidates will be interviewed before the members of the Senate. The new Vice-President will then be elected by the Senators.

Choir presents "Messiah" Dec. 12

The Murray State College chorus combined with the Community chorus, under the direction of Robert Pearson, instructor of vocal music at Murray, will present George Frederick Handel's "Messiah", Sunday, December 12, at 8:00 p.m. in the Murray college Field House.

Soloists for the "Messiah" will be Evelyn Smith, Jane Dickey, Ron Wilkins, and Roger Brown, all students at Southeastern State College.

Accompanists for the program will be Virginia Bevins, Ardmore, Margaret Lokey, Tishomingo, and Betty Stoddard, Southeastern.

Judging team will be chosen for coming show

Dr. Jerry Martin says he will choose a livestock judging team to represent Murray in the Annual Junior A&M and Teacher's College contest in Ft. Worth, Texas, January 31. The contest is held in conjunction with the Southwest Exhibition and Fat Stock Show.

Last year Dr. Martin's team placed sixth in the contest out of a field of sixteen entries. Dr. Martin stated that if things work out as he plans, this year's team will do even better.

Tech official will counsel students

Paul England, representative from Oklahoma State Tech, Okmulgee, will be on Murray campus December 9. England will be in Don Martin's office to talk to all prospective students.

Our active Student Senate is hard at work trying to promote the Christmas spirit for the foster children of Johnston and other surrounding counties. In order to raise money for the cause, the Senate is sponsoring "The Sexiest Prof on Campus" contest. Nominees were selected by lot at a recent Senate meeting. Only male instructors were eligible for the contest. The most qualified members of the faculty, that is they met all the sexy qualifications, are as follows: Coach Robbins, Jim Mihura, Mickey Rowe, Gerald Alloway, Larry Milligan, and Dean Cleveland.

In order that the student body might vote for their favorite "sexy" nominee, there are jars planted around campus, where money may be deposited. A penny a vote is the system to be used. The nominee with the most votes will be declared winner when the contest ends on December 17. There will also be jars placed in the business district of Tishomingo; however, these donations will not be a factor in determining the winner of "The Sexiest Prof On Campus" contest.

To make this a worthwhile project, the Senate will match the total amount of donations taken from the contest on campus and the money received downtown. All donations will then be turned over to local Welfare officials.

Contest boosts Yuletide spirit

The Annual Christmas decoration contest, sponsored by the Faculty Dames, is in progress on the Murray campus, with cash prizes for the top two eliminators. Final judging will take place the week preceding the Christmas holidays. Last year's winners were Haskell Lucas, first place, and Poe Hall, second place.

The contest is designed primarily to help add a touch of home to the dorms and boost the Yuletide spirit of the student body.

"A DECLINE IN SYMPATHY"

An article in a recent Reader's Digest edition brought to my attention the great decline in sympathy in modern civilization. Until I read this article I hadn't paid much attention to the subject, but afterwards I became aware of it. For instance, my husband and I were watching a rather gory movie in the local theatre and during the bloodiest part of the film, where men were being beheaded and children were being slaughtered and all people were writhing in a court yard of blood, there was a commotion from the children's section of the theatre. It seems they thought the movie was present at such movies as Bud Abbott and Lou Costello or Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin.

However, this decline is not only present in our younger generation, if you will recall the article in an Oklahoma City newspaper just last year of a woman bearing her baby on a downtown street of the city with no help from anyone? I would say this is not a very good example of human compassion from adults to children.

It is frightening to think of a world with no sympathy or compassion. Somehow when you see a world with neither of these, you see a world of mechanical monstrosity.

I think perhaps that if we let these traits die, we will be sad and lonely indeed, for as Carlyle said in his essays, "Of a truth, men are mystically united: a mystic bond of brotherhood makes all men one." —C.N.

MEMBERS OF THE COLLEGE CHOIR, pictured above, under the direction of Robert Pearson, will participate in the combined Choir to sing the "Messiah", December 12.

As it appears to me—

By Leslie Winburn

The Christmas spirit has already descended upon Murray. The campus abounds with Santa's little helpers, some of whom have been busily delivering gifts. One of the first to be visited was Tom Wood, who received a plushly upholstered box, accompanied by a card which read: "For Mr. Tom Wood to stand on during his lectures." Contrary to the expected reaction, Mr. Wood was delighted with the little box. Unfortunately for him, that box is a traveling little outfit, and he has had to guard it with care. It tends to disappear with amazing regularity.

A note of thanks is extended to the people of Lindsay for their fine hospitality November 29 when Murray played Southwestern in that city. The warm reception which Lindsay gave the Aggies and their supporters is deeply appreciated by all of us at Murray.

In the office recently, the topic of conversation turned to hunting, and Ducky Day bragged that his "little brother" Johnny had shot a 12-point buck on a recent outing. Good hunting, Johnny! Oh, and it seems that John Tadlock also spent part of his holiday hunting. He was highly successful, too. He got back alive.

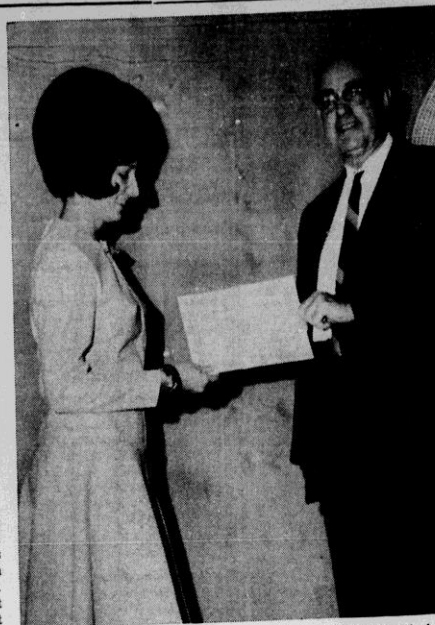

All nominees for the coveted (?) title of "Sexiest Prof on Campus" are going to have to campaign fiercely in the coming days. One of the candidates, Jim Mihura, claims to have an edge on the rest, so be looking for some keen strategy on his part.

