Air Evac Training Hub

Murray State and Air Evac have partnered to share classroom and simulation laboratory space for their training and clinical internships for new flight crew members at Murray's Ardmore campus. Flight crew members come from places all throughout Oklahoma to train in Ardmore.

In return, the crew members will introduce Murray nursing students to emergency air transport operations and procedures.

"Thank You"

"Having this opportunity to host their trainings in Ardmore allows for Oklahoma to have a stronger, more prepared emergency healthcare system to serve our communities."