Speaking of the contest, in addition to being fun, it also provides an excellent opportunity for everyone to share some Christmas cheer with needy kids. Sure, as a college student, you feel that you're about as "needy" as anybody when it comes to money, but try to visualize the faces of the little children who may not receive a single gift unless some aid is sent. Then dig deep and give as much as you possibly can!

If your Thursday morning schedule has a break between 9:00 and 10:00, drop by the auditorium and see Mr. Poe's drama students at work. They'll be doing short scenes from plays such as "A Perfect Alibi", and everyone is invited to view these performances.

Fern Perry, Billie Anderson, and Sarah Howard are about the most industrious roommates a girl could want. Ask Mattie Loffer. She returned to the room one night recently, and found all the beds in the center of the room. Next she discovered that all her clothes had been transferred from her closet, and it was noon the next day before she had retrieved all her possessions. Those roommates had really been busy!

I've been asked to remind students who use the parking lot between Patton and Lucas Halls that the area is now clearly marked, and drivers are asked to observe the entrance and exit lanes. Tickets and fines will be given anyone who blocks one of these lanes. And will that ever hurt the old pocketbook!

Tax credits urged to help pay expenses

A plan designed to ease the financial burden of parents of college students and to create new sources for the establishment of scholarships is receiving increasing attention and support from both educators and legislators.

The concept of granting tax credits for some expenses of higher education has had bipartisan backing in both houses of Congress for more than a decade, but has never been enacted into law.

The tuition tax credit concept stems from widespread concern over the mounting costs of tuition and fees at both private and publicly supported colleges and universities. Proponents of the measure note that costs have been rising at an increasing rate, and that all evidence indicates that they will continue to do so.

The reason, they point out, is that increased enrollments, necessary increases in faculty salaries, and general increases in expenses have forced annual operating budgets sharply upward. The increased budgets have been mirrored almost universally in alarming rises in the cost of a college education to the student and his family.

Tuition tax credit was conceived to relieve financial pressure on persons paying for college educations and to reduce the threat of students being priced off the campus.

Further information on tuition tax credits may be obtained by writing to Citizens National Committee for Higher Education, Inc., P. O. 2122, South Bend, Indiana 46615.

P. E. requirements fulfilled by new slate of courses

Beginning next semester there will be a change put into effect in the way the requirements for Physical Education may be met. Students will be able to fulfill the requirements by taking a regular P. E. activity course; or by taking any of the following courses: social dance, square dance, tennis, first aid, or personal health. Participation in marching band will also satisfy the physical education requirements.

The change was based on the recommendations of department heads, in keeping with current trends in institutions of higher education.

Girl's basketball tourney sponsored

Murray's gym is the scene of feverish activity this week during the Murray State College Invitational Basketball Tournament for High School girls.

The Tourney was launched yesterday afternoon with Caney vs. Springer; they, in turn, were followed by Leon vs. Woodland, Vamoosa vs. Gene Autry, and Wapamucka vs. Calera, all Class "C". The Class "B" action was kicked off by the Marietta-Davis game and Colbert's clash with Kingston.

Additional Class "B" scuffles are upcoming tonight when Coleman faces Bokchito and Caddo confronts Turner. Wednesday evening will see Tishomingo doing battle with Stonewall, both Class "A".

Class "A" Wynnewood encounters Holdenville Thursday night. This will be succeeded by the collision of Tushka vs. Lindsay and Atoka vs. Bowlegs.

Saturday evening is the date of the finals, following the preliminary playoffs which will held held Friday night.

"O" Club initiates 15 new lettermen this semester

Murray State's "O" Club initiation for new lettermen will be held December 6 through 10. Four sophomores and eleven freshmen are candidates for membership.

Sophomores being initiated are Toni West, McKinney, Texas; Lyndall Herron, Plano, Texas; Larry Kinney, Dallas, Texas; and Billy Woods, Midland, Texas. Freshman initiates are Dick Severson, Marlin, Texas; Clinton Johnson, Wynnewood; Tommy Caskey, Wagner; Jerald Elias, Baton Rouge, Louisiana; Dick Hander, Corpus Christi, Texas; Larry Woods, Wynnewood; Mike Jordan, Mt. Vernon, Texas; Ray Evans, Sulphur; Herman Crook, Oklahoma City; Antoine Treadaway, Shreveport, Louisiana; and Farris Strambler, Midland, Texas.

Each of the prospective club members will be required to do various "stunts" in order to qualify for membership. Friday night, December 10, lettermen who have withstood the stunts and tricks pulled on them by old "O" Club members will receive their membership cards which entitle them to get in all the athletic events at Murray free of charge.

For career in public service try business

"A young man eager for public service might well go into business."

The advice comes, not from a corporate recruiting officer but from the Vice President of the United States. Writing in an article in the December Reader's Digest, Hubert Humphrey says: "I am surprised at the number of younger people who believe that business and public service have nothing to do with each other. This is despite the fact that our profit system has conferred more benefits upon more people than any other economic system in history."

Businessmen have helped the American economy soar to new highs in each of the last 37 months, Mr. Humphrey says, "by avoiding excesses of inventories, by keeping down unnecessary costs, by offering more and better goods and services to customers." In so doing, they have shown themselves to be "among the world's foremost progressives," the ebullient Vice President asserts.

By helping to create the world's highest standard of living, says Humphrey, businessmen have also helped dim the siren song of communism in many areas of the world.

Putting the government squarely on the side of business profits, Mr. Humphrey notes that "our profit system has conferred more benefits upon more people than any other economic system in history." Profits are not just for business people, he says: "they help all our people. From profits we help finance constructive activities throughout the world. The ideals of the Great Society can be realized only through the profits of our economy."

The tax cut of 1964 was a deliberate attempt by government to stimulate business profits, says Mr. Humphrey, and thus to create higher wages and more jobs.

By going into business today, says the Vice President, a young man "can become a part of private enterprise, not with a sense that his interest is in personal gain, but with a feeling of pride that he is serving his country's future."

Marine captain visits Murray

Captain Bernace M. Symm, the officer selection officer for the United States Marine Corps in Oklahoma, visited Murray's campus on November 29. Students interested in becoming Marine officers were able to contact the captain at the student union.

College students are eligible to become officers under several Marine Corps programs which include PLC and OCC. Students enrolling in the platoon leaders class (aviation or ground) attend two six-week training periods during summers prior to their senior year and receive their commissions at graduation.

The officer candidate course is open to college seniors and recent graduates. They attend nine weeks of training after graduation and are commissioned at the completion of this training. No participation in drills during the school year is required under either program, yet the student accrues longevity which applies for pay purpose.

Murray group attends OSU conference

A delegation from Murray College attended the 9th Annual Inter-College Conference held November 30 on the Oklahoma State University Campus. Members of the Murray staff at this meeting were: Dr. Richard Murray, Dean Raymond Cleveland, Mrs. Craven, the registrar, and instructors Larry Milligan, Harold Winburn, and Clyde Hall.

The conference, sponsored by OSU, is designed to aid in the solution of problems relating to transfer students and other mutual problems. This particular conference had as its theme a study of the problems relating to increased enrollments in Oklahoma institutions of higher education.

Aggies top century mark; down Southwest 109-74

Gene Robbins basketballers trailed for 12 minutes of the first half as Southwestern Jr. College seemed ready to upset the Aggies at Lindsay Monday night, November 29. Hal "Stick" Grant, 6'9" sophomore from New Orleans, Louisiana, put Murray on the score board first but that was all the scoring Murray could do for the next eight minutes. During this time Southwestern scored 14 points behind the shooting of Phil Beller and Mike Fitch before the Aggies started hitting the bucket.

Grant and Lewis Lillie, sophomore from Houston, Texas, spearheaded Murray's hitting with Junior Simon, sophomore from Houston, Texas being the play maker and setting up many fine shots. Grant tied the score at 33 all with seven minutes and 40 seconds left to play in the first half. The Aggies built up a 47 to 33 lead at half time.

The roundballers from Murray came out after half time wanting to put Southwestern in their win column. Hal Grant and Lewis Lillie kept Murray's attack alive the second half by hitting 10 points between them. Coach Robbins began to substitute freely, giving all his players a chance to see a lot of action.

Butch Williams, freshman from McAlester, playing in the second half, hit three field goals and five out of six free shots to add 11 points to Murray's score.

Lewis Lillie led Murray in scoring with 19 points getting 16 points with 8 field goals and three points at the free throw line. Hal Grant was next with eight field goals and one free shot for 17 points.

Doug Nowell, sophomore from Savanna led in rebounds with 13 while hitting for 13 points also.

Ninety-seven points, the high score last year, was topped with 109 points in Murray's first outing of the new basketball season.

Volleyball to begin Tuesday

Preparations are now being made for the start of intramural volleyball competition, according to Terry Coker, intramural director.

The season will last from December 7 until January 26. The length of the season is due to the break necessitated by enrollment and semester exams.

Competition will take place in the field house on afternoons and nights. Probably four games will be played a night, since the gym floor will accommodate two games at once.

A pre-season favorite is almost impossible to pick, due to the participation of football players, who are now able to compete in intramurals. The No Counts, who are now at the top of the overall standings, could lose their lead position to the Mercenaries or Tigers by finishing in less than first place. In turn, the Mercenaries must finish at least two places higher than the Tigers in order to remain in second place.

Following the volleyball tournament, basketball season will open January 31 and last until March 31. The roundball season will be the final major intramural sport, followed by track, tennis, and badminton, all to be played in April.

Aggies fight off Fort Worth C. C. to 78-60 victory

Murray staged another come from behind victory Dec. 2 at Fort Worth Christian College by defeating Fort Worth 78-60.

Fort Worth led the ballgame for 16 minutes until the Aggies began to hit under the basket. With 3:11 left in the first half Lewis Lillie hit for two points to put Murray in the lead 24-23. The cagers from Murray were able to build up a 31-26 lead to take in with them at half time.

It was "nip-and-tuck" the first part of the second half with Fort Worth taking over the lead after 5 minutes by 38-37. This lead seemed to bring the Aggie team new light. They took command of the court for the first time and built up a 74-52 lead with 2:13 left in the ballgame.

Ardell England, sophomore from Oklahoma City, scored 19 points on nine field-goals and one free-shot to lead Murray in the scoring column. England and Lillie each picked off 19 rebounds to lead the Aggies in rebounds.

Girls will attend tourney at NOJC

The girls intramural team is now well on their way playing volleyball.

Tuesday, November 29, the girls intramurals team held their first practice on volleyball since Thanksgiving vacation.

Thursday, December 2, at 6:30 p.m. the girls held a scrimmage between themselves and are planning on going to East Central to scrimmage their volleyball team. Also, they are planning to attend the Play Day at Tonkawa.

Girls, tall or short, we need you, so come on out and play volleyball every Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Sportin' Around

By Donald W. Day

Lewis Lillie and Hal Grant led Murray to its first victory of the new season by scoring 36 points between the two.

Murray went over the 100 mark for the first time in two years when Doug Nowell hit for two points with the score 99 to 68 with 3:38 left in the game. Murray's previous high was in 1962 when the Aggies scored 117 points.

Coach Robbins' roundballers traveled to Dodge City, Kansas, last night to play Dodge City College. Coach Robbins felt that Dodge City would be one of the top teams in the nation.

The Aggies will play Pratt Junior College tonight (Tuesday, December 7,) at Pratt, Kansas. They are expected to be a very fast and exceptionally good shooting ball club that will have a voice in who will be the winner of the Kansas Junior College Conference.

Texoma JUCO Tournament will kick off December 14 and run through December 16. Entered in the tournament are Cisco Junior College, Wharton County Junior College, Oklahoma City University Frosh, Oklahoma Christian College J. V., Paris Junior College, and Murray State College.

Wharton County Junior College was the team that gave Cisco its two losses last year. Coach Bahnsen has a fine group of freshmen reposting this year.

O.C.U. Frosh has the best group of freshmen that the Oklahoma City school has had in the past three or four years.

Oklahoma Christian College J. V.—This will be a Freshman and Sophomore group and is expected to present very capable competition for the other five teams.

Paris Junior College is expected to be a much improved ball club this season as they have a large group of returning people from a team that had a very respectable record last year.

Murray stands 2-0 after downing Fort Worth Christian College by a score of 78-60.

Murray staged two come-from-behind victories in their first two outings. The Aggies seem to be getting a slow start this year by not being able to hit from outside.

Ardell England paced the Aggies in scoring with 19 points during the Fort Worth game, but had to settle for a tie with Lewis Lillie's in rebounds. England and Lillie each picked off 19.

Tommy Luckinbill

Past Memories—

By Fern Perry

Tommy Luckinbill, a 1963 graduate of Murray, recently visited the campus with his wife. While attending Murray, Tommy was Corps Commander of the 20th

A.F.R.O.T.C. group.

After his graduation, Luckinbill transferred to Oklahoma State University where he worked on his Secondary Education major. While at O.S.U. Tommy was Cadet Major in R.O.T.C. and was an officer in the Arnold Air Society. While attending Murray as well as O.S.U., he maintained an A-average.

Although his major was Secondary Education, Tommy's true interest was Military Science.

Luckinbill was commissioned in the Air Force in early November. He is to report, immediately, to Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois for a two year course in communications. From Chanute, he will be transferred to one of the Air Force Bases overseas.

Janie Hudson, '64, and Rachel Jacobs, '64, will sing in the East Central State College's production of The Messiah. The chorus will consist of 200 people from the Ada community. The first chair players are from the Oklahoma City Symphony.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A slightly different version of this poem was written by 13-year old Beverly Tyler and her mother to be put in the Lone Grove High School paper. Her brother, Ralph, changed the names to adapt the poem to Murray College's basketball team, and submitted it to the Aggie-lite.

THE BASKETBALL PLAYERS' NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the gym
Not a forward was stirring—running laps did them in.
The gym sox were hung by the basket with care
In hopes that Saint Kirk soon would be there.
The guards used the bleachers for extra firm beds,
And visions of workouts ran through their heads.
Coach Robbins, in knee pads and basketball shorts,
Had just settled down for a nap on the courts
When out on the campus arose such a clatter
I ran a full lap to see what was the matter,
Through the boys' dressing room ran with a roar,
Busted two lockers and fell on the floor.
The moon on a drift of muddy old snow
Gave the brightness of lunch hour to objects below.
When what to my blood-shot eyes should appear
But a giant-sized gym shoe, pulled by eight blue deer
With a little old driver; when I saw him work
I knew in a flash it must be St. Kirk.
As rapid as Aggies his sprinters they came;
He whistled and shouted and called them by name.
"Now Sleepy, now Stick, now Jordan and Doug,
On Jaimie, on Ardell, on Lilly and Love—
To the top of the gym, to the top of the school,
Now speed it up, speed it up, turn it on full!"
As loud cheers that before the wild basketballs fly,
And as boos for a referee mount to the sky,
So up to the gym top the trotters they flew
With a shoe full of trophies and Santa Kirk, too:
Then on the roof I heard what I knew
Was the running in place of an athlete's shoe.
I pulled in my head, made a pivot in place;
He came through the window with Globetrotter grace.
He was dressed for a game from his head to his toe.
With the clowning he did, he put on quite a show!
With a bundle of suits he had flung on his back
He looked like Roy Maier's salesman just opening his pack.
His eyes, how they twinkled, his hook shot, how quick,
His free throw a marvel—he dunked them like Stick!
His old Converse shoes were out at the toe,
And his five o'clock shadow was starting to show.
The last of a cookie he held in his teeth
And his frosty breath circled his head like a wreath.
He had a red face, and his voice was real mellow;
He shook when he laughed like a bowl full of Jello.
He was a good shot as was easy to see,
And I rolled when I saw him, like crazy, tell me!
The gleam in his eye, being right on the beam
Made me glad to find out he was right for OUR team.
He spoke not a word but went right to his work;
He filled all the gym sox then turned with a jerk
And laying his whistle aside of his nose
With one final shot, out the window he rose.
He sprang in his shoe, to the team gave a whistle,
And away they all ran like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim as they went out of sight,
WE'LL BE NATIONAL CHAMPS
IF YOU FIGHT, AGGIES, FIGHT!

"Where Most People Trade"

because now you can complete Air Force ROTC in just half the time!

Are you interested in starting a military career while in college—but afraid it will cut too deeply into your schedule?

Well, here's good news for you. Air Force ROTC now offers a 2-year program. You can start it any time you have 2 years of higher education remaining—whether on the undergraduate or graduate level.

Here's another good thing about this program: you get a chance to "sample" Air Force life before you sign up. During a special summer orientation session, you get to make up your mind about the Air Force, and the Air Force gets to make up its mind about you. Only when both are satisfied are you finally enrolled in the program.

You'll learn a lot in Air Force ROTC. The curriculum has been completely revamped. The accent is on aerospace research and development. But of course the classes are only the beginning. The important thing is that you'll be taking the first big step toward a profession of great responsibility, as a leader on America's Aerospace Team.

Find out more about the new Air Force ROTC program. See the Professor of Aerospace Studies today!

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

The time of year eagerly anticipated by young and old alike is fast approaching. In honor of the Christmas season, the four dormitories on the Murray State College campus have been beautifully adorned with decorations. The various colored lights that are strung on trees, doors, and roof tops combine to present a very pretty night time scene. With the addition of mistletoe, cedar, and other ornaments, the dorms truly reflect the Christmas spirit of the students, who are eagerly awaiting the holiday vacation.

Of all holidays, Christmas is recognized in more countries around the world than any other. Although customs vary in the different lands, the central purpose is the celebration of Christ's birth.

Most of the students heard the report of the Gemini 7 astronauts recently about that unidentified flying object they saw streaking from north to south. Therefore, the Journalism class began a survey to determine just what Murray's students would like to have from Old St. Nick, in case that was his sleigh making a preliminary check of the good guys' and gals' gift desires.

The answers to our question, "What do you want for Christmas?" were varied. Some said they had not really thought about it, and others just would not give us a straight answer. Others revealed to us their deepest wishes, and these were:

Rodger Aucoin, who would like to have a scholarship to Baylor University, and a blond about chin high. Marvin Esmond, after a great deal of consideration, decided that he would rather have a '66 Corvett with a baseball bat inside.

Gretchen Diss said she really wants a new pair of cowboy boots, but if it was going to be in the paper, she would say a pink pool table. A wish for a white Christmas came from Lisa Kreps, along with many other people.

Fred Willis wants something that's desired by many, many Murray boys, a deferment from the Army and some good passing grades. Tom Moon wants someone to stop the leak in the basement of Haskell Lucas, because he's getting tired of swimming.

Kelly Reeves said, "Well, at the moment I would like to get my hand out of the mail box, and also to have $100 from the Student Senate."

Coach Canaday said that he would like to have a couple more players like Tony Nobis, although if he did, they'd probably get sick at the same time. Coach Robbins seems to be well on his way to having his wish, because Murray won over Wharton County Junior College.

Each year the faculty dames of Murray State College sponsor a contest for the best decorated dormitory. The dormitories are judged for their exterior as well as their interior decoration.

The judges for this contest are selected from Murray's faculty. This year Fred Poe, G. B. Stotts, and Mrs. Rosalva Rainey were the judges.

Patton Hall received the first place prize of $10 and Haskell Lucas Hall the second place prize of $5. The judges commented that the competition was really stiff this year and decorations surpassed those of previous contests.

LOVELY CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS have lent a holiday air to Murray's campus and dormitories. This gayly bedecked Christmas tree was erected in Haskell Lucas dorm.

Projects display Christmas spirit

Classes in Home Economics have begun Christmas projects, which began December 6.

Creative processes involve the making of Christmas angel centerpieces, stockings, wall mats, cookie trees and candles.

Materials for the stockings and wall mats were basically felt backgrounds, featuring felt cut-outs or other materials, which were trimmed in gold, silver, or jewel ornamentation. The scenes represent the Three Wise Men, the Nativity, and jolly ole Saint Nicholas.

Angels are decorated in gold with gold lace trim, and angel hair highlights the head of the angels.

Campus club attends O.S.U. science meet

Friday, December 3, six members and two sponsors of Science Club attended the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the "Oklahoma Academy of Science" held on the campus of Oklahoma State University. These meetings are held annually so that persons working in the field of research may present papers that will inform others of their scientific projects. Reports are given in fields of biological, physical, and social sciences, geography, conservation, and micro-biology.

Those attending from Murray State were Rick Womack, J. R. Murray, Larry Wilson, Keith Thomas, Kirby Hertel, Loma Steele, Mr. Parks, and Mr. Johnson.

Senate pleased with dorm Xmas decorations

The Student Senate held their regular meeting, Monday night, December 13. Roll call was the first event, followed by the minutes of the last meeting, and the treasurer's report was presented.

The first major topic on the agenda was concerned with old business. The dormitory contest, which emphasizes decorating in a holiday fashion, was recognized. The Senate was very well pleased with the participation and interest shown by the student body, in promoting the holiday atmosphere on campus. A report on the "Sexiest Prof" contest was given. The Senate plans to appropriate money for the contest, in order to raise the funds made to a total of $25.00. A review was presented of the constitutional committee, and what they had accomplished at their last meeting. The Senate is presently drafting a new constitution, in order to revise inadequate provisions, set forth in the document used in the past. The Student Senate pins, which were ordered for the Senators and officers, along with the progress of the new M.S.C. signs, were mentioned. Also the possibility of the Student Senate, supporting the decorating of a different campus building every year, to help promote the Christmas spirit, was set forth. This year the Music Club was recognized by financial support.

New business on the agenda: the Christmas Ball, the appointment of Ricardo Gonzalez, as the new publicity chairman, discussion of the Student Personnel Committee Meeting, and the need of a special bulletin board for the Senate in the new Student Union. A joint resolution was issued by John Alexander, vice-president and Ricardo Gonzalez, representative from the December 4 they sat in on the Southwestern and Southeastern Regional American Chemical Society Sessions.

General and organic chemistry and chemical technology was discussed at these conferences.

Seventy-three colleges from 20 states were represented at the Memphis conference. Two colleges, Murray and Eastern were the Oklahoma representatives.

Merry Christmas

Patton Hall has annual party

The women of Patton Hall had their traditional Christmas party, Sunday night in the lounge of the dorm.

Hot chocolate and brownies were served to the girls as they exchanged gifts.

Before the party the girls went caroling to the other dormitories.

BULLETIN

All library books are due December 20; however, books may be re-checked for the holidays.

Semester exams will begin January 10. Although library books will be due January 7, the library will be open for studying during examination week.

Shocking!

In the last ten years the quantity of electricity generated by nuclear power has increased 1700 times. Some experts predict that man will need more electric power in the next 50 years than he has in all his previous years on earth.

WHEN I WAS A CHILD

When I was a child, I thought of Christmas as merely the one day out of the year that I got to open so many gifts from Santa, my family, and friends. Now that I am older, I still enjoy Christmas but in a different way. I enjoy decorating the tree and our house. I enjoy wrapping and giving gifts to those around me that I love.

This Christmas I feel that I truly know the meaning of the Bible verse, "It is more blessed to give than to receive"—E.F.P.

COMMUTER'S CHRISTMAS CAROL

By Gretchen Diss

Over the river and through the woods
To Murray State we go,
The car knows the way
It goes everyday
Through wind, and rain, and snow.

Over the river and through the woods
Commuting we do go,
We left our home
And we're off to roam
At 90 per, and that ain't slow!

Over the river and through the woods.
We wish we'd had breakfast this morn,
We got up before light,
It still seemed like night
When we heard the honk of the horn.

Over the river and through the woods,
We have three tests today.
We study awhile —
There's a joke to tell
And we laugh all the rest of the way.

Over the river and through the woods,
We've already passed Pennington Creek.
As we park the car
And wonder how late we are,
Someone yells, "I want to go home and sleep!"

Over the river and through the woods,
All this for our education.
As soon as we're out
We'll scream and shout
And sleep all Christmas vacation!

As it appears to me—

By Leslie Winburn

Foremost in everyone's mind at this time of year are thoughts of Christmas and all that it means. Around Murray College, Christmas is . . . snow flurries inside Patton Hall as the girls decorated their dorm, their rooms, and each other . . . bright lights draped on every dorm, flashing brilliantly in the cold, frosty night air . . . the big sign in the Dean's outer office which bids everyone a "MURRAY Christmas" . . . Christmas Carols issuing from the music building every evening . . . students exhibiting holiday purchases to one another behind closed doors, careful not to allow their secrets to leak to the wrong person . . . a fevered gleam in the eyes of students who are counting off the hours until vacation begins so they may start their homeward journeys.

I recently read a short item describing a holiday game for the entire family. As you return to your home for the Christmas vacation, you might find it amusing to play. The object is to catch others making any of the typically American Christmas sounds listed below, whereupon any or all of the players shout, "You said it again!" Points are then charged against the person who said it, and the first to accumulate 1000 points is the loser and has to take down the Christmas tree. Here is a chart of the forbidden sounds, and their point deficits:

"Just what I wanted—a charreuse (violet tangerine, scarlet, etc.) necktie!" (5 points).

"If they play 'White Christmas' once more, I'll scream." (5 points)
"Think of all the poor children who won't get anything at all, and you sit there complaining because your new stereo set (mink, bikini, portable color TV set, etc.) isn't any fun!" (5 points).

"Next year we're going to have a sensible Christmas." (1 point)

"Well, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas." (4 points; if sung, 5 points; if sung during a blizzard, 10 points)

"Gee, Mom (Dad, Gran, Gramps), isn't it wonderful how Santa Claus can get all over the world in one night and not miss anybody?" (5 points, if child is over nine; if his breath smells of cigarettes, 35 points)

"If you kids don't go to sleep this minute, Santa Claus isn't going to come." (2 points; if Santa Claus is pronounced "Shanta Claus", 20 points)

"I do believe in Santa Claus. I do. I do. I do." (10 points, except for players under nine, who are thereafter excused from further play, and given candy and kisses by their parents.)

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year everybody—

The National Safety Council says that during the Christmas season, drinking drivers are involved in more than half the fatal accidents compared to one out of three the remainder of the year.

John Alexander is new senate vice-president

John Alexander, the new Student Senate vice-president, was elected during the emergency meeting held December 9. The main objective of the meeting was to fill the vacant vice-president's position. A closed election was held, after a quorum of two-thirds of the senators was present.

Winner of the vacant office was determined by secret ballot; one nominee was eliminated after each session of votes was cast.

The Senators voted a total of five times before the winner was revealed. The Senate considered this system to be the most democratic way of filling the position.

Other candidates running for the office were: Bill Fitts, Butch Norton, Darrell Archer, Jim Wolff, and Odie Brown. All candidates were required to be either Sophomores or second semester Fresh, and to be maintaining a 2.5 overall grade average.

Preston Parker, President of the Student Senate, recognized the student body for efforts put forth in decorating the various campus buildings. He also extended his appreciation to all candidates for the interest they had demonstrated to-

Strange legends surround Xmas day

A thief who steals successfully on Christmas Day can pilfer throughout the remainder of the year without being caught.

This is one of the many fascinating beliefs tied in with the Yule season around the world, sources in the Oklahoma State University library reveal.

Just as fantastic is the Scottish superstition that water will turn into wine at midnight Christmas eve.

On the gloomy side, legend has it that if a light goes out in the house on Christmas Day, someone in the house is marked for death.

Fruit growers believed in some sections that a stone placed on each tree Christmas eve would insure a greater yield.

Would you like to hear everything that is to occur in your town during the next 12 months? One tale says simply to walk into a corn field on Christmas eve—you'll get the full low-down.

Program offers opportunities to students

Sophomore students at Murray State Agricultural College are invited to apply for participation in the Governor's Oklahoma Opportunity Program, Dr. Freeman McKee, president, said today.

Early next year 200 outstanding men and women from Oklahoma colleges and universities will be chosen as the pilot group for the program.

Those selected will tour the state as part of their orientation and many will be offered summer jobs with leading firms throughout Oklahoma. Purpose of the program is to make Oklahoma's young adults aware of the career opportunities available to them within the state.

Participants will be selected on the basis of written applications and interviews. All sophomore or junior men and women in Oklahoma colleges and universities who are state residents are eligible to participate in the program.

"We want our young men and women who soon will be choosing careers to see how much Oklahoma has to offer them," said Governor Henry Bellmon in announcing the program last week.

The Governor appointed David Burr, assistant to the president at the University of Oklahoma, Norman, to direct the Opportunity Program.

Applications are available in the president's office or by writing Burr at the University of Oklahoma. All applications must include a transcript of the student's college work and written parental permission to participate. Deadline is Jan. 15, 1966.

The finalists will be interviewed the weekend of Jan. 28, 29 and 30 in the Capitol building, Oklahoma City.

The 200 actually selected to participate in the program will be notified within one week following their interviews.

Three orientation classes will be held in February, March and April and will include two visits to the state's metropolitan centers as well as a spring vacation tour of Oklahoma.

E. R. "Snake" Thompson, a member of the 1911 graduating class at Murray, is now farming in Comanche, Oklahoma.

Thompson graduated from Oklahoma State University in 1913. He taught dairying at Cameron College for 14 years. Before teaching at Cameron, he served as county agent or assistant county agent in Logan, Oklahoma and Stephens counties.

Thompson's small two acre farm, through the use of irrigation and fertilization, produces as much as one twice its size.

Along with farming, Thompson has a greenhouse and a couple of calves.

Thompson, when told to retire, voiced this opinion, "Sitting still is an aging process, and idleness is not healthful."

Dodge City defeated at home after two years

Murray upset Dodge City Monday, December 6, by defeating them 67-66 after trailing most of the ballgame. Fourth in the National Junior College ranks, the Aggies handed the third-ranked Conquistadors their first defeat in two years on their home court.

Dodge City took an early lead and kept it for 10 minutes before the Murray basketballers could overcome the sure-hitting Conquistadors.

Late in the first half with the score see-sawing back and forth, Murray settled down, wanting to take a lead in with them for half-time. Junious Simon passed to Doug Nowell with 19 seconds left to play and Nowell hit for two points to give the Aggies a 37 to 36 lead at half time.

The Aggies had to relinquish their lead in the second half, however, and trailed behind for 17 minutes. With only 5:42 left to play, the Conquistadors had a 7-point edge, their longest lead of the night.

Junious Simon, sophomore from Houston, Texas, playing his usual game as play-maker, began to shoot and hit from the outside. Simon hit 12 points the second half, most of which came in the latter part of the game. Murray took the lead with 1:02 seconds left to play by a score of 65-66. After Lewis Lillie stole the ball and scored on a layup, Daniel Jordan, sophomore from Houston, was fouled and made his free shot to tie Murray's scoring at 67.

There were some tense moments for the Aggies as Dodge's Roland Taylor, a 6-foot freshman who had been hitting from the field all night, stepped up to the free shot line with a one-and-one shot. Taylor's first one was good, narrowing the score to 66-67. His second attempt missed the mark, however, and Lillie rebounded for the Aggies with time running out. Lillie passed to Simon, who was fouled. Simon failed to make his free throw and Dodge City snared the rebound, only to lose possession again as they threw the ball out of bounds in their haste to score. Murray took over and held the ball until time ran out.

Doug Nowell led the Aggies in scoring, hitting 16 points, fourteen of which were field goals. Leading the Aggies in rebounds was Ardell England with twelve.

Aggies record warped by Pratt, Kansas 69-66

Murray Aggies suffered their first defeat of the season at Pratt, Kansas by a score of 69-66. The Aggies had been on the road for their first four games, winning 3 and losing 1. Gene Robbins had this to say about the first four games, "It's harder to win away from home and if a team wins 50% of their ballgames away from home they're doing pretty good. Also it's a young season yet and the players need a little time to adjust." He felt that the team has played good ball at times and hopes to work out the rough spots in the next week or so.

Murray jumped into the lead and held it most of the first half, losing it mid-way but taking a 3 point lead at half time.

Pratt began hitting the second half and led most of the way. Murray tied the ballgame with 5:31 left to play but hit a cold spell and couldn't hit the basket. Pratt moved out in front by nine points and went into their delay game to eat up the clock. The Aggies could only come within 3 points of the sure hitting Kansas team in the closing seconds, losing 69-66.

Woods attains place on All-American Juco team

Bill Woods, 200-pound Murray College sophomore end from Midland, Texas, has received an Honorable Mention position on the Junior College All-American team.

Billy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Woods, Midland, Texas, is a graduate of Carver High School. Woods compiled an astonishing record in both basketball and football during his high school career. He was a two-time All-Star and All District player in basketball. In 1963 he led his team to a State Championship, and in 1964, as captain, he again led the way as the team reached the finals. In football, Woods was a team member of the Texas Class AA State Championship in 1962, and the following year the Tri-District Championship.

In addition to his many athletic achievements, Woods also received the honor of being elected president of his senior class.

To date, Wood's career at Murray College has included being highlighted as the top pass receiver in the Oklahoma Junior College Conference with 619 yards, three touchdowns, and one 2-point conversion. He has also been selected for the Oklahoma Junior College All-Conference team.

Billy was coached by Johnny Williams while playing at Carver High School, and is the first Carver High player to receive All-American recognition. After graduation from Murray, he is considering playing football at Southeastern State College in Durant.

Aggies win Juco tourney fourth straight year

Murray's basketball team won its second straight home game and its fourth straight Texoma Juco Tourney, December 16 by defeating Wharton County Junior College 79-66.

The Aggies were in trouble most of the first half after taking an 8-point lead early in the game. Wharton County fought off Murray's early lead and came back to lead part of the first half. Murray took over the lead once again with 8:41 left to play, but lost it with just 1 minute remaining in the half by a score of 33-32. Then Ardell "Tall-boy" England, 6'7" sophomore from Oklahoma City, hit two jump shots to give the Aggies a 36-33 edge at the half.

The second half started with Wharton County taking the lead, though only for a few seconds. The shooting of England and Lewis Lillie for the Aggies put them ahead and kept them in the lead. England hit 18 points and Lillie pumped in 12 points during the second half to keep the Aggies on top. Coach Robbins started using his delay game with 8:14 left to play. This is the first time the Murray roundballers have been able to use their delay game this season.

England, playing one of the finest games of his college career, hit 32 points and pulled down 19 rebounds.

The Aggies' next home game will be with Southwest Junior College of Oklahoma City, January 5.

Murray downs OCC J.V. to win first home game

Murray won its first home game December 15 by defeating Oklahoma Christian College J.V. 97-72.

Murray took the lead early in the game and was never behind. The Aggies have had to come from behind in three past ball games to win.

Warren West of Oklahoma Christian College kept OCC in the ball game by hitting 16 points the first half with 10 of these being gift shots.

Murray's high point man the first half was "Stick" Grant with 13 points. The Aggies held a 46-36 lead at half time and won going away 97-72.

Coach Robbins used substitutions freely in the last half, giving all his players a chance to see action. Ardell England, Sophomore from Oklahoma City, and Hal "Stick" Grant, Sophomore from New Orleans, Louisiana, led the Aggies in scoring each getting 19 points. Grant pulled down 21 rebounds to lead Murray in this department while England picked off 18 rebounds.

Junious Simon, Sophomore from Houston, Texas brought the Murray fans to their feet time after time with his play making and outstanding ball handling.

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the hills
Was the odor of gun smoke and shivering chills.
The weary GI's were sacked out in bed
While visions of sugar babes danced in their heads.
Their snow packs were placed by their bedroles with care Praying that at dawn they would still be there.
Then out on the hill there rose a great clatter—
A Viet Nameese machine gun had started to chatter.
GI's fell outside in a swirl of confusion
So cold that each man could have stood a transfusion.
Outside they could hear their Platoon Sgt. Kelly
A hard little man with a little pot belly:
"Come Yancey, come Bohns, come
Dickson, and Baker,
Up Coben, Kelly, Johnson, and Aker,
Get out on that hill-top and silence that Red
And don't come back until you are sure he is dead."
Then we heard him exclaim, "We can't have any lights, but Merry Christmas to all, and may you live through the night!"

Happy New Year

Senate pleased—

International Club. It resolved that the Student Senate of Murray State College supports (voted unanimously):

Keeping the library open all through the day (from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.), thus adding six hours to the regular daily schedule.

Having the library open on Sunday night from 7:00 to 10:00, and on Saturday afternoons from 1:00 to 4:00.

Keeping the library open until 11:00 p.m. during mid-term and final examination weeks.

Let it be understood that the above was only a resolution, not an act passed by the Senate, and that the outcome is undetermined.

The meeting was then adjourned by Preston Parker, Student Senate president.

Portrait skills demonstrated to Murray art club

Monday evening, December 13, the Murray College Art Club viewed a film at its meeting. The subject of the movie was portrait painting, as demonstrated by the artist Markos, and the process of making brushes and paints.

Further discussion of the club's planned trip to Tulsa to tour art galleries was held during the business meeting. Members present expressed an interest in participating in the club activity. No definite date for the journey has been set.

Refreshments were served following the movie and the meeting was then adjourned.
